Firemen Struggle to Save victims in a tenement fire in which a mother and six of her children and one other child perished at Lynn, Mass. Firemen on the second floor porch are attempting to enter rooms as flames burst through the roof.

5 Dead in California Fire

Mother, 6 Children, Niece Die in Bay State Tragedy

LYNN, Mass. (AP) — A young mother, six of her seven children and her niece died today in an early morning fire as they were trapped in attic bedrooms of a two-and-a-half-story tenement.

Fire Chief Walter Carter said the blaze started in the rear of the second floor and spread to the attic.

Investigators said there was only one stairway to the attic bedrooms. The house is on ridgeway Street in Lynn Highlands.

Forced to Jump

He tried to get back into the house to rescue others but a snap lock closed and he was forced to jump to the ground.

Dead are: Mrs. Shirley Amirault, 23; her children, Michael, 8; Shirley, 7; Donna, 6; Robert, 4; Kathy, 2; Barbara Jean, 18 months; and the niece, Paula Hollingsworth, 5 months.

Amirault was awakened by the fire, ran down the stairs with Dawn Marie and rushed to the porch. He shouted to William Dutch, 21, a next door neighbor. Dutch, a 6-3 former high school basketball star, caught the child in his arms.

Another Family Safe

Amirault, unable to help the rest of his family, aroused the occupants of the first floor, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nordstrom and their five children. All escaped injury.

Amirault, Dawn Marie, and Barbara Hollingsworth, Paula's mother, were taken to Lynn Hospital. None was in critical condition.

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — A woman and four small children died today in a fire at a Richmond home. One man was burned critically and two firemen required hospital treatment. Two children and two adults escaped the flames.

Reported dead were Mrs. Marie Malone, 40, wife of a Richmond restaurant owner; three of her children, Darrell, 4, Ladonna, 13, and Danny, 6; and Deborah Linder, 5, of Nice, Calif.

Another visitor, Thomas C. Mansfield, 36, of Pleasant Hill, Calif., was in critical condition.

Dewey Linder, 41, and his wife, Ellen, 40, of Nice, parents of Deborah, escaped the flames, aving their son, Douglas, 4, and Terry Malone, 9.

Two fire captains, Arthur Anderson and George Bryner, suffered smoke inhalation and treatment for exhaustion and were taken to a hospital.

Illinois Republicans Walk Out in Speakership Fight

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Republicans of the Illinois House, outraged at the prospect of electing a Democratic speaker, stalked out of the opening session Wednesday leaving behind the threat of a delayed inauguration for Democratic Gov.-elect Otto Kerner.

Also left behind in the House chamber was an indignant Democratic membership which promptly elected its caucus choice, Paul Powell of Vienna, to the speakership.

Legal Issue

When the shouting and the gavel-pounding subsided, legal experts were left with one of the great puzzlers of Illinois legislative history: Was Powell legally installed on the basis of support by 88 Democratic members?

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier, empowered to preside at the opening session, contended the election was illegal because a quorum, or majority, of all members was not present.

The walkout apparently sets the stage for a Republican move to delay the installation of Kerner and fellow Democrats elected on the state ticket. The inaugural ceremonies are scheduled for noon Monday and the GOP could use the threat of a delay as a level to force Democratic concessions, or merely as retaliation in the speakership battle.

Republicans Leave

Republicans control the new House by one vote—89-88. Their hopes to organize the House on opening day were shattered, however, by absenteeism; four members were not present to vote, reducing their numbers to 85 as opposed to the Democrats' 88. If the GOP had stayed in their seats, Powell would have taken the speakership on the first ballot.

But before the first ballot was taken, Carpentier—the only Republican re-elected to high state

Series Begins On U. S. Base At Guantanamo

The eyes of the world today are on the giant U.S. naval base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, as tensions mount following the break in diplomatic relations between the U.S. and Cuba. The U.S. has said it intends to keep the base. Cuba's Fidel Castro has said he will try to get it by legal means, not by force.

On Page A-11 today is the first in a series of stories on the controversial base written by Everett S. Allen, of the New Bedford, Mass., Standard-Times. He has just returned from a trip to Guantanamo.

7th Fleet, Bases In W. Pacific Set For Action on Laos

Prepared for Quick Move In Crisis if Necessary

HONOLULU (AP) — Powerful elements of the U.S. 7th Fleet—and alerted American bases in the Western Pacific—stood ready today to deal with any eventuality in the developing Laos crisis.

That was the appraisal of informed sources who declined to be quoted. But they said that in addition to naval units in the South China Sea, air, Marine and Army forces were ready to move on the Southeast Asian kingdom from bases in Okinawa, Japan, Formosa and the Philippines.

Ready for Action

The assessment of American readiness came after a statement issued Wednesday by Adm. Harry D. Felt, top U. S. commander in the Pacific.

"We are prepared to accomplish whatever may be required of us by higher authorities of our government. Certain precautionary measures have been taken. These include the augmentation of our airlift capability in the Western Pacific and a re-positioning of some of our mobile fleet force," Felt said.

Military sources said Marine elements ready to give any needed assist include the 20,000-man 3rd Marine Division and the Marine Air Wing on Okinawa. The Leathernecks are trained in jungle warfare.

The closest unit to Laos is the 405th Fighter Wing at Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines. It is equipped with F100 and F102 supersonic jets.

The U.S. 7th Fleet has assembled in the South China Sea a force of three carriers, about 30 destroyers, a dozen submarines and escort and supply vessels.

In Hawaii, a key unit of the 25th Infantry Division embarked on "practice mobility exercises" Wednesday.

U.S. Expected to Ask Council to Drop Charges

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The United States was expected to insist today that the U.N. Security Council drop—without formal action—Fidel Castro's charge that the U.S. government plans to invade Cuba.

The 11-nation council continues debate this afternoon on the Cuban charge, which the United States Wednesday called false and ridiculous.

The U.S. position dimmed the chances for council approval of a resolution submitted by Chile and Ecuador calling on the United States and Cuba to settle their differences by peaceful means. Cuban Foreign Minister Raul Roa also told the council his government is opposed to any negotiations with the Eisenhower administration.

U.S. officials said their government felt the council would be giving too much importance to the Cuban charges by adopting a resolution—no matter how mild and conciliatory.

Benson Submits Resignation to Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today accepted the resignation of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, effective Jan. 20, and thanked him "for the many contributions you have made to the nation, and especially to its rural population."

In submitting his resignation, Benson told Eisenhower "the groundwork has been laid for the kind of prosperous, expanding and free agriculture that is so basic to a strong, virile, secure America."

Officials See New Pressure Put on Castro

U. S. May Try to Curb Arms Exports To Latin America

WASHINGTON (AP)—High diplomatic officials expect new moves next month aimed at putting pressure on Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Two of the leading members of the 21-nation Organization of American States — the United States and Brazil—will have new presidents in office by the end of this month.

The United States is expected to favor: (1) a concerted, short-of-force effort such as a cooperative patrol against arms shipments from Cuba to other Latin-American countries, (2) a joint tracking of Castro agents and (3) economic restrictions aimed at Cuba.

The U.S. decision to break diplomatic relations with Havana is not expected to set off any quick chain reaction in other Latin-Americans capitals. But those who favored the break are optimistic that the eventual result will be a

Crash Recordings Called Accurate

No More Than Second or Two Variance, Expert Says

NEW YORK (AP) — A Civil Aeronautics Board investigator said today that times recorded for radio conversations with two airliners shortly before they collided here Dec. 16 are believed to be within one or two seconds of absolute accuracy.

The investigator, Joseph C. Zacko, headed a team of experts which studied tape recordings made of last-minute radio transmissions between the planes and aircraft controllers on the ground.

The exact times of the transmissions are important in helping determine exactly where the aircraft were shortly before they collided over Staten Island, costing 134 lives, 128 persons aboard the planes and 6 others on the ground.

Worst in History

The accident, involving a United Airlines DC8 jet and a Trans World Airlines Super Constellation, was the worst in aviation history.

Zacko testified at an inquiry being conducted by the Civil Aeronautics Board. He was asked if the times specified for the conversations as recorded on the tapes were considered the actual times or if they could have been inaccurate as much as 30 to 45 seconds.

Zacko replied that experts generally agreed they were accurate to one or two seconds."

He added, however: "We assume the tapes are the original ones and have not been altered in any way, and the correlated times on the tapes were not altered."

The tapes now show that the United plane radioed at 10:33.28 a.m. that it was approaching the Preston holding area over New Jersey.

However, the crash is believed to have occurred just 16 seconds later at a point 11 miles beyond the holding pattern, indicating the plane must have been beyond the holding pattern at the time.

Yandiver Does Not Want Federal Post

ATLANTA (AP)—Gov. Ernest Vandiver today asked President-elect John F. Kennedy not to consider him for secretary of the army.

Vandiver withdrew his name from any further consideration for the post.

He stated again that his first duty is to the people of Georgia and that he plans to serve out the two remaining years of his term.

Vandiver's statement ended a tense week of speculation on whether he might be named to the federal post and turn the state government over to Lt. Gov. Garland T. Byrd.

Castro Continues to Prepare for 'Invasion'; Terrorists Face Death

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban Cabinet made a thinly veiled bid today for a change in U. S. policy toward Fidel Castro's regime under the incoming Kennedy administration. There was no indication of any change in Castro's policy toward the United States, however.

Castro's preparations against "invasion" from the United States extended today to Havana's seafront Malecon Drive. Soldiers spent the night building emplacements. Then militiamen installed dozens of antiaircraft guns and medium caliber field guns, snarling morning traffic by blocking off busy Malecon Drive

The cabinet also authorized the death penalty for all anti-Castro terrorists, saboteurs and their accomplices. Trials are expected soon for 30 persons accused of bomb-making and arson.

A statement issued after a long night cabinet session put the entire blame for the U.S. break in diplomatic relations with Cuba on the Eisenhower administration. The outgoing U.S. administration was also accused of "threatening with other (aggressions) worse and much more serious." an obvious reference to Cuba's charges that American invasion is imminent.

Not Named in Statement

The statement expressed the hope that relations would be re-established "when the governors of the United States finally understand that it is possible to maintain sincere and friendly relations with the people of Cuba on the basis of respect for their sovereign rights, their legitimate interests and their national dignity."

The statement made no specific mention of President-elect John F. Kennedy, but the government radio-TV network throughout Wednesday had emphasized that Kennedy did not participate in the decision to break relations.

Kennedy during the presidential campaign criticized the Castro regime harshly, and the Cuban

Pilot Accused Of Plane Theft

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A federal warrant charging interstate transportation of a stolen aircraft was issued today for the pilot of a borrowed plane missing since Tuesday and object of a search now centered in Florida.

The pilot was identified as Adrian Balkcom of Milwaukee in the warrant issued by U.S. Commissioner John C. McBride. The FBI immediately joined other federal agencies in the search.

Balkcom borrowed the $25,000, four-place, single-engine plane from Midwest Airways Inc.

Series of Talks On Agriculture

Kennedy's Aide Says Further Sessions Planned

NEW YORK (AP) — The incoming Kennedy administration plans to hold a broad series of conferences with farm leaders on the pressing agricultural problem.

Pierre Salinger, press secretary for President - elect John F. Kennedy, told a news conference today that a conference of a group of farm leaders and congressmen today on the farm issue was only the first of a series.

This indicated that today's meeting in itself would bring no decision on what steps Kennedy might take to improve farms prices and income.

Economy Also Topic

Salinger announced also that Kennedy will hold a conference today on the state of the national economy.

Attending this conference will be Dr. Walter Heller of St. Paul, designated by Kennedy to be chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers; Theodore C. Sorenson, named special counsel for the White House; and Dr. Paul Samuelson, of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

At this meeting, Samuelson will present a report he has prepared relating to economic conditions.

Kennedy also arranged to meet with a committee representing the publishers of Negro newspapers.

Salinger said it was possible that Samuelson's economic report would be made public late in the day.

The plans for additional farm conferences were disclosed after Salinger was asked why organized livestock groups had not been invited to today's meeting.

Nasser Proposal For Joint Force Has Opposition

CASABLANCA, Morocco —(AP)— King Mohammed V of Morocco and President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana were standing firm today against a proposal by U.A.R. President Gamal Abdel Nasser to send a joint African military force to the aid of deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba of the Congo.

The king and Nkrumah, according to reliable informants, blocked Nasser's plan to make his proposal publicly at the opening session Wednesday of the five-nation "African summit" meeting. Instead, the conference closed its doors to public and press after the king's opening speech.

The outlook was that Nasser's proposal would be finally turned down despite vigorous support from President Sekou Toure of Guinea and the open sympathy of the government chiefs for Lumumba's cause.

'JFK' Also All Right

Most of Press Follows Kennedy's Choice on His Name in Headlines

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

What name do American newspaper editors prefer when they refer to President-elect John F. Kennedy in headlines? Kennedy, Jack or JFK?

The majority of papers, apparently, are going along with the president-elect's own wishes — Kennedy or JFK.

Only a few of the 100 newspapers polled by the Associated Press indicated they will continue to use "Jack."

Newspapers to Decide

The subject came up yesterday when a reporter asked what name Kennedy himself prefers. Answered his press secretary, Pierre Salinger:

"He feels that if he had a choice he would prefer just 'Kennedy,' or that the initials 'JFK' are all right, too. If he had a choice he would be against the use of 'Jack.'

"But he also feels that the choice is up to the newspapers."

(The Post-Crescent will accede to the president-elect's wishes and will use only President Kennedy or JFK on occasion in tight headline situations.)

Long names have long been the bane of the hard-pressed headline writer who must fit them into skimpy column space.

Hence, such famous names as Eisenhower and Roosevelt became Ike and FDR.

Eisenhower's nickname has stuck with him over the years and he likes it. He once said:

"So long as I live, I shall most readily answer to the name of Ike."

Of the newspapers queried by the AP, 46 said they would use Kennedy or JFK in headlines. Thirty-six said they would use President or Kennedy only. The others indicated they would continue to use Jack — if the story warranted it or it fitted in designated space. One paper said it would use John F. and another "John."

A number of newspapers said they dropped the nickname Jack after Kennedy was elected President.

Special Problems

In New York City, the dailies have special problems. Two prominent city officials — Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy and outgoing borough President Hulan E. Jack — have figured prominently in the news of late.

The papers had to be careful when they headlined that the commissioner faced jail in a contempt of court hassle over departmental promotions. Many carefully used the title "commissioner" or an abbreviation to show that the newly elected President wasn't involved.

Jack lost his job recently when he was convicted on conflict-of-interest charges.

Probe Location of Nuclear Explosion

Experts Slowed by High Degree Of Radio-Activity; Bodies of Two Of Three Victims Still Inside

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — Nuclear experts gingerly probed within a silo-shaped building today, seeking the cause — and nature — of an atomic reactor explosion that killed three young servicemen.

They were hampered by radioactivity so dangerously high that each could safely remain inside the structure little more than a minute.

The damaged reactor was deep inside the metal-sheathed building So, too, were the bodies of two ofits victims: It was too dangerous to try to recover them. The third body was removed within minutes of the explosion Tuesday night.

It was the first fatal accident in the history of this country's atomic energy program.

The blast occurred on the Atomic Energy Commission's sprawling, half-million acre National Reactor Testing Station in eastern Idaho, about 40 miles west of this city of 34,000. AEC officials assured the public the radiation was confined to the building area and wasn't even dangerous elsewhere on the station.

Plug Leaks

Before the experts could find out precisely what happened, they had to find a way of plugging the leaks in the reactor's heavy sheathing—leaks that permitted the deadly radiation to spew into the building surrounding the core.

The AEC said all three victims' bodies showed the effects of severe explosion, indicating they were killed by the blast rather than by radiation.

But the building, from outside, appeared undamaged. The AEC was silent about what damage officials found inside. In Washington, AEC Chairman John A. McCone promised the facts "will be made available as they are established."

Best guesses were that some kind of chemical explosion ruptured the reactor's nuclear core and released the radiation. It was fairly certain there was no nuclear explosion of the type released by an atomic bomb.

The AEC said the three servicemen were working on the reactor's control rods, getting ready to start it up after a 10-day shutdown.

Control Reaction

Such rods are used to control the nuclear chain reaction that takes place inside a reactor. If a reactor should get out of control, even briefly, it could generate enough heat to melt down its nuclear fuel. If some molten metal should come in contact with boiling water within the reactor, it could precipitate an explosion.

Two of the dead were Army men—Spec. 5 John A. Byrnes, 27, and Spec. 4 Richard L. McKinley, 22, both living in Idaho Falls with their wives. The third was Navy electrician Richard C. Legg, 26, of Roscommon, Mich. Byrnes formerly lived in Utica, N.Y., and McKinley in Kenton, Ohio.

The reactor they were working on was a two-year-old prototype of one intended for use as a mobile heat and power plant by armed forces in remote areas. The armed services have been training military prsonnel in operation of the reactor. Legg and Byrnes were listed as "certified reactor operators" and McKinley was due for certification next month.

RHEUMATIC FEVER IS MORE PREVALENT THAN USUAL

Other names for rheumatic fever are inflamatory rheumatism, acute rheumatism, or arthritis when the condition involves the joints. More cases than usual have been reported the past few months. Fever, swelling and pain accompany the condition making movement very difficult.

As the condition progresses, the heart may become involved and produce various forms of heart trouble. In children especially this trouble may go unnoticed and become very serious in later life. Arthritis is also a common after-effect.

Chiropractors have shown remarkable results with rheumatic fever. Seldom does a case having adjustments develop any serious after-effects.

FOX VALLEY CHIROPRACTORS

Sagging Steel Output Topic At Conference

Industry and Union Officials Sit Down To Study Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)—Management and union leaders of the vital steel industry hold an unusual huddle today to seek some way of getting their idle mills back into full production.

Sagging steel output, which has paced the nation's economy downward, reached a 22-year low for a non-strike period last week when the industry operated at only 38.6 per cent of capacity. However, production always is low in a holiday week.

The industry accepted a bid made last Sunday by President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers Union to try to reverse the lessening demand for steel and the resulting widespread unemployment among steelworkers.

Rare Occasion

What can come out of the meeting is problematical. But it is a rare occasion when steel management and steel labor sit down to talk over a common problem outside their periodic contract tussles. It was only a year ago a contract dispute marked by a record 116-day steel strike was ended.

Also today the entire high command of organized labor gathered for a conference on the unemployment problem and on legislative proposals that will face the new session of Congress.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, called members of the federation executive council into an afternoon session to survey the prospects on getting Congress to endorse various labor-favored economic aid plans.

Jobless Pay

These include distressed areas, minimum wage, housing, health and education aid measures and improved unemployment insurance provisions.

The latter subject is of especial concern to McDonald and the steelworkers union. Steel firm reserves for supplemental unemployment benefits—amounts paid by the employers to idled workers to augment regular state idle benefits—have been largely depleted.

Truant Officer Has Embarrassing Moment

GAINESVILLE, Ga. (AP) — When truant officer Lloyd Smith rounded up 20 hookey-playing youngsters Wednesday and herded them back to school, he got one too many.

Smith said he spotted one boy whom he believed to be about 8 years old. Over the youngster's strenuous objection Smith carried him off to school.

Every teacher had denied knowing the lad before he turned to Smith and said: "I told you I don't belong here. I'm only 5 years old."

Whites Afraid to Back Integration, Students Claim

STANFORD, Calif. (AP)—Two young African Negro students, returning to Stanford University from a tour of the Southern states, say that whites apparently favoring integration are afraid to stand up and be counted.

"The South needs people with prestige who will go there and preach reason," said Fred Savage, 30, a graduate-student in political science from Freetown in Sierra Leone.

"It seems that all the whites are afraid of opposing segregation. Ministers are afraid of losing their congregations. Sharecroppers are afraid of losing their land. Merchants are afraid of losing business."

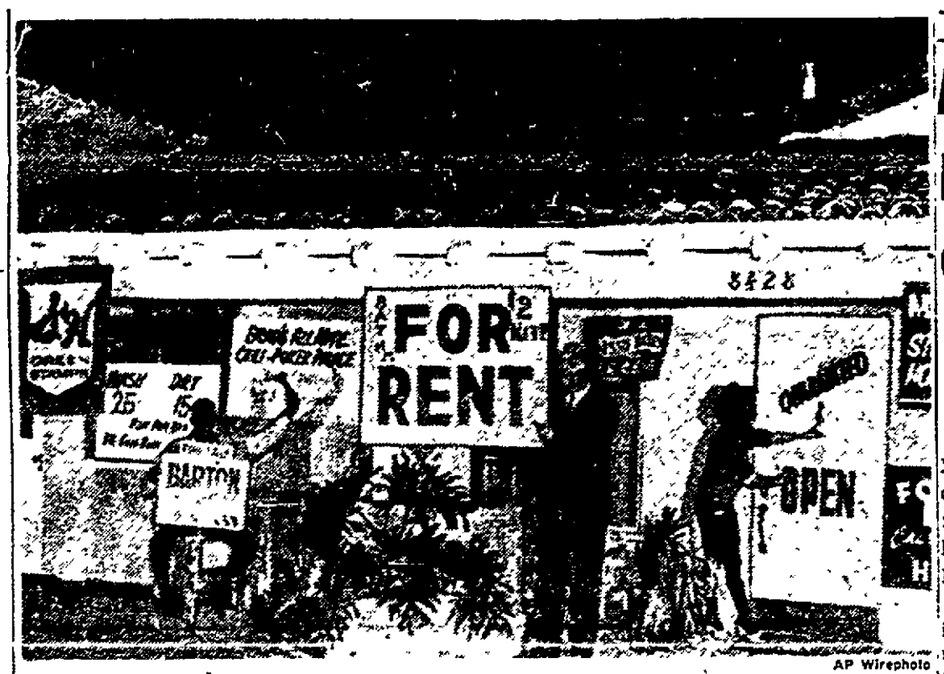

He and James W. Maina, 28, of Kenya, an economics graduate student, spoke at a news conference Wednesday following the 17-day tour of the South with five other African students of California universities.

They said the low point of the tour was an interview with Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus. Commented Maina: "He would say anything to make his points."

Razor Blade Found In Youth's Throat

CHIPLEY, Fla. (AP) — James Gerald Worthington, 6, apparently swallowed a razor blade two years ago. It went undetected until he went to a hospital last week for treatment of pneumonia.

Dr. Walter H. Shehee discovered the blade lodged in the side of the windpipe. It was removed by surgery Friday and Dr. Shehee says the boy is recovering satisfactorily.

Bob Kennedy to Detach Himself From Politics

Attorney Generalship Will Require His Full Attention, He Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert F. Kennedy, brother of the president-elect, said today he will detach himself from politics when he takes his oath this month as the new attorney general.

"I am in the midst now of detaching myself from the political arena," Kennedy told a reporter. He added it's not a simple task.

Since 1952 Kennery has managed the political campaigns that carried his brother, John F. Kennedy, first into the senate and then into the presidency. They have formed a close team on political matters, and the president-elect has said he knows no man whose advice he values more.

Undivided Attention

Both were described by friends as having decided that the attorney generalship will require brother Robert's undivided attention if he is to do the kind of job they both envision.

Any attorney general's actions are subject to scrutiny for possible political motives. Both want Robert Kennedy to achieve a record that can stand impartial examination. Never before has a president appointed a brother to a cabinet post.

Tousle-haired Bob Kennedy was in shirt sleeves, his necktie loosened, and "up to my neck in work" when he paused for the interview. He was in the temporary office he has set up in a third floor suite at the justice department, made available to him by outgoing attorney general William P. Rogers.

Nationally Known

Kennedy and Rogers both have a background of years of experience as chief counsel to senate investigating groups that made them nationally known.

Kennedy refused to discuss in advance any of the policies he contemplates as justice department head. He said he was familiarizing himself with the duties of an attorney general.

Barry Fitzgerald, Oscar Winning Actor, Dies

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Barry Fitzgerald, who did not turn to acting until he was 41 and won an Oscar at 56, died yesterday in a nursing home. He was 72.

Fitzgerald

The Dublin-born actor had been under medical care since he underwent brain surgery in 1959, but the immediate cause of death was not announced.

Fitzgerald's real name was William Joseph Shields. A civil service employe, he became stage-struck when he visited a friend backstage at Dublin's Abbey Theater and was shoved as an extra into a mob scene. Bit parts were followed by success in the Abbey production of Sean O'Casey's "The Silver Tassie."

A string of film successes, beginning with a part in "The Plough and the Stars," was capped in 1944 when he was awarded an Oscar for his priest's role in "Going My Way" with Bing Crosby. Other hit roles were in "The Long Voyage Home." "How Green Was My Valley" and "The Quiet Man." His last big movie was "The Catered Affair," in 1956.

Fitzgerald never married. "I was terribly busy and then suddenly I found I was older than I thought," he once explained.

A brother, actor Arthur Shields of New York, survives him.

Air Force Finds Capsule in Gulf

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—A space capsule has been lofted more than 32 miles and later recovered from the Gulf of Mexico.

The 900-pound nose cone on a Cree research rocket was sent up Wednesday atop a 44-foot, three-stage Nike solid-propellant rocket in another Air Force test of a high-speed recovery parachute.

The rocket was launched over the Eglin Gulf Test Range from the nearby Santa Rosa Island Missile Test Center. A range patrol boat recovered the capsule and its recording instruments within 40 minutes.

The launching was made to test use of a parachute-type drag system designed to slow the re-entry speed of space capsules and various escape devices. The tests are a preface to the man-in-space program.

Diver Finds Girl's Body In Deep Water

MUSKEGO (AP)—A skindiver found the body of 17-year-old Korinne Wellner in 60 feet of water of Little Muskego Lake Wednesday. She was one of three girls drowned Monday night when the car in which they were riding broke through the lake ice.

Russell Jacobs, 31, of Brookfield, recovered the body of Miss Wellner near the spot where the car in which the three girls and three boys were riding, broke through the ice. The three boys escaped but the three girls, Miss Wellner, Jean Marie Hammernik, 20, and Helen Destrampe, 17, drowned. All the girls were from Milwaukee. Jacobs also recovered the bodies of the other two girls.

The boys who escaped from the car as it sank were Dale Olson, 20, Muskego, owner of the car; Roger Holtz, 20, Muskego, and Jerry Hammernik, 18, Milwaukee, brother of Miss Hammernik and a cousin of Miss Wellner.

It was believed that Miss Wellner, whose ring was found in the ice, had escaped from the car but failed to climb over the edge of the broken ice. Jacobs said her coat was half-way off as though she had tried to get out of it.

Judge Orders Crosby To Pay $100 a Week Support to Daughter

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge ordered Dennis Crosby to pay $100 a week support for a 3-year-old girl a jury last week declared to be his daughter.

Superior Court Judge Clarke E. Stephens also ruled Wednesday that Crosby should pay $7,500 in attorney's fees on behalf of the child's mother, Marilyn Miller Scott.

Crosby, 26, son of crooner Bing Crosby, previously had paid $2,500 to the lawyer.

Mrs. Scott, 28, a tall, brown-haired divorcee, said she expected to continue working at a manufacturing firm.

Fire Breaks Out in Kenosha Plant of American Motors

KENOSHA (AP)—Fire of undetermined origin broke out early today in a body plant of the American Motors Corp. works but the damage was confined to a filter unit supplying clean air to painting machines.

Fire Chief William J. Brady said there was damage to the filter unit, the structure that housed it and the roof of Building 40, but he said he was unable to estimate the loss immediately.

The blaze broke out at 2.22 a. m. and was put out about three hours later. The filter is atop a four-story building in which the bodies for Rambler American auto are built. The flames fed on oil in the filtering unit.

McNamara Appears as Potential Strong Man Of Kennedy Cabinet

Sure Action of Young Auto Tycoon Has President-Elect Impressed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert S. McNamara, defense secretary-designate, is acting with such rapid fire precision that he looks like a potential strong man in the Kennedy cabinet.

President-elect John F. Kennedy is reported delighted and deeply impressed with what he regards as the surehanded way McNamara has grabbed hold of his assignment to run the Pentagon.

By contrast, Kennedy is understood to be somewhat disappointed at the pace of moves by Dean Rusk, secretary of state-designate, and others in helping to pick a team of aides.

Auto Tycoon

McNamara, 44, the auto tycoon, is moving like one of the supercharged Fords he used to turn out in getting set for government business Jan. 20.

There is only one top job left to fill in his civilian high command, that of Army secretary. McNamara talked over this appointment with Kennedy in New York Wednesday night with prospects the job will be filled within the next few days.

He already moved full time into a Pentagon office next door to retiring Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. Without fanfare he has sold some $1.5 million worth of Ford stock he owned Dec. 13 when Kennedy picked him.

Kennedy aides report that in addition to helping the president-elect assemble his top Pentagon commands swiftly, McNamara has displayed surprising political savvy in talking to congressmen who for years have ridden herd on any defense secretary.

Having Trouble

Several long time defense department critics in Congress are known to have lauded to Kennedy McNamara's readiness to consult with them on personnel and other defense department problems.

Rusk and the undersecretary of state-designate, Chester Bowles, are reported to be having trouble finding suitably qualified top level men to fill some of the major state department spots.

Scores of candidates have been surveyed for such key jobs as assistant secretaries for Latin America, the Far East and Europe. Another hard to fill job is reported to be undersecretary for economic affairs. Because of the sensitive nature of these positions, men appointed to them come under very close congressional scrutiny.

Cynics Impressed

Kennedy has given Rusk considerable leeway, it is understood, in recommending men of his own choosing for a majority of the some dozen jobs of assistant secretary level.

McNamara's pre-swearing in performance has impressed even some of the Pentagon cynics who have seen secretaries come and go. It generally takes about 10 months for a new defense secretary to learn the Pentagon ropes. McNamara is moving so swiftly that he may cut this time to nine months, one commented wryly.

December Death Toll Highest for Any Month in State History

MADISON (AP) — There were 117 persons killed in Wisconsin highway traffic accidents in December of 1960. The toll was the highest for any month in the state's history.

The State Motor Vehicle Department reported Wednesday that the 117 deaths in December brought the 1960 total to 921, up 100 from the number of deaths in 1959. The December toll was two higher than that of July of 1956 when 115 died. That month was the previous high.

Victims in 1960 included 138 pedestrians, 10 more than in 1959.

The only years with higher death tolls than those in 1960 were 1955 when 932 were killed and 1956 when 955 died.

Vermont Governor to Be Sworn In by Dad

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP)—Ray Keyser Jr., will be sworn Thursday, the first time in Vermont history when a governor has been administered the oath of office by his father. The governor, 33, will be inaugurated by Superior Court Judge Ray Keyser Sr.

Cafeteria Worker Gets $10,000 Fish

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A cafeteria worker from Winter Haven is $10,000 richer today because of an 18-inch fish.

Louise Sheridan, 40, caught the fish New Year's Day and found a tag attached, indicating the bass had been released in the $500,000 fishing contest sponsored by a brewing firm.

Mrs. Sheridan, accompanied by her husband, Lee, 41, a legless veteran of World War II, came to Tampa Wednesday to pick up her prize.

More than 2,000 fish were released last month in salt and fresh waters, all tagged for $25 or more. Mrs. Sheridan caught one of four tagged for $10,000.

On the House

Confessed Killer, Born on Friday The 13th, Led Ill-Starred Life

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

PESHTIGO — Born on Friday the 13th just 25 years ago, Terrence Donovan, confessed slayer of a pretty Milwaukee woman, has lived a life ill-starred.

House

Neighbors talk of Donovan's strange wanderings about the streets and the nearby highways in the small hours of the morning.

"Even when he was a boy," said one Peshtigo citizen, "he used to climb out of his bedroom window after his parents were asleep, and then he'd prowl all hours of the night and day.

But Mrs. John Behnke, who has been his next door neighbor for years, was horrified at the crime to which he confessed last night.

"He was a pretty good boy and was often kind and generous. I never saw him do a mean thing and I can hardly imagine that he would hurt anybody. He wasn't girl crazy. In fact, he left them strictly alone.

Hated Cats

"He always talked a lot and he bragged a great deal, but he called me 'Ma' and I understood him. Some people have seen him go off on little rampages all by himself, prowling around the streets late at night, but he was always nice.

"I know he has been disturbed in recent weeks. I could tell by his eyes."

Said another citizen:

"Don't print my name. Terry was really sick and if he ever comes back here he could really hurt someone to get revenge. He's as big and as strong as a bull. The boy belonged in an institution. I'm no doctor or anything like that, but that boy did some goofy things. We'd see him running down some alley chasing cats. He liked to kill them because he hated them.

People Feared Him

"In a small town like this, people don't lock their doors as a rule, but a lot of us did because we were afraid of what that boy might do. Many of the women were afraid of him, and a lot of the men were, too."

His grieving parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Donovan, operators of Jerry's Bar here for 27 years, admitted that they feel "the kid" should have been committed permanently to an institution, but they expressed a feeling of amazement at his crime. They do not feel he would willingly hurt anyone.

"Just a big, good-natured punk — that's what he is," said the slayer's 59-year-old father.

Worked for Parents

"And I'll tell you another thing," he said. "I'm going to get that gun from the sheriff and I'm going to take a hammer and I'm going to twist it and smash it so that it will never kill anybody again."

The confessed slayer's employment has been mainly in his parents' tavern. Although he was a skillful repairman, his police troubles and his periods in mental institutions have worked against his chances of finding other employment.

He was a crack shot, a marksman with rifle or pistol, according to his father. Terrence often boasted that he could hit a match at 100 yards with a rifle according to neighbors. He was an avid, and a good, fisherman and hunter.

Parents Feel Sorry

His mother said she believed young people should be acquainted with firearms for reasons of safety, but she added, "If I ever knew what would happen, there never would have been a gun in our house."

Distressed over her son's crime, Mrs Donovan, 49, expressed grief over the loss of the life of Mrs. Degnan.

"I feel so sorry for her parents and for her young husband," she said, "and I'd like to write to them to tell them how I feel, but my hand shakes so much that I can't do it."

The Donovans have two other children, a daughter and a son, Gerald Jr., 29. Gerald, a professional soldier, seems heroic. Twice wounded in the Korean conflict, he was also chosen as "soldier of the year" at Fort Leonard Wood where he is now stationed. He has been in the armed forces for 12 years.

Spent for Psychiatrist

But for their slayer son, the Donovans can think of no excuse except to say, "The kid's mind snapped. We feel bad, very bad, and it doesn't fix anything.

"We spent a lot of money for psychiatric treatments and hospitals for the kid," said Donovan. "I don't know how much—five or six thousand dollars over the years.

He described one of Terrence's jokes.

"Terry had some kind of a card from this hospital, and it said he was not insane. He would show the card to people and say, 'I've got a card here that says I'm sane. Where's yours?' "

Police Chief Edward Forbes knew of Terrence's night-time wanderings.

Size Is Frightening

"Often he'd come into the police station just to sit and talk for awhile. He'd say he couldn't sleep. But he was not hard for us to handle and he was usually cooperative.

"Yes, some people were afraid of him, but it was partly because of his size. Still, there are a lot of people who are afraid of a lot of other people who 'mean them no harm."

People of Peshtigo have their own thoughts about Donovan. Some are kind:

Some are Harder

Some thoughts were harder:

"He should have been put away years ago. But now at last, we're free. We don't have to worry about him any more."

In Menominee county jail, awaiting what the world will do to him, Terrence Donovan will be having his own thoughts, too.

Said his mother:

"I'm sure he's up there wondering how he ever happened to do what he did. It just isn't like him. That kid wouldn't have hurt anybody."

Delay Hearing For Donovan

MENOMINEE, Mich (AP)—A hearing for a 25-year-old Peshtigo, Wis., man, who is charged with first degree murder in the shooting of a bride of four months, has been postponed until next week so that he may obtain an attorney.

Russell Bradley, Menominee County prosecuting attorney, said Wednesday that he had agreed to postponement of the hearing for Terrence Donovan so that Circuit Judge Ernest W. Brown can name an attorney when he convenes court here Monday. The hearing had been scheduled for Wednesday but Donovan could not obtain an attorney.

Donovan has been charged with first degree murder in the slaying of Mrs. Mary Jane Degnan, 21, of Milwaukee.

Four Generals Came From One Ohio House

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Four of five Civil War generals from Lancaster came from one house. They were Maj. Gen. Thomas Ewing, Maj. Gen. Hugh Ewing, Brig. Gen. Charles Ewing —all brothers—and Gen. William T. Sherman, who was raised by the Ewing family.

The fifth was Bvt. Brig. Gen. J. A. Stafford. In addition, two other generals—Maj. Gen. Philemon Beecher and Brig. Gen. Samuel F. Maccracken — lived within a block of the Ewing home but died before the war.

Utilities Form First Electric Sharing Plan

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Wisconsin Public Service Corp. and the Wisconsin Power and Light Co. announced they have formed the state's first electric power pool involving two independent electric systems.

A statement described the sharing of generating capacity as "a progressive move in the utilities' effort to hold down the price of electricity in the face of constantly increasing production costs."

The main interconnection for the exchange of power between the two firms is a 138,000 volt tie between Oshkosh and Fond du Lac, with two smaller interconnections at Waupaca and Caroline.

There will be no joint ownership of facilities under the agreement.

Too Thick Fingers Punched This Check

DETROIT (AP)—Wayne County Clerk Edgar M. Branigin got a $9,900,001.80 check in the mail Tuesday, but it was a mistake.

A letter enclosed with the check indicated Gertrude Balongue of Phoenix, Ariz., meant to send a check for $1.80 for a copy of her divorce decree.

Top Senator Has Colorful Career

Mansfield Was Laborer, Professor; Served in All Three Armed Forces

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new top man in the Senate is a blue-eyed, pipe-smoking Irishman who started as a laborer in a Montana copper mine and worked through high school and college simultaneously.

That is only part of the fascinating background of Michael

Mike Mansfield

On the way up, he found time to serve separate hitches in the Navy, the Army and the Marines, win recognition as a college professor and as an expert on Far Eastern affairs, and to capture the affection of Republican as well as Democratic Senate colleagues.

His new job is to pilot through the Senate the legislative program of President-elect John F. Kennedy while keeping his 64 fellow Democratic senators as happy as possible despite their many differences on civil rights and other controversial legislation.

Heculean Task

No one is more aware than Mike Mansfield — he long ago dropped the Michael Joseph — of the herculean task he is taking over from the skillful hands of Lyndon B. Johnson, who becomes vice president Jan. 20

As Democratic whip under Johnson at the last session, Mansfield witnessed the Texan's performance at first hand and knows the headaches involved.

Capitol Hill opinion is that Mansfield's methods for bringing senators into line will differ from Johnson's. But he has demonstrated in the past that he knows how to get what he wants—including a college education, five terms in the House and a second six-year term in the Senate.

Johnson once assessed him as "one man who does not have an enemy in the true meaning of the word."

Johnson called him a good man and a kind man "who can be as aggressive as a tiger and as mild and meek as a mother."

Disarming Man

On that same occasion, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republican minority leader, described Mansfield as "the most disarming man in the world" and ended up his flowery tribute by saying, "Mike, we love you."

Mansfield is going to have many occasions to test that love in the trying months ahead.

But the man with the receding hair and firm thin mouth has overcome many obstacles since his birth in New York City the day before St. Patrick's Day, 1903. He is the son of Patrick and Josephine O'Brien Mansfield—the father a native of County Kilkenny and she of Galway, Ireland.

When his mother died when he was six, Mansfield was shipped off to Montana where he was to shape his colorful career.

To look at this quiet man, it's hard to believe he ran away from home at 14 and lied his way into the Navy in World War I by pretending to be three years older.

After his discharge, in 1919 he worked at odd jobs in Montana before serving a one-year hitch in the Army.

Joined Marines

Mustered out in 1920, he walked immediately to the Marine recruiting station in San Francisco and signed up for two years.

He never got higher than private first class, but saw duty in the Philippines, China and other faraway places. That supplied the curiosity that ultimately drove him to becoming a foreign affairs authority in Congress and particularly an expert on the Far East.

Mansfield's struggle for education was remarkable. He left school in the eighth grade and worked 2,800 feet below ground in the Butte copper mines for 10 years before he decided to become a mining engineer.

School of Mines

When he approached the Montana School of Mines, he was told he couldn't matriculate without 15 high school credits. But the school agreed to take him on as a special student in the liberal arts course while he made up those credits.

In March, 1933, at the age of 30, he completed high school and three months later got his bachelor of arts degree.

A teacher in the Butte High School who helped him in this task —Maureen Hayes—is now Mrs. Mansfield. They have a daughter, Anne.

Mansfield later taught Greek, Roman, Latin-American and Far Eastern history at Montana State University. And it was as a college professor that he first came to Congress.

"While nobody asked me to," he told a reporter, "I decided to run for Congress." He failed once, but was elected in 1942. Nobody has been able to beat him since.

Cold Weather Causes Increase In Auto Mishaps

Frost, Low Sun, Heat In Cars Make Winter Driving Hazardous

MADISON — Fair, cold weather of the type that most of Wisconsin has been experiencing during November and December may be welcomed by drivers, but it is no friend to the state's traffic safety record, according to Dan F. Schutz, State Motor Vehicle Department safety director.

"Our worst December traffic fatality record in years has occurred in weather which most drivers would consider excellent for driving," Schutz said. "Certainly it was surprisingly free of the normally recognized hazards of snow and ice.

"We cannot operate safely at summertime speed and with summertime abandon, even though the weather may be fine," he warned. "The longer nights provide special hazards to overconfident drivers. Frequently, frost forms on bridges and overpasses. Lower visibility, headlight glare, driver fatigue and the presence of drivers who have been drinking make the winter night a thing of danger."

Winter daylight, too, can be tricky, he pointed out. The sun is lower and more blinding. "Even when the sun is at our back, we should remember that it is in the eyes of every driver we meet."

Lists Dangers

Other winter-associated dangers named by the state safety director included:

1. The tendency to drowsiness induced when the heater is turned up high in a tightly closed car.

2. The failure of warning sounds to penetrate the closed car and be clearly audible above inside noise of passengers or radio.

3. The film of moisture that collects and freezes on inside windows, reducing all-around visibility, especially when the car is crowded.

4. The danger of driving before the car engine is warmed up, resulting in dangerous stalls in front of fast oncoming traffic.

5. Sluggishness of car controls before the car is thoroughly warmed up, resulting in inability to react quickly and surely in an emergency.

"We must make quite an adjustment in our driving, even when the highways are as bare as they were last July," Schutz warned. "Otherwise our wintertime traffic death toll will continue tragically and unnecessarily high."

Heavy Contributors Get 'Free' Tickets To Inaugural Rites

NEW YORK (AP)— About 400 New Yorkers who shelled out for a $100-a-plate dinner during John F. Kennedy's campaign for the presidency are going to get "free" tickets to the ceremonies on inauguration day, Jan. 20.

The reason: Joseph Baird, finance chairman of the New York Citizens for Kennedy and (vice president-elect Lyndon B.) Johnson, says the group still has $30,000 of the $300,000 the committee raised.

Baird said yesterday the group is buying $10,000 worth of tickets to the inaugural parade and the ball and will send them to the heavier contributors — those who bought the $100 dinner tickets.

Lawrence Says

Laos, Cuba Just Part of Soviet Plan

USSR Wants Control, Takes Offensive In Cold War

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The Soviet government would like to have everybody in the world think that the Castro demand for a reduction in the American embassy staff in Havana, which led to the break in diplomatic relations with Cuba, is just an isolated affair between Cuba and the United States.

Lawrence

The Moscow regime would also like to give the impression that what's happening in Laos is a spontaneous uprising of the people in protest against alleged interference in their internal affairs by the United States.

Actually, both events are the result of Communist initiative and are part of the Soviet offensive in the "cold war."

The Castro government in Cuba is advised hourly by Communist representatives just what to do to aggravate relations with the United States. The Soviet government, moreover, is engaging in a worldwide offensive designed to gain by so-called "peaceful conquest" a dominant position on every continent.

CIA Head's Speech

Recently General C. P. Cabell, deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency, made a little-noticed speech that tells a good deal about the Soviet strategy and motives. The CIA gathers information about the "cold war" which is constantly being furnished to the highest officials of the United States government.

General Cabell naturally chooses his words carefully, and the conclusions he draws can be accepted as authoritative. He says:

"What do the Communist leaders really want? The answer is, simply, the world. Call it conquest, domination, or control, their aim, as stated by themselves and as demonstrated in their actions, is to destroy freedom in the world and to impose a Communist structure on the whole globe. . . .

"Theirs is the language of total war. They have a consistency and a single-mindedness about promoting a world revolution which is unique in the history of dictatorships. We have been warned before, by Hitler, of plans for world domination. We cannot ignore the present, clear communist warning. . . .

"The Soviets have one great intangible resource which can best be described as gall. They are showing ever-increasing confidence and even arrogance about their growth, both in material things and in influence. . . .

"We in intelligence consider that the only sensible view of Communist intentions is that they seek to destroy us by any means which they can use.

"The next question is, how? Will it be by direct military attack or by long-term erosion? The answer is both. If we display weakness in our military establishment, if they believe they could strike without suffering unacceptable damage in return, then they will strike. . . .

Striking Now

"Several years ago we were inclined to say that what goes on far across the Atlantic or the Pacific does not really affect us. Then we began to recognize the real intentions of the Communists. . . .

"Behind their curtains of secrecy, they believe that they can make preparations for a surprise military attack. . . .

"In answer to the question: 'When will the Communists strike?' — the answer is they have attacked, they are attacking, and they will continue to attack."

The foregoing is an example of what our high officials are being told every day about communist intrigue and the way the "cold war" is being fought. But do the American people realize what's happening? Judging from some of the comments made in Congress, it is questionable whether the legislators themselves are aware of the far-reaching significance of the Soviet capture of the Castro government.

It is naturally assumed that the people of the United States would disapprove of any military action to counter the Communist moves. This has been said so often that the Moscow regime believes it can go to almost any lengths and yet not meet any real resistance from the United States. Scarcely a day goes by that there aren't hints of appeasement from persons who are close to President-elect Kennedy.

The real decision will have to be made soon — Whether the new administration is going to face up to the Communist threat and call the Soviet bluff. Laos and Cuba are incidental to the larger aspects of the "cold war."

Panama called home Wednesday its ambassador to Cuba "for consultation," giving rise to speculation that the Central-American country may break with Castro. The Panamanian government declined comment.

The U.S. government meanwhile is confident it is in a strong position both legally and militarily in its plan to hold indefinitely its big Guantanamo Navy Base in eastern Cuba.

The break in relations had no legal effect on the treaty under which the United States leases Guantanamo, the White House said Wednesday.

Treaties in Effect

Most other treaties involving the United States and Cuba also remain in effect, according to U.S. experts. These include U.S.-Cuban agreements on civil air transport, civil uses of atomic energy, investment guarantees, postal exchanges, smuggling prevention and the like.

No serious hitches had been reported in the pullout of American officials from Cuba and the expulsion of Cuban diplomats from this country. U.S. officials estimated that more than 300 Cubans in this country were listed as Cuban government officials.

There was no optimism that relations with Cuba would be resumed soon. American authorities felt Castro has become so enmeshed in the Communist web that he cannot turn back, even if he wants to.

The diplomatic break brought an end to normal visa facilities for persons traveling from one country to the other. In order to get a U.S. visa now, a Cuban must go to a third country and apply at a U.S. consulate.

Refugee Law for Cubans

State Department officials indicated, however, that the United States would follow a tolerant interpretation of the refugee law toward Cubans who manage to get to this country and ask asylum.

At a meeting of the Organization of American States in Washington Wednesday the Cuban representative said the break was "one more proof" that the United States plans to invade Cuba before Jan. 18, an accusation the United States has called baseless and ridiculous.

The Cuban, Quintin Pino, said "If U.S. Marines land on our beaches they will suffer more casualties than Okinawa and Iwo Jima combined."

A stream of U.S. embassy employes and last minute Cuban emigres flew into Key West and Miami Wednesday night. Most of the embassy staff left Havana by ocean ferry.

At Miami the leader of the exiled Cuban Democratic Revolutionary Front predicted Castro's regime would be crushed by an internal uprising within 90 days. Dr. Manuel Antonio de Varona said the break in diplomatic relations would touch off a new revolution in Cuba.

Castro youths harassed a group of Cubans who had gathered outside the embassy in a desperate last-minute effort to get visas to go to the United States.

Shattered hopes of 50,000 Cubans with visa applications pending were revived by a statement in Washington indicating they would be admitted to the United States without visas. The state department announcement took some of the sting out of Havana radio taunts that the U.S. Embassy "has closed its doors to sellouts and traitors."

Expects to Get Base

Castro has said several times he would not try to seize the base on the southeastern tip of Cuba by force but would get it away from the United States by legal means. The United States holds the base under a treaty it contends can be scrapped only by agreement of both countries.

As the initial shock of the sudden severance of diplomatic ties began to wear off, Cubans and Americans here took another hard look at what it means—especially in trade relations.

The U.S. economic embargo limits Cuban buying in the United States to medicines and nonsubsidized food. But food purchases have been heavy recently. Visiting American farmers said Cuba has bought more than 10,000 head of American cattle in the last three months as well as hundreds of pigs and goats. Despite the ban on U.S. purchases of Cuban sugar, trade sources had anticipated before the diplomatic break that Cuba in 1961 would sell up to $100 million worth of products on the American market—mostly tobacco, fruits and vegetables.

Whip Up Tension

Cuban government broadcasts gloated over the departure of the Americans.

"The last ties with imperialism were cut," an announcer said as the television screen showed the Stars and Stripes being lowered at the embassy.

The government kept whipping up tension that "an attack by Yankee imperialism" is imminent. The warning was sounded throughout the night by all the island's radio and TV stations.

The newspaper Prensa Libre said "Old Man Ike" still has time "to do even more harm" and warned: "If the pirates finally dare step on Cuban land, they will encounter the total collapse of imperialism for the good of all humanity."

A burst of harmless machinegun fire in what was once the tourist area underlined the general nervousness. But all was quiet around the U.S. Embassy during the night.

prime minister in turn called the Democratic candidate an "ignorant, illiterate, beardless kid."

There had been unconfirmed reports that the cabinet would also discuss the U.S. Naval base at Guantanamo, but the statement made no mention of it. The United States has declared it will hold and defend the base despite the diplomatic break, and Castro has said several times he would get the base away from the United States by legal means, not by force.

The United States holds the base under a treaty it contends can be scrapped only by agreement of both countries.

Planes leaving Havana for the United States were packed with Americans quitting Cuba, but many more stayed to take their chances under the regime Eisenhower called a dictatorship. The American flag was hauled down from over the U.S. Embassy, and most of the embassy staff sailed for home.

Charge D'Affaires Daniel M. Braddock and a 12 man skeleton staff set about closing the U.S. Embassy and turning over U.S. government affairs in Cuba to Swiss Ambassador Walter Bossi.

Women Guards at Embassy

Smartly dressed, armed Castro militiawomen ringed the embassy Wednesday night as the bulk of Braddock's staff drove off in two buses to take the night ferry to Florida, ending 60 years of U.S.-Cuban diplomatic relations.

The evacuation went off smoothly and the militiawomen were withdrawn.

While the Americans were packing their bags to leave, 35 Soviet tourists were being welcomed at Havana Airport.

More than 60 embassy workers —joined by many American civilians—sailed aboard the ferry City of New Orleans. Banners over the dock proclaimed "the fatherland or death" and "death to the invaders," but there were only two minor incidents.

Braddock Held Up

Cuban customs officials held Braddock up briefly until he got a special pass to go aboard the ferry to say goodbye. And 15 pro-Castro youths harassed a group of Cubans who had gathered outside the embassy in a desperate last-minute effort to get visas to go to the United States.

Fewer State College Students Take Rural Education Courses

MADISON (AP)—The number of students in Wisconsin state colleges taking rural education work is diminishing, the Board of State Colleges said today.

Meanwhile, enrollments are growing rapidly in virtually every education field offered by the college system.

Rural education students are those taking two or three years work in a special program preparatory to teaching in rural schools.

It was noted that in 1955-56 a total of 469 students in eight colleges were in rural education work. In the fall of 1959 the number dropped to 190.

The drop was attributed to desire of would-be teachers to have four-year degree backgrounds and a requirement that teachers have four years preparation. A decrease in the number of one-room schools also figures in the picture, the board said.

Judge to Determine If Jailed Mayor to Serve

PERRY, Ga. (AP) — Superior Court Judge A. M. Anderson must decide whether the mayor of Warner Robins can hold office while in federal prison for bank fraud.

Five citizens of Warner Robins, a town of 18,633, petitioned Judge Anderson to declare Kemp A. Harrison unqualified to serve as mayor while imprisoned.

Harrison was already in prison when he won re-election last Nov. 8.

Asks 17 Northern Counties be Listed As Depressed Area

MADISON (AP)—Gov. Gaylord Nelson today asked Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., to include 17 northern Wisconsin counties in a study of depressed areas throughout the nation.

Douglas is chairman of President-elect Kennedy's special committee drafting proposals for aid to depressed areas.

Democratic leaders in the U.S. Senate will give the depressed areas bill the S1 ticket as the first Senate bill introduced this year.

Nelson sent the following letter to Douglas. "May I urge you to be sure to include the 17 northern counties of the State of Wisconsin in your newly-assigned duties as chairman of the committee to study economic distress.

"Please feel free to call on my office or the State Department of Resource Development for any information that you may require."

Dog Has Strong Wish To Become Retriever

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—J. J. Halbrook of East Lansing has a dog that apparently wants to be a retriever.

The dog returned home Tuesday night with a strange girdle, brassiere and slip.

Halbrook turned the undergarments over to East Lansing police. All are in good condition, police said, and can be claimed by the owner upon identification.

Man Leaves Estate To Two Boxer Dogs

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Tavern operator John L. Lynch, 84, left income from his $25,000 estate to his two boxer dogs, Bing, 10, and Rusty, 5.

The Needless War

Secession, Not Compromise, Came After Lincoln's Election

By BRUCE CATTON
Written for The Associated Press

Instead of any compromise, the election of Abraham Lincoln in 1860 was followed by the secession of a number of the Southern states.

At least in the beginning, the act of secession was much more a political maneuver than a really warlike gesture. It was a means of putting on the political heat.

The tragedy was that it evoked a defiant reaction in the North—and, at the same time, changed the fundamental issue from the simple question of slavery, about which neither side was ready to fight, into a question of Union about which a great many people would fight.

After Lincoln's election Congress and the country had a little more than five months to settle things. These months were wholly wasted. Efforts were indeed made, in and out of Congress, to work out a compromise, but they failed completely—chiefly because nobody really wanted to compromise. The machinery of democracy, still available, went unused. There were no real debates; there was a great deal of oratory and there was much editorializing, but almost all of it involved nothing much more than calling one's opponent a scoundrel. The notion that this scoundrel might have at least a little of the right on his side, and that sooner or later he would have to be dealt with, seems to have entered nobody's head.

The area of choice does not remain open forever. After the state of South Carolina announced its secession the area of choice between North and South grew very narrow. Originally it had embraced the whole country—national party conventions, nationwide campaign, national election and all. These had made no choice. Then Congress had its chance, and Congress made no choice.

Now the thing was delegated to a fantastic extent. In Charleston harbor there was Ft. Sumter, and in nearby Ft. Moultrie there were 70-odd federal soldiers under a major in the regular Army. This officer, Maj. Robert Anderson, was told, from Washington, that he was to keep the peace, but that if in his judgment the South Carolina authorities were really menacing he could move his men over into Ft. Sumter, which was much more defensible than Ft. Moultrie.

At the same time, suspecting that Maj. Anderson might do this, South Carolina authorities armed a steamboat and put it to patrolling Charleston harbor; and the militia captain who commanded this boat was told to prevent the federal soldiers from occupying Ft. Sumter, using force if in his judgment that might be necessary.

Reasonable discussion and compromise had been spurned by the Congress, the conventions, the people. Now the issue was changing and a decision which would affect the lives of 30 million Americans passed by default as 1860 ended to a pair of obscure officers. In the third of four articles on the needless war, historian Bruce Catton points to the possibility of a modern parallel.

And there, as 1860 ended, was where the power to make the fateful decision lay—in the hands of an obscure major of regulars and an equally obscure captain of militia. They had the authority to begin shooting if in their opinion shooting was called for. The fact that 30 million Americans would carry on the shooting if they began it was beside the point. The terrible question—war or no war—had somehow been evaded by the people and their political leaders during all of the months when the machinery of democracy was available for the solution of that question. Now the question could be answered by a major and a captain.

(There is something hauntingly familiar about that situation. Can we imagine anything like it today Are there, somewhere on this globe, a major and a captain, eyeing—let us say—their radar screens, given the authority, which ought to lie somewhere farther up the line, to transmit the signals that will envelop civilization in earthquake, wind and fire)

However that may be, let us get back to the winter of 1861. The delegation of authority was at last modified slightly: which is to say that the officers involved were brought a little closer under the control of their respective governments. Nevertheless, it might be remembered that even though, in the end, the federal government clearly decided to fight rather than give up Ft. Sumter, and the Confederate government decided to fight rather than to let Ft. Sumter remain in the hands of federal troops, the shooting at last began as a result of a conference between this same Maj. Anderson and two officers on the staff of the Confederate Gen. Beauregard. These men had discretionary authority. Without fracturing their orders, they might, just possibly, have arranged things so that the guns would not have gone off on that fateful 12th day of April.

The point of all of this is that when we fail to cope with a problem we do not necessarily dispose of it; we simply decree that the answer to it will be made by somebody else. In 1861 the people of America were plunged into the costliest war in their entire experience simply because they and their leaders had refused to try to find an answer to the most momentous problem that they faced. Events themselves at last forced an answer, and it was fearfully expensive when at last it was made.

Suit Filed to Block Damage Payments to Ousted Police Chief

MADISON (AP) — A Circuit Court suit seeking to block payment of $3,418 in lost pay and medical expenses awarded ousted Police Chief Bruce Weatherly of Madison by the State Industrial Commission was filed by the city Tuesday.

The city said Weatherly was not on duty at the time of an accident Jan. 8, 1959, and that he was negligent in the operation of a patrol car involved.

Weatherly asked the amount as compensation for losses suffered in the accident, which subsequently led to his discharge as chief.

VFW Commander Asks Firm Stand on Laos

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A firm U.S. stand on Laos and creation of a U.S. fleet in the Indian Ocean are advocated by Ted C. Connell, national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Communist agression in Laos cannot go unchallenged, he said in a statement Tuesday.

"We must recognize," said Connell, "that a vast power vacuum exists from Southeast Asia. If the free world and the U.S. do not take immediate steps to fill this vacuum, we can be sure that the forces of Communism will do so."

We Break With Castro

President Eisenhower undoubtedly reflects the opinion of the majority of Americans in his statement announcing the breaking off of diplomatic relations with Castro's Cuba. The policy of patience has worn thin. It has gained nothing but increasing sneers and dangers of violence. The Cuban pup may be small and nagging but its nipping at our heels has gone on long enough without at least one swift kick.

The United States actually is the seventh nation in the Western Hemisphere to break off diplomatic relations with Cuba. The Dominican Republic, Paraguay, Nicaragua, Haiti, Guatemala and Peru have called home their ministers. In general they have had actual Cuban attempts to infiltrate or overthrow their governments as a reason. That hasn't bothered the United States, but the treatment of American newspaper reporters, tourists and embassy personnel in Cuba has been disgraceful. Millions of dollars of property has been seized. We gain nothing by turning one cheek after another.

Since the U. S. is not the first to sever ties, our action may also help encourage several other Latin American countries which have been considering such a move. We can point out that we also have broken off official ties with the Dominican Republic as a member of the Organization of American States. Now we can back a censure resolution of Cuba in the OAS with more fervor than Sec. of State Herter showed last summer.

In the last few weeks there have been increasing signs that a real revolt against Castro and his henchmen may break out. Repeated bombings and sabotage, the recurring report despite strict censorship of rebels in the hills, the screams of Fidel about an American based invasion party, the tension in Florida among the ever larger stream of Cuban refugees, all indicate that the opposition may be larger than estimated.

The United States has been condemned in the past for allegiance and backing of dictatorial regimes in Latin America. Since we now have cut off ties with two major tyrants — one of the left and one of the right — we are being consistent.

Laos: A Battle or a War?

Out of the tangled foolishness that has been government in Laos in the last few weeks, there suddenly has arisen the threat of another Korea which even could turn into an international holocaust. The Communists have exploited the fear of such a situation to split the western allies. And there no longer is any help to be expected from a United Nations whose new members are far more concerned with their own petty power squabbles than whether or not another Communist slave state develops.

The background of the trouble in Laos is confused with local politics, Red pressures, hunger, disease, the jungle and the past. Probably the majority of the two million Laotians don't much care whether Russia or the United States dominates the world. Most of them may not care who rules Laos. But there are strong forces at work who do care and so far the Communist angles have been the most successful.

Prince Phouma, a neutralist who took over the government in August, finally fled to Cambodia when his ethereal ideas didn't bring peace. But before he left, he invited the Soviet Union to fly in petroleum supplies to help out the siege of Vientiane. Russia still is conducting an airlift into Laos but the supplies now are arms and ammunition for the Communist Pathet Lao troops and those of Capt. Kong Le whose political affiliations are in shadow. Kong Le now is fighting on the side of Quinim Pholsena whom the Communists happily recognize as the representative of the Royal Laotian government since he was a minister in the cabinet of Prince Phouma.

If the United States stays firm in its backing of Prince Boun Oum's Western-oriented government, it is likely that Russia will not push the matter. But the actions of Red China and North Viet Nam are something else again. How much of the Chinese talk of "concern" is bluff and how much is real we do not know. The dissension between the United States and Britain and France over Laos has certainly encouraged the Reds. Britain and France, with their colonial experience, have rightly recognized that there is little real political difference among the various aspirants for local control in Laos. What they do not seem to have seen is that Red triumph here endangers the whole peninsula of South Viet Nam, Cambodia and Thailand. Uncommitted, neutralist Burma probably would capitulate next. It may be that fear of another Korea or an even more extensive war rather than ignorance prompts the British and French hesitation. If so, it is the quickest way to defeat.

The problem for the United States now is whether or not we care to become so involved in such trouble that we virtually must "go it alone" to save the world from Communism. Retreat here means defeat. But the risk of a limited war is great; that of total war is possible. With the failure of the United Nations to live up to even a small percentage of its potentials, what will be our attitude in the future? If we must stand alone, would it be better to return to the dreams of isolationism?

In our opinion we are far too committed around the world for such retreat. SEATO troops should be sent to Laos if there really is an invasion from North Viet Nam; a charge that has yet to be proven. We should do everything within our power to convince our allies that a world war has existed almost since the end of the last one and that every lost battle means a harder one to win the next time.

This is a hard philosophy, particularly to maintain in a distant kingdom remote from the headquarters of freedom and slavery. But it is true, and failure to see it for what it is will mean catastrophe beyond our wildest nightmares.

Why Students Fail

There has been much emphasis on the difficulties of getting into college because of the growing number of students applying and the simple matter of more youngsters in the 18-21 age bracket. Now some educators are becoming concerned about the high rate of drop-outs in the first two years of college and the many students who appear to have intellectual ability but who flounder and fail when they go to college. A study of statistics indicates that many of the drop-outs are girls who decide on marriage and that many of the men go into the armed services.

It would appear that a college-age student who doesn't have the preparation or the self-discipline to meet the ever tougher requirements of college and university studies should not be a direct concern of educators. But there is the problem of using our national talent potential because of the world-wide struggle with communism. And there is the responsibility of all schools, at varying levels and degrees, to do the job for which they are getting a good share of public funds by helping the student develop his own potential.

In the past, the elementary and secondary schools have been partly to blame for the poor college showings because of lack of emphasis upon college preparatory courses, too much reliance upon adjustment, and not enough tough requirements for the academically qualified students. This attitude has been changing drastically over the last few years. Educators in secondary schools protest about the pressures put upon them by the colleges, but the standards must be met whether they are from business, agriculture or university.

Many guidance leaders now are arguing that failures result from the poor adjustment of the new college student to the freedom of college life. But actually most of these students have had all kinds of freedom during their high school years. The element that has been lacking is responsibility and a gradual facing up to the very real fact of life that one must eventually accept the results of his own actions. Tossing a youngster onto the university campus with the belief that his laxness will be excused, that his aberrations will be smiled upon, that somehow everything will turn out all right is no kindness. And this is by far a home responsibility rather than that of the schools.

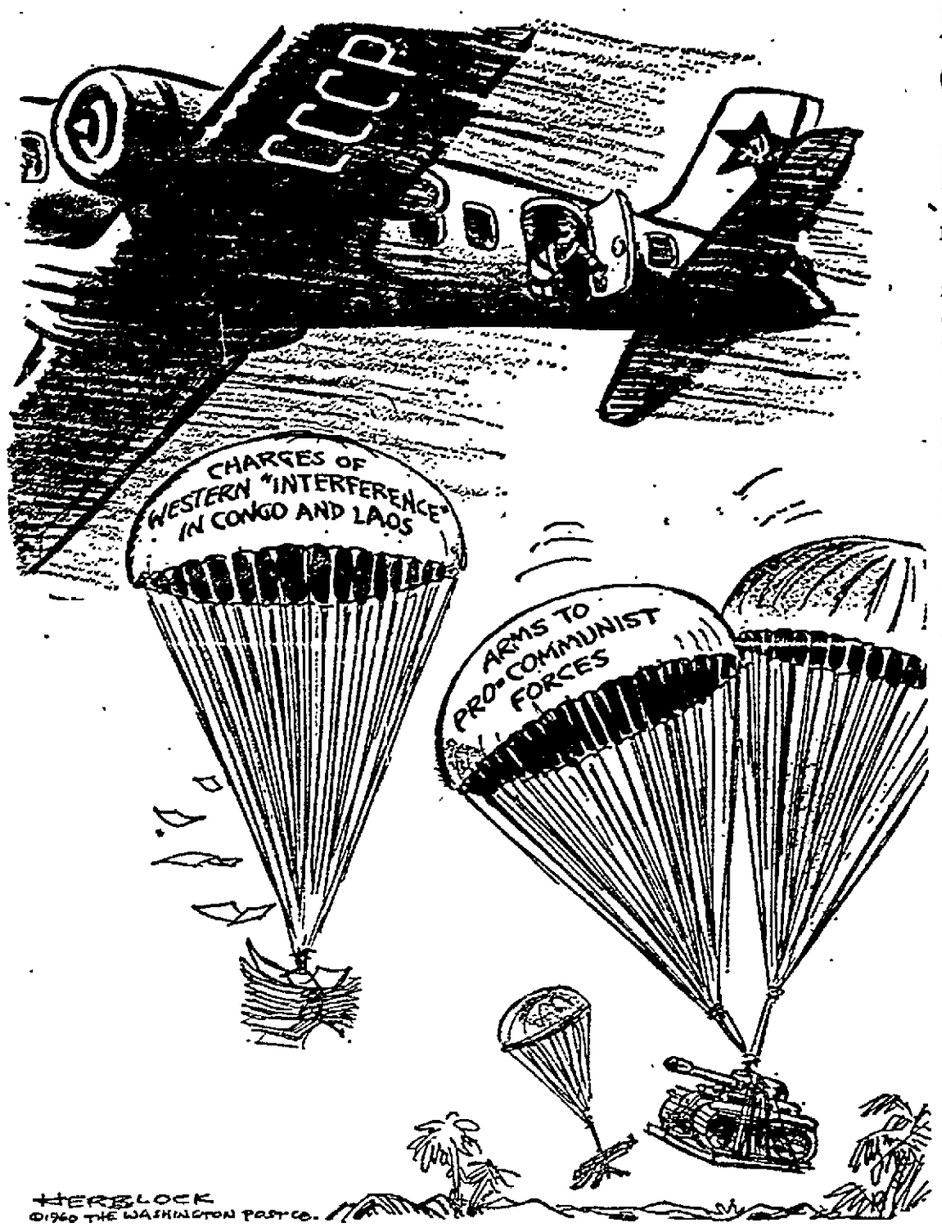

Some colleges have established rehabilitation centers to get failing students back on the track and make them aware of their own responsibilities in the matter of higher education as well as conduct. But this preparation should have been done in the years preceding college entrance, academically in the schools, emotionally at home. Parents should be increasingly aware that the colleges in the next few years will have neither funds nor time to spend on the undisciplined, indifferent student. There are too many others who can make the grade on their own.

One More Thing in Common

Our regional pride was pricked, but it is not without a certain amount of smugness that we Badger football fans move over to make room for Minnesota supporters in that quite exclusive club of Big Ten fans whose team didn't win in the Rose Bowl.

Wisconsin football fans had a hard row in 1960. The Badgers weren't supposed to show much and didn't, Marquette dropped the sport entirely, we rode high for a while with the Packers until the Eagles swept down out of the Philadelphia sky and left our heads bloody but unbowed.

But somehow, these disappointments didn't burn quite as deeply as the knowledge that only Wisconsin couldn't beat those West Coast teams. And it's not a dog in the manger attitude with which we welcome Minnesota to the fold, either. The only thing doggy about that last couple of games at Pasadena was a Huskie team that made mush of Midwest pride.

Reds Emphasize Subterfuge, Senator Tells Conference

From The Brooklyn Tablet

PARIS, France — in a speech before the International Conference on Soviet Political Warfare, in Paris, Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, (D. Conn.) warned that in recent years "the Kremlin has been placing an increasing emphasis on subterfuge and subterranean operations." He said that the Communist conspiracy for this reason had become much more difficult to combat.

* * *

"We have been losing the cold war partly because we have failed to understand its total character, partly because we have been amateurs fighting against professionals. The Soviets have been winning the cold war, first because they have from the beginning accepted it as a total war, to be waged with all their resources and on every plane, and second, because they have, through their specialized training institutions, developed scores of thousands of practitioners in the art of total political warfare.

"There is nothing in our previous history and nothing in our experience as free men which might have prepared us to contend with the phenomenon of total war — a war waged by a thousand different means, a war in which the enemy conducts an integrated offensive on every plane of human activity — the economic, the political, the diplomatic, the psychological, the social, the cultural — a war conducted by stealth and subversion and Pavlovian techniques.

"How do we extricate ourselves from our defensive posture? How do we cope with Communist infiltration in government and the press, with the Communist manipulation of pressure groups, with Communist psychological warfare, with the fraudulent nationalist movements master-minded by Communism in Asia, Africa and Latin America?

"Let me close my presentation with one concrete proposal. I have said we have been losing the cold war because we have been amateurs fighting against professionals. So long as this situation persists, we shall continue to lose the cold war. To help overcome this handicap, a group of United States Congressmen — and I am proud to be a member of this group — have proposed the creation of a Freedom Academy.

"The function of the Freedom Academy would be, first, to develop systematic knowledge of all aspects of the Communist conspiracy; second, to develop a science of counteraction against Communist subversion that will see us through the perilous period ahead and ultimately pave the way for victory; and third, it would train Americans and nationals of other free countries in the science of total political warfare, as ot must be waged by free men.

"With every day's news it becomes clearer that the old methods of defense against Communism are not enough. The free world, and in particular, the great Western powers, must master the new dimensions of conflict the Soviets are employing against them and they must go over to the offensive; using all of their strength and wisdom. We must have a total mobilization of our minds and wills and spirits. If we fail, let us have no illusions about the penalty — for ourselves and four our children.

"The universal triumph of freedom, on the other hand, would open the way to the utmost heights for mankind as a whole."

Urban Agency Would Face Many Problems

From The Florida Times-Union

Never has the word urban been more in the news than it has in recent years, and cognizance is taken of that fact by President-elect Kennedy's announcement that he will initiate legislation designed to create a new cabinet department which will give aid to cities in solving their problems.

'Urbs" is the word Romans used to describe their population centers, and just as today, they, too, had their problems. For instance, when small farmers were displaced from their lands by returning conquering generals, they flocked to Rome, bringing with them a condition of unemployment which Caesar tried to eliminate with his famous "bread and circus" program.

The Greek word for cities happened to be "polis," and it too is interesting because the problems of urban centers are those of metropolitan areas. Every Athenian took a pride in ihs "polis." He considered it far more a privilege to belong to such a political unit than we do today.

That's a thought which ought to be pondered in connection with the possible creation of a department of urban affairs. Take for example the people right here in Duval County who are willing to allow themselves to be identified with the City of Jacksonville but who are unwilling to share the responsibilities. They live in the suburbs and enjoy many of the benefits of city dwellers but fight the idea of annexation.

That is something a member of a "polis" would never have done; yet in our own time cities like Philadelphia are having to impose a municipal income tax on the hordes of people who journey into that urban center and retreat to the suburbs at night after a day's work. Jacksonville is up against a similar problem.

There is much to be said for Kennedy's idea of a department of urban affairs, but the proposal also suggests caveats. Would this new cabinet department set up a liaison between cities and the federal government which would aggravate the already existing practice of feeding at the trough of the central government? Would it encourage people to abandon their pride as members of a "polis" for the Washington "bread and circuses," which under some Democratic regimes have taken the shape of government hand-outs to local communities which don't want to shoulder their own burdens?

Indeed, which is the greater problem, the power-mad central authority which wants more and more control over our lives, or the suburbanites who want to be urbanites without paying for the privilege?

Looking Backward

River Route Important to Area

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of Jan. 5. 1861.

Every increase of business on the river enables our boatmen and forwarders to do business more cheaply. Any merchant or farmer can, on our Fox and Wisconsin River Improvement, do that which is now done by the merchants and farmers on the Erie Canal, namely, build, own and run their own barges to carry their own and their neighbors' wheat.

The great business on the Erie Canal this year proves that no railroad can supply the place of water transportation. Both should receive decided support and encouragement from all portions of our state because both tend to the general prosperity.

The peculiar advantage of this part of Wisconsin is that it has the benefit of both these means of transportation, which in time are both to be fully employed by the producers of our fertile soil and the manufacturers of our unequalled water power.

Continuance of the existing work relief program throughout 1936 was predicted by authoritative sources as friends and critics alike awaited to see what President Roosevelt would propose in his annual message to congress.

"Tommy" Touhy, long sought as the leader and most dangerous member of the "terrible Touhy" gang, was seized in a Chicago west side apartment. His capture was announced by Lt. Thomas Kelly of the state's attorney's police.

A total of 384 students were enrolled in the 1936 senior class class of Appleton High School, the largest class in the history of the school, according to H. H. Helble, principal.

With 34 firms reporting, Appleton industrial employment increased .5 per cent from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, raising the employment level to 99.1 per cent of the 1925-27 average, according to the November labor report of the Wisconsin Industrial Commission.

The construction of the overhead at the Soo Line tracks, north of Neenah on Highway 125 began that day. It was to be 339 feet in length.

Red Chinese hordes seized abandoned, burned-out Seoul and smashed across the frozen Han river to battle retreating allied forces west of the abandoned capital.

President Truman said across-the-board price and wage controls are going to be put on wherever necessary and possible, as soon as it can be done.

Appleton's two new aldermen were elected by the council, sworn in and seated Wednesday evening. They were William F. Ertl of the 19th Ward and Louis W. Steffen of the 20th Ward.

Miss Myrtle Van Ryzin was installed as noble grand of the Deborah Rebekah Lodge.

Earl D. Miller was to be installed as grand vice chancellor of the grand Pythian lodge at Ashland.

Cost-of-living raises of $15, effective Jan. 1, were granted to teachers, administrators and all other employes of the public school system when the Appleton Board of Education met.

Under the Capitol Dome

Governor Can Offer Few Political Rewards

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Developments a few miles distant in the state of Illinois, where a new Democratic governor is being installed and is choosing his cabinet of high ranking statehouse administrative officers, provide a useful contrast with the Wisconsin state capitol political system.

Wyngaard

The new Illinois governor has chosen a Farmers Union official to be his agricultural director, and a professional labor union officer to head the state department of labor.

A leading member of the Democratic party machine has been chosen as director of the conservation department, and other major appointments similarly are being distributed to identified, demonstrated and productive partisans of the party that has been given the rule of the capitol by the state electorate.

* * *

BUT HERE

What would be the reaction in Wisconsin if Democratic Gov. Nelson should install a labor union chief as head of the state industrial commission, a chairman of the Democratic party committee in Milwaukee as state conservative director, or a Farmers Union president as the principal officer of the state department of agriculture?

It has been at least 30 years since the party affiliations of the conservation director were on the record. If anybody knows today what party Conservation Director Lester P. Voigt or Agricultural Director Donald C. McDowell favors or supports in the elections, they haven't told any Wisconsin political reporter.

It also is difficult to visualize here the selection for principal state offices of men who represent the economic pressure groups directly involved — such as labor organizations.

Gov. Nelson is entering his second term of office and he probably owes as much to the unions here as Gov. Kerner does in Illinois. But his only important patronage to a labor chieftain thus far has been a seat on the University of Wisconsin board of regents, where the power is more nominal than real, under prevailing circumstances.

Wisconsin rules on these matters are different from most other states, including virtually all of those immediately adjoining, and it is fairly clear that those rules are firmly anchored on traditions and public taste.

* * *

WISCONSIN IDEA

There is here a tradition of more neutral administration of the basic service agencies. A governor who stays in power long enough can pretty well pick his own men for a majority of the chief offices. But he chooses with more care, nevertheless, and tries to avoid patronage in a glaring way, for the most part.

The greater emphasis upon multi-member commissions, with staggered tenure, the requirement for senate confirmation of all gubernatorial nominations of any consequence, and, perhaps, a habit of closer public appraisal of state affairs have produced a sharply different system in Wisconsin state government staffing. In the minor ranks, of course, Wisconsin has a tradition of civil service administration that is one of the most rigorous in the country.

All of this is not to say that the limitations on the executive's choice here are necessarily wise and good. A good case can be made, in the abstract, for the idea that when the people choose a governor they must intend to give him some power to rearrange the housekeeping.

But it is reasonably clear that the Wisconsin political leadership, in both parties, is satisfied that the present arrangements are preferred by the electorate. It will be a long time before a new governor of Wisconsin has the patronage perquisites of his confreres in other state capitols.

Believe Castro Sought Open Break With U. S.

Evidence Indicates He'll Use Move As Peg for New Agitation Elsewhere

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

There is evidence that Fidel Castro deliberately sought to make the United States break relations with Cuba, and that his provocations in this respect grew out of fear and desperation.

The Castro revolution is in trouble. It is doubtful whether the Communist bloc possesses the means and the ability to keep the Cuban regime above water.

Castro seems to fear that other Latin American governments, no longer able to abide interference in their affairs, are themselves about to call it quits with him. Castro and his Communist advisers want to be able to say that the United States has forced those other governments to break relations, that this proves U.S. "imperialist" maneuvers and bad intentions toward Cuba. He wants to use the forthcoming breaks in relations as pegs for new agitation against existing governments elsewhere in the Western Hemisphere.

Not Just Speculation

This is not just speculation. The Fidelistas have learned from the Communists the technique of accusing an enemy of what one plans oneself. A few weeks ago the Castro newspaper Revolucion told its readers that the United States was planning a new offensive against Cuba and was "putting pressure on puppet governments of the continent to put it into effect."

It added: "The four points of this plan are as follows: A collective break of diplomatic relations with Cuba; an economic embargo; establishment of an inter-American police force and the creation of a committee to study the political situation in Latin-American nations."

Popular Unrest

The Communist bloc is anxious for additional excuses to stir up popular unrest against existing Latin American governments and is intent upon using Cuba to full advantage while the opportunity still exists to do so. Castro has become the creature of the Communist bloc because he has made his revolutionary government almost totally dependent upon Red nations for economic support. He is now theirs to command.

But Castro has many troubles, including rising labor discontent, the beginnings of organized resistance and the flight of educated people from Cuba. The break in U.S. relations will slow this flight.

Youth Fined for Stealing Beer

NEW LONDON — Robert A. Swanson, 18, 611 W. Spring St., was fined a total of $68.50 by Police Justice of the Peace Paul Plowman on charges of theft and furnishing beer to minors.

Swanson, who was implicated in the theft of five cases of beer and two bottles of whiskey, pleaded guilty to both counts. He was ordered to pay a fine of $25 on each count.

Richard A. Collins, 18, route 3, New London, was fined $20 for transporting and drinking beer in a moving vehicle and $15 for having beer in a car with minors after he pleaded guilty to both counts before Justice Plowman.

A third charge of littering the highway from a vehicle against Collins was dismissed by the court. Both were involved in the beer episode.

Two minor boys also involved are being referred to the juvenile division of the County Welfare Department.

To Your Good Health

Sound Heredity Important Factor in Family Circles

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

A reader writes, "My father had glaucoma. Four of his children had glaucoma, three cataracts. And the youngest will probably have eye trouble when older.

Dr. Molner

"Science works wonders, but is not above preferring sound material to start with. You writers should advise the human race to emphasize sound heredity."

Well, whack my fingers if I didn't think I had mentioned this very thing on a number of occasions. If memory serves me right, I've even mentioned it in regard to eyesight, although not in regard to glaucoma. The idea, however, is the same.

Certainly sound heredity is necessary to bring out the best in the human race. I might add, at this point, that sound heredity doesn't necessarily mean having parents (and grandparents and prior ancestors) who happen to have the most money, or fame, or popularity. It depends on having ancestors who possess the most soundness—of wind, limb, mind and heart.

Long-Term Basis

Nature seems to have a way of distributing things. Nature doesn't work on a short - term basis, but on a long one. Occasionally a genius in business has a son who can follow in his footsteps. Sometimes a famous writer or composer or artist or scientist has a child gifted in the same way—Dumas, Bach (a family that was noted in its musical field for two centuries), Curie, and many others. It seems to me that three generations of the Ford family are a pretty good modern example of three generations of fine citizens.

Certainly heredity is important. Good heredity develops the best in people; poor heredity lets the worst appear.

Still, heredity is not precisely predictable. A genius does not automatically beget a genius for a son. Our geniuses come, often enough, from humble—but sound—parents.

Now let's see how this affects health matters. Healthy parents, as a general rule, have healthy children. Yes, there are unpredictable exceptions—like Mongoloid babies, for which we have found no explanation.

Inherited Tendencies

On the other hand, some types of physical flaws are inherited—or at any rate, a tendency toward some of them is likely to be inherited.

Diabetes is an example which I've mentioned often before. If one parent has it, there is some risk that the children may, too. If both parents have it, the risk to their children is very high indeed. And if neither parent has it, but somewhere in the family tree there has been diabetes, there is some risk of the children having it, but it is far smaller.

Thus it's obvious there's one important thing we can do. That is to avoid the marriage of couples when some dangerous heredity factor is present on both sides.

There are, here and there, some centers studying this very thing. Many times they can give a shrewd forecast which will avoid burdening a child with weaknesses coming from both sides at once.

You can't legislate love, of course. People still fall in love unwisely. But as we begin to recognize the facts, we can minimize the dangers for our children-to-be.

Alvin Fulcer Reviews 1960, Looks to '61

Kimberly Officials Eliminate Office Of Police Justice

KIMBERLY — President Alvin Fulcer reviewed village progress during 1960 and forecast continued growth in 1961 at the initial meeting of 1961 for the Village Board.

Fulcer praised village trustees for their close adherence to the original budget which enabled Kimberly to finish the year with a $12,000 surplus. He thanked them for cooperation and efforts to help meet the demands of taxpayers and asked for the continuation of these efforts for the coming year.

The village president pointed to the major street improvement program carried out during the year, although not originally planned, and told trustees the demands on the village would continue to grow with the community.

Eliminate Justice

Trustees voted to repeal the village ordinance which created the office of police justice as the former justice resigned effective Jan. 1. Hereafter cases will be handled in municipal court or by justices from surrounding communities.

The board adopted an ordinance to annex 25 acres in the Town of Buchanan, the land purchased recently by the school board as a site for the contemplated high school. It is situated immediately south of the community.

Applications to open two new taverns in the village were held open pending a ruling of the village attorney as board members felt the premises for which the licenses were asked may be too near schools. With the increase of population, two new tavern licenses became available in the village.

Board members voted to purchase a sand spreader at a cost of $2,782, renewed compensation insurance at a cost of $1,600 and authorized a firm to audit the books.

Alarmed by Rise In Monkey Bites

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The sign reads: "Sale! Squirrel monkeys, $9.95."

Many Los Angeles residents, charmed by the tiny, bright-eyed monkeys—and a sudden one-third drop in their price—have bought the animals and taken them home.

The results:

Hundreds of monkeys have sickened quickly and died.

Health authorities are alarmed at the soaring number of reported monkey bites and zoo and animal regulation officials are alarmed at the high mortality among the animals.

One of the causes for alarm: The monkeys are being flown in from South America, many from areas where rabid bats abound. How can the bitten owners be sure their pet doesn't have rabies?

"They can't," said city health officer George M. Uhl. "If a monkey bites a person and then dies, we must make tests of the animal's head to make sure it wasn't rabid."

In the past three months the health department has processed 30 dead monkeys, as compared to five in all of 1959.

Holy Name Society To Hear Address by District Attorney

LITTLE CHUTE — Robert Houtnik, Two Rivers, district attorney of Manitowoc County, will address the Senior Holy Name Society Sunday at a breakfast-meeting following the 7:30 a.m. mass at St. John Catholic Church.

Members will meet in the grade school social room prior to the mass and march to church in a body.

Emblem Ceremony Set For Meeting of BPW

KAUKAUNA — An "Emblem Ceremony" will highlight a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club at 6:30 p.m. Monday in Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church.

Miss Blanche Gerend and Miss Beatrice Nettekoven are co-chairmen for the program assisted by Dr. Ella Karow and Mrs. Dorothy Black.

Building Costs During Month Total $258,000

KAUKAUNA — Building costs during December amounted to $258,000 due mainly to a permit for a $240,000 recovery boiler building which was issued the Thilmany Pulp and Paper Company on the last day of the year, according to the monthly report.

Other building permits issued included one for a new home to cost $16,000 and one permit for remodeling a home at a cost of $2,000.

Lothar Kemp, building inspector, issued a total of 20 permits which brought in $121.67. Other permits issued included seven gas, one sign, two excavating, three drainlaying and four plumbing.

Hospital Fund Drive Is Over $221,000 Mark

General Chairman Asks Support in Hitting $225,000

KAUKAUNA — In a letter to persons serving on the fund raising committee for the Kaukauna Community Hospital addition, E. H. Jennings, general chairman, reported $221,670 had been collected, just $3,300 short of the $225,000 goal.

Jennings expressed his pleasure at the effort and praised committee members for making this a really "happy new year" for the community as the hospital campaign mission has practically been accomplished.

Continue Efforts

Current objectives, continued Jennings, are to continue efforts to meet the established goal. Originally $75,000 of hospital reserves was earmarked to help meet the expansion needs, but if the total is oversubscribed, the committee can reduce the total required from hospital funds thus keeping it on a healthy financial basis.

The new total was increased with the aid of 11 new pledges received. The committee report indicates 206 industries, organizations, businesses and individuals have made donations or pledges to the hospital for the new wing. Slogan for the effort is "Campaign Of Gratitude To Fill A New Need."

3.4 Per Cent of Taxes Collected By Village Treasurer

KIMBERLY — Slightly over $15,000 or 3.4 per cent of the total taxes to be collected in 1961 were paid on the first day of tax collection, according to Mrs. Katherine Lochschmidt, village clerk-treasurer.

A total of $437,945 is to be collected in taxes. The rate of pay is about the same as last year when 192 were counted the first two days with total payments about $18,000. Real estate taxes were paid by 116 persons Tuesday while three paid personal property taxes.

Book Composed of Civil War Letters

MADISON (AP) — "Well, Mary," is the title of a new book comprised entirely of the letters of a Civil War soldier, written to a Wisconsin girl he later married.

The University of Wisconsin Press has published the volume which is made up of letters from John Brobst of the 25th Wisconsin Infantry to Mary Englesby of Gilmanton, Wis. They contain first-hand accounts of service at Vicksburg, with Sherman on the march to Atlanta, of scouting for food and enemy guerillas and of contempt for "the ineffective army of the Potomac."

Thief With 'Wire Way' Gets $16,000 From Box

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—A thief with a way with a wire fished $16,000 out of a night deposit box at the Community National Bank branch in suburban Union Lake Village over the weekend.

Customers who use the night deposit box place their money and checks in special bags provided by the bank. Many are provided with a key to the deposit box.

Detective-Sgt. Leo Hazen said the thief must have had a key. He rigged a wire net inside the slot. All those with keys to the box will be questioned, he said.

Winners Named in Boys Free Throw Shot Contest

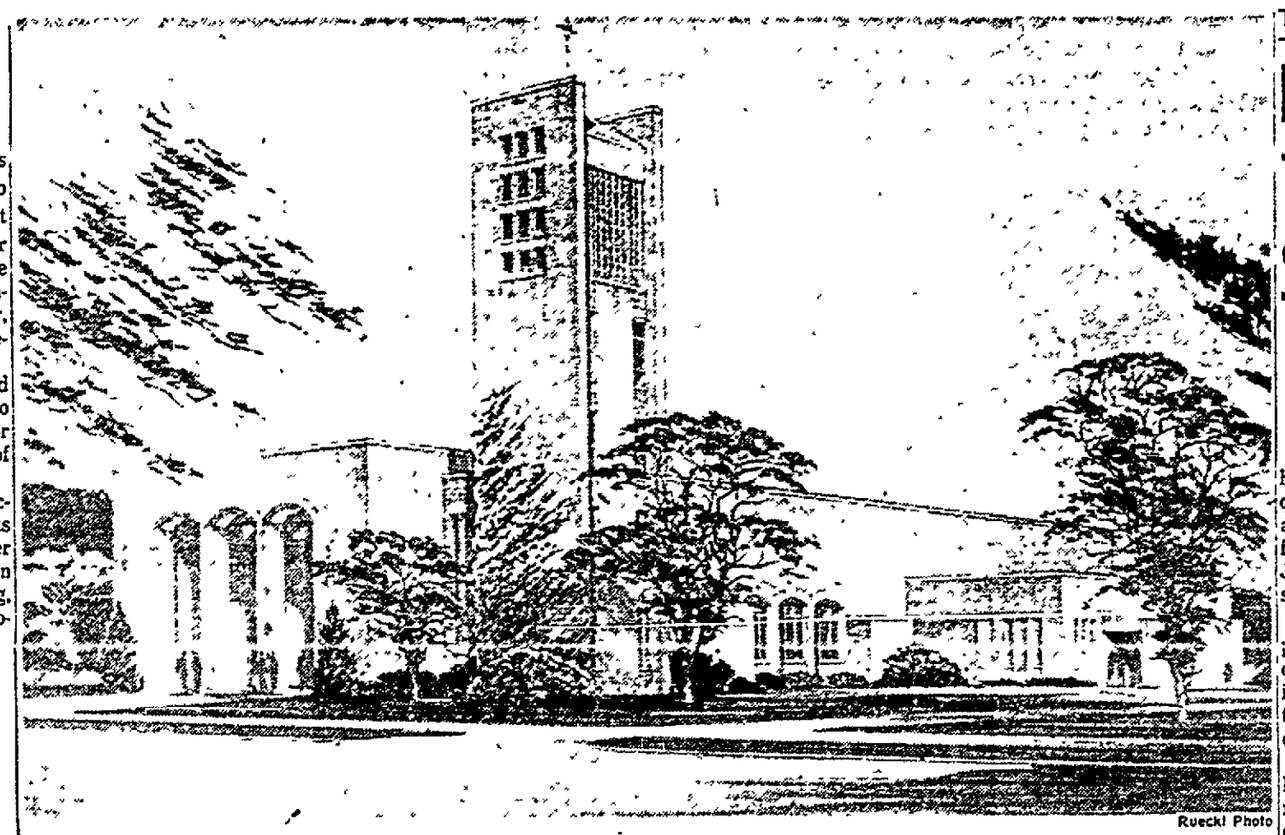

KAUKAUNA — The city-wide free throw shooting contest for boys participating in the recreation department sponsored basketball program over the holidays has been completed with winners declared in five categories.

Eliminations were held at Park and Nicolet School gyms where boys took 25 shots each. The top three from grades four, five, six, seven and eight advanced to the finals at Park School where another 25 rounds were shot to determine the top three places.

Winning the eighth grade class was Mike Andrews with 19 of 25 attempts followed by Ron Rademacher and Bob Wiegman. Seventh grade winner was Gary Riemer with 17 of 25 tries followed by Ron Sampson and Jeff Kobin. Sixth grade champ sinking 17 was Dave Keough followed by John Jansen and Lee Nummer.

Winner with 11 at the fifth grade level was Terry Kobin followed by Dick Carstens and Dennis Vanden Bloomen. Tops with 10 in the fourth grade class was Dan Rogers followed by Dave LaBorde and Mark Kobin.

Others competing were Joe Roberts, Dennis Riemer, Gary Heindel, Joe Robedeaux, Dan Heinz and Karl Keinone.

Parents Urged To Help Solve School Traffic

Superintendent Asks Student Cooperation To Remedy Situation

KAUKAUNA — Parents of city high school youngsters were requested to join with the school in an effort to solve the growing traffic problem, in an appeal from Julian Bichler, superintendent of schools.

The increase in the number of pupils using cars to drive to school daily is causing traffic and parking problems about the school at the busiest time of the day, indicated the superintendent.

The school is located on an island adjacent to Highway 55, the main route through the city, and on the opposite side is flanked by a road leading to the Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co., the leading industry in the community. Traffic problems are considerable during the noon hour and about 3:30 p.m. when class dismissal corresponds with shift changes at the mill.

Notes Studies

The superintendent reminded parents of the many studies which reveal a correlation between pupil ownership of cars and low marks in school. He also noted in communities showing a large increase in juvenile automobile registration, a rise in juvenile delinquency is noted.

The school furnishes transportation for all pupils living two miles or farther from the school as required by the state. Less than that distance is believed a reasonable walking distance.

Superintendent Bichler reported there was no objection to parents driving and picking up pupils in inclement weather. When a pupil must take a car to school, Bichler asked parents to impress upon them the importance of leaving cars parked until leaving for home and not to be "joyriding" during the noon hour.

Substantial Gains by Telephone Co. Noted

Area Manager Reports Added Facilities, New Dial System Set for Wrightstown

KAUKAUNA — Substantial 1960 gains in the number of telephones in service in Kaukauna, the Fox Villages and Wrightstown were announced today by Richard J. Kuehn, manager for the Wisconsin Telephone Company, in his year-end report for these exchanges.

An increase of 127 telephones in Kaukauna brought the total to 3,952 while increases of 181 for the Fox Villages and 25 for Wrightstown brought these totals to 3,789 and 579 respectively.

City Investment

Kuehn reported an increase of $30,000 investment in Kaukauna during 1959 to keep pace with the growing communication demands. Major portion of this was spent to expand the city central office facilities. An addition of 200 subscriber lines increased the capacity of dial facilities to 3,600.

Kaukauna telephone users continued a high rate of calling with local calls dialed amounting to 20,123 for the year. The company's total investment in the Kaukauna exchange is $799,000.

Facilities were also expanded at Little Chute, indicated Kuehn, major project being increasing the central office capacity there by 175 customers. The equipment was designed to care for expected growth over the next 15 months. The company investment in the village totals $355,000, stated Kuehn.

Wrightstown Change

Starting Sunday the Wrightstown exchange will be added to the list of communities having 7-numeral telephone numbers. This new feature is part of a major project bringing a new dial phone system to Wrightstown. The equipment necessary for this change and other projects in 1960 amounted to $46,000 Kuehn reported. This brings the total investment for telephone facilities in this community to $754,000.

Dialing will go into effect at 7 a.m. Total cost of the 7-numeral project is set at $33,000. Final preparations and tests will continue up to the hour of changeover to insure satisfactory operation. The 7-numeral idea is being introduced gradually throughout the state. Eventually it will be universal throughout the United States.

Calling Methods

Related to equipment changeover and new telephone numbers, Kuehn reviewed the calling methods. On local calls between Wrightstown numbers, the customer is to dial the prefix 532 and four numerals of the desired number.

Within the community it will be possible to reach the new numbers by merely dialing the last five numerals such as 2-4124 if the desired number happens to be 432-4124. On long distance calls, Wrightstown customers must give the operator all seven numerals.

Calls from Wrightstown to Kaukauna and DePere can be made by dialing the two letters of the office name such as "ROckwell or EDison," plus the five numerals of the desired telephone numbers, stated Kuehn. This policy will also take effect Sunday. Calls from Kaukauna or DePere to Wrightstown will be made by using all seven numerals.

No long distance charges are made between these communities. The new Wrightstown directory, containing changed numbers, has been distributed. Persons desiring a copy may dial the operator and ask for the business office. Kuehn emphasized, present numbers must be used until the changeover time Sunday.

6 Hobby Club Contest Winners Announced

Five young readers in the Fox Cities are winners of skull puzzles for the five most neatly prepared entries in the Hobby Club arithmetic puzzle published Dec. 21 in the Appleton Post-Crescent.

They are Kathy Forster, 8, 712 E. Brewster St., Stephen Pennell, 8, 706 E. Eldorado St., and Ida Ann Gebheim, 10, 907 E. Lindbergh St., all of Appleton; Christine Budweiser, Airport Road, Menasha, and Sally Stuyvenberg, 8, route 3, Kaukauna.

An additional winner of a puzzle for his entry in the wooden soldier contest of Dec. 14 is David Woldt, 9, 1612 E. John St., Appleton.

The prizes will be delivered by mail to these winners within the next three weeks.

4.5 Per Cent Of Taxes Paid

Treasurer Reports Payments Slightly Above 1960 Rate

KAUKAUNA — Tax payments thus far this year, including the last day of 1960 amount to $41,299.25 including real estate and personal property taxes or about 4.5 per cent of the total $915,319 to be collected, according to Miss Ruth Wolf, city treasurer.

The amount collected is slightly higher than a comparable period in 1960 although the percentage is about the same. The total persons paying is also slightly ahead of last year's rate.

Miss Wolf reported 82 paying real estate taxes on the last day of 1960 and increased the total to 313 on the first date this year while 11 paid personal property taxes on the last day of 1960 and 18 have paid through Tuesday. The treasurer has collected $40,242.72 in real estate taxes and $1,056.53 in personal property taxes.

Boys Cage Loop Leaders Named

KAUKAUNA — The Tigers and Beavers chalked up wins in the Park Grade Boys Basketball League to remain tied with 2-0 records.

The Rams and Bears have 1-1 records while the Bulldogs and Trojans have dropped their first two starts. Games this Saturday will have the Beavers playing the Trojans at 1 p.m., Bulldogs versus Bears at 2 p.m. and Rams versus Tigers at 3 p.m. Leading scorers to date are Joe Pieters with 28 points, Jim Vandenberg with 16 and Mike Hooyman and Pat Kavanaugh with 14.

KVS Instructor Will Give Clothing Tips To Homemakers Club

KAUKAUNA — Mrs. Leo Driessen, instructor at Kaukauna Vocational School, will present "Tips on Clothes Remodeling," at a meeting of the Afternoon Homemakers at 1 p.m. Friday at the Vocational School.

Mrs. William Parman will serve as program chairman. Mrs. Stanley Lizon heads the social committee assisted by Mrs. Ervin Weber, Mrs. Ernest Lettau, Mrs. Mike Miller, Mrs. Frank Pechman, Mrs. Anton Berkers, Mrs. Herman Dolven and Mrs. Jerome Van Dinter.

Ex-Stripper Fails In Attempt to Remove Divorce

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former burlesque stripper Ann Corio failed Wednesday to have her 1953 divorce from comedian Bob Williams set aside.

Superior Court Judge Arthur Crum ruled that the brunette came into court with "unclean hands" because, he said, she lied during the original divorce suit. The judge also said she failed to make her claim within a reasonable time.

Miss Corio, now an actress, wanted the decree set aside because, she said, Williams told her he merely wanted the divorce to help him in his career.

Guantanamo Is Free-World Barrier To Advance of Militant Communism

Naval Base Still Vulnerable To Cuban Workers; Stays Vigilant

BY EVERETT S. ALLEN

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—Ninety miles more or less from the United States is the island of Cuba; upon it is the United States naval base of Guantanamo and thus Cuba has become the front line of the "cold war." Militant international Communism has come this close.

Within the area of Cuba, the Soviets can install a submarine base of their own, set up launching pads for missiles, and establish electronic stations that can interfere with America's vitally important Cape Canaveral missile station.

This American naval base, an outpost in the fortress of freedom, is ironically vulnerable each day to espionage, sabotage or worse, for its gates are open to thousands of Cuban nationals who come here to work.

Castro has pledged himself to get the Americans out. The President of the United States has said the Americans will stay.

Free-World Barrier

Like Berlin, Formosa and Korea, Guantanamo symbolizes a free-world barrier beyond which international Communism may not advance. It is the first such "line" drawn in this hemisphere.

Approaching Guantanamo by air, its strategic importance is immediately obvious.

A perfect jewel of red cliffs and purple hills in a pale-green sea, its broad bay is one of the world's deep-water anchorages, capable of accommodating 50 major U.S. war vessels at one time. It is of great importance for fleet support and training, and for protection of the Panama Canal approaches.

This is the first of a series by Everett S. Allen, of the New Bedford, Mass., Standard-Times, who has just returned from a trip to the United States naval base at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba.

A major link in the Caribbean defenses, it strongly implements the Monroe Doctrine, already challenged by the Soviet Union.

Looks Peaceful

This $100 million, 45-square-mile fort looks tropical and peaceful. Upon its 19,000 acres, life is calm and orderly among its 1,400 buildings, vital radar stations, piers, repair depots, fuel storage depots. There are two big air strips, one for jets. Here live 2,500 American officers and enlisted men and 2,500 wives and children.

There is radio and television: there are bowling alleys, movies, restaurants, a library—everything you might find in a small city. There are schools and recreational facilities for the 1,100 children. Their mothers shop at a supermarket. A white ice cream truck sounds a merry bell. Little league players and rooters cheer on their teams.

But there are no more Sunday drives outside the fort. And Cuba, once a paradise for bachelors, is now forbidden territory.

Beneath the surface there is vigilance. There is daily frisking of 3,600 Cuban workers as they leave the fort by a land gate, or by ferry. This has gone on ever since attempts were made to smuggle out arms and ammunition for Castro. Cuban automobiles are searched from engine to trunk.

Barbed Wire Road

Some 24 miles of 7-foot chain link fence surrounds the fort, known as "Gitmo" to navy men. Along a narrow road through a pass leading to the fort is barbed wire—ready for a barrier.

Look closely and you will see a timbered slot in a brush-covered hillside. It is a Marine gun emplacement.

At the foot of the hill reaching inland from the fort there are green vegetation and faded scrub trees and barren areas. And friging this area are red signs.

The signs say: "Peligro (danger) Mines."

The United States pays $3,386.25 rental yearly for this stronghold which it also pays $10 million yearly to maintain. The rental fee was set low by a once-grateful Cuba after the United States helped their country to independence.

Rent Not Taken

Payment of the rent was not accepted by Castro last year because the "landlord" now wants the tenant to get out. However, the existing agreement can be voided only if the United States abandons the area or by mutual agreement between the two countries.

At the landward gate are two buildings marking the border between capitalism and Communism. The Cuban workers cross each day between 4:30 and 5:15 p. m.

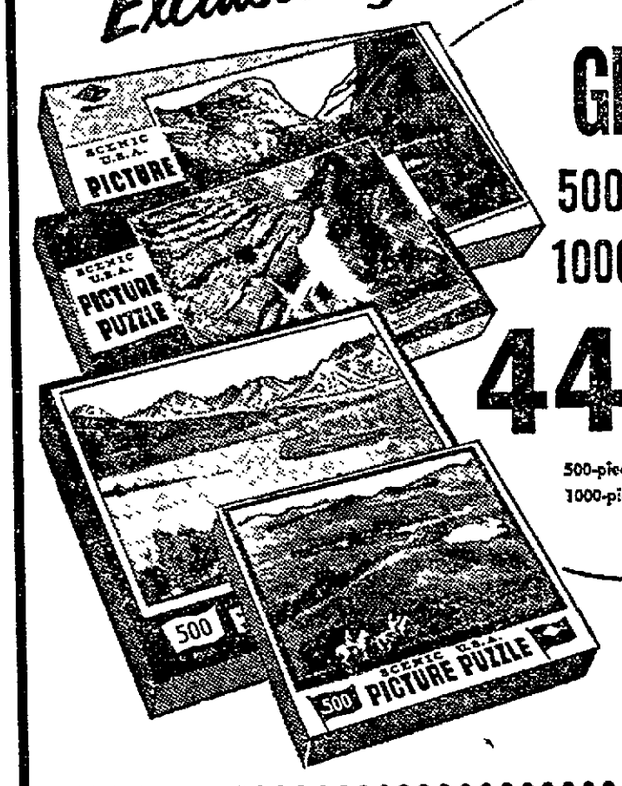

On one side is the U. S. checkpoint of freshly painted concrete, with desk, phone and clean windows.

A few yards away Cuban customs is housed in a washed-out green shack above which flies the red-starred Cuban flag. Beside it is a shanty of poles, stray boards and galvanized iron. In it are displayed for the departing workers: shrimp, farm produce and copies of "Revolucion," Castro's newspaper which features attacks upon the Americans for whom the Cuban readers have been working all day.

It is generally believed most of these workers are friendly to the United States. But no one suggests they all are.

Unbeaten Teams to Open Athletic Rivalry in Menasha High Gym

BY MIKE DREW
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The state's longest prep basketball winning streak and one that is also highly impressive will be on the line Friday night in the Menasha High gym.

Defending state Catholic Champion Menasha St. Mary has won 17 straight games, 10 last season. Appleton's Xavier Catholic High has captured seven in a row, all this campaign.

A capacity crowd is expected for their 8 p.m. meeting. St. Mary is the favorite.

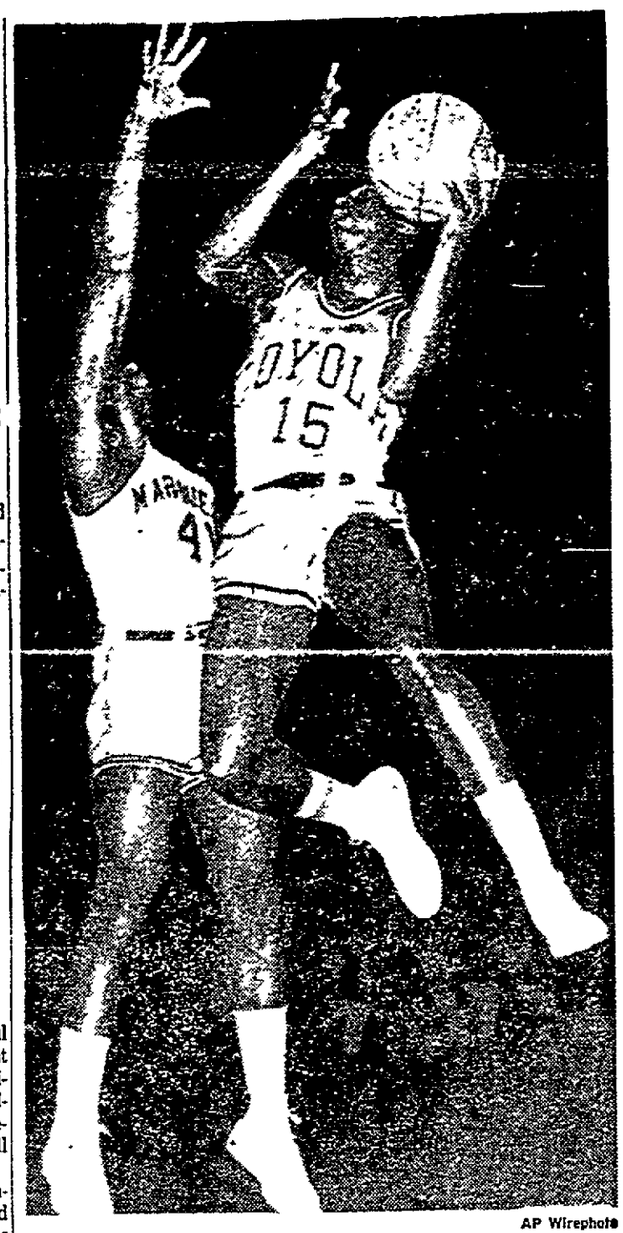

This will be the first varsity meeting between Xavier and St. Mary — who will be rivals in the Fox Valley Catholic League when Xavier enters that loop next season. Xavier has just three classes in school.

Zanzig Hurt

Xavier may be playing Friday without its No. 4 scorer, Pete Zanzig. He was hospitalized Tuesday with bruises suffered in an auto accident which severely injured another varsity player, Kelly Kornely. Zanzig could be in uniform Friday but Kornely is definitely out. He may be through for the season.

Coincidentally, a group of St. Mary players — including Adrian Martin, Dave Eckholm and "Zeke" Young — were also involved in an auto accident Tuesday. None were hurt seriously, al-

Lawrence College's basketball team, in the unfamiliar role of custodian of a winning streak, left this morning for its most important road trip of the season.

The co-fifth place Vikes, who are only one game from the top of the Midwest Conference ladder, will make a 2-day stand in Northfield, Minn., where no Lawrence cagers have won for at least five years.

Friday night, the Vikes take on co-leading St. Olaf. Saturday afternoon, the Don Boya-coached invaders move over to the Carleton court for a joust with the co-fifth place Knights.

Viking chances for a high finish in 1960-61 could well depend on what happens in these two demanding road assignments. Thus far, Lawrence is even in foreign-court play—having beaten Knox and having lost to Monmouth.

Northfield will be the focal point of MC weekend action, since surprising (co-third place) Ripon will be facing the same set of foes as Lawrence. Cornell, which shares the lead with St. Olaf, will play host to Knox and Monmouth.

NL Expansion Program Goes To Committee

Mail Vote Decides Whether to Allow '61 Working Agreements

NEW YORK (AP)—The National League, following the "sane and orderly" route to expansion prescribed by Commissioner Ford Frick, has set up a committee to study means of securing players for Houston and New York, the clubs to be added in 1962.

At the same time, major league club owners will decide, in a mail vote, whether to allow the newcomers to enter into working agreements with minor league clubs this season to develop players.

The five-man committee composed of general managers is to make a report to the National League at its mid-summer meeting. The results of the mail vote, which would give Houston and New York a chance to sign free agents and call them up from the minors at the end of this season, should be known within two weeks or so.

That's a relatively leisurely pace compared to the American League's hurried and harried expansion program, which burst upon the scene in October and which calls for a 10-team operation when the 1961 season opens in April.

Cash for Castoffs

The two new American League clubs—Los Angeles and Washington—drew their players from a cash-for-castoffs pool at $75,000 each and in a special, and limited, minor league draft.

The pool arrangement, in which the established clubs wound up with untried youngsters, fringe players and hangers-on, is something the National League would like to avoid.

"We'll provide major league players for our new clubs," said the National League president, Warren Giles, "but how they will be set aside, or how much of a cash value will be placed on them, still has to be worked out.

"We don't have to hurry into it as the American League did. We have until October to decide."

The committee that will study the problem of player procurement is comprised of John Quinn, Philadelphia; Bing Devine, St. Louis, Joe Brown, Pittsburgh; John McHale, Milwaukee, and Buzzie Basavi, Los Angeles.

NOTES and NOTIONS

John L. Paustian

Packer fans are hoping that Green Bay gets as much rookie-year value out of Herb Adderley, its latest No. 1 draftee, as it got out of Tom Moore, last year's first choice. Based on his showing in the East-West game, it appears that Adderley has a good chance of making good in the National Football League. He's a fast starter and probably speedier in the open field than anyone now on the Packer roster. Though Herb didn't get away for any long runs in the TV game, he was a constant threat. The Bays, of course, still must obtain Adderley's signature on the dotted line. But, with all the pre-game checking that was done in Philadelphia, it seems that a repetition of the ill-fated Bob Jeter and Randy Duncan cases is unlikely.

Adderley

Another Packer pick, Minnesota's Roger Hagberg, showed up to good advantage in the Rose Bowl. Running hard, the 212-pound fullback led Gopher rushers with 44 yards in 11 carries. However, it seems that Hagberg may have a little harder time making the Packer "varsity" than Adderley. His best chance might be as Jim Taylor's understudy if Larry Hickman were to be picked up by the Minnesota Vikings in the upcoming "player pool draft." Rookies' prospects in the Packers' 1961 training camp won't be bright, to say the least. Only six rookies won a place on the 38-man roster in 1960. With all NFL rosters due to be cut this year. (The exact number hasn't been fixed) there aren't going to be many openings for first-year men. Em Tunnell is the only veteran who has talked of retirement, but very few are ready to take the popular old war-horse seriously.

Tunnell

Of course, the Packers are scheduled to give up three players to Minnesota as part of the NFL stocking program—and that will help create a few jobs for rookies. There's no telling yet which Packer vets will change uniforms. Nor has it been decided just how many men will be placed on the "available" list for Minnesota's perusal. But, some of the more likely Packer names to be placed in the pool are Hickman, John Miller, Steve Meilinger or Ron Kramer, Dick Pesonen or Paul Winslow and center Ken Iman. And, it's even possible—that such players as Tom Bettis and Lamar McHan could be made "available." Since neither of these veterans saw action in the last four crucial games of '60, it's not too far-fetched to speculate that they might have been reclassified as expendable by Coach Vince Lombardi.

* * *

Judging from the success NFL clubs have had in signing top college stars in the first week since the draft, it appears the league won't be hurt by waiting six weeks longer than the AFL—and allowing collegians to finish their regular-season schedule before drafting and contacting them. NFL clubs have already signed such high choices as Tom Matte, Bob Lilly, Norman Snead and Bill Kilmer. Marlin McKeever has said he'll sign with the Rams right after the Hula Bowl game.

* * *

As a Big Ten fan, I was naturally rooting for Minnesota to win the Rose Bowl game. But, I must admit it was with a minor sense of relief that I found that some other Big 10 school besides Wisconsin could get stuck with the thorns. For, until Minnesota's "national championship" rating was tarnished, the Badgers had been the only Big 10 member to lose in the post-war Roses competition. In all fairness to the Badgers and the Gophers, it should be pointed out that the Washington teams of '60 and '61 games (featuring much the same cast both times) were undoubtedly the best to represent the Pacific Coast in the once one-sided rivalry. The Bob Schloredt-led Huskies were fast, alert, spirited and well-coached.

Schloredt

The best quip we're heard about the Cubs' new multi-coach idea came from Truman Gibson, former boxing mogul. Noting that the Cubs plan to engage "only" eight coaches, Gibson said, "They don't need a coach for the shortstop. (Ernie Banks)."

100 Quintets Nominated for State Ratings

Five Clubs From Fox Cities Area are 'Big 16' Prospects

A total of 100 high school basketball teams have been nominated for statewide "Big 16" and "Little 16" ratings which will begin next week.

The state tournament committee of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic Association announced today in Madison that the initial ratings will be issued Jan. 12. The ratings will continue weekly until the state tourney begins.

Five Fox Cities area schools are listed among the 50 nominees for "Big 16" berths. They are, in alphabetical order, Appleton, Kimberly, Menasha, Neenah and New London.

Four Fox Cities area teams have been cited among the 50 "Little 16" nominees. They are Manawa, Marion, Shiocton and Tigerton.

Generally speaking, teams representing schools with enrollments of 300 or less are in the "Little 16," and those with enrollments of more than 300 are placed in the "big 16." However, some below-300 schools have voluntarily moved into the big school class.

2 Groups Bid For Cleveland's NFL Franchise

No Negotiations Until Next Week, Paul Brown Says

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Coach Paul E. Brown said Wednesday night two groups, one made up primarily of Clevelanders, are bidding for ownership of the Cleveland Browns National Football League team.

"There won't be any negotiations until I return to Cleveland next week," said Brown who is preparing his team for the Orange Bowl runnerup game with the Detroit Lions Saturday.

Offers Before

"We have had other offers before and things haven't worked out....I honestly don't know what will happen. If there is a change in ownership, it won't mean any change in the team.

"I have eight years to run on my contract and I understand that people interested in the team will want me to remain if they should buy the Browns."

Brown himself is in the "majority stockholder" category. Largest stockholder is the Nationwide Insurance Co., and other "majority" stockholders include Ellis Ryan, Bob Gries and Dave Jones, all of Cleveland.

It was believed the Browns franchise would bring a price of $3 million or more. When Arthur McBride sold the club in 1953, the price reportedly was about $600,000.

Knight '5' Coasts Past Lakeland

SHEBOYGAN (AP) — St. Norbert jumped off to an early lead and then coasted to an 87-58 nonconference basketball victory over Lakeland Wednesday night.

The Green Knights got off to a lead of 20-5 in the first six minutes and had a 49-22 halftime advantage.

John Koprowski led St. Norbert scoring with 29 points. Wayne Permaat had 10 for Lakeland.

Kojis Leads MU '5' Past Loyola, 83-71

Totals 25 Points, 24 Rebounds In Sixth Straight Home Win

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Big Don Kojis sparked Marquette to an 83-71 basketball victory over Loyola of Chicago Wednesday night before a crowd of 5,210 at the Milwaukee Arena.

Kojis got 24 rebounds and scored 25 points in leading the Warriors to their seventh victory in 11 starts. The Warriors are undefeated in six home games.

Marquette had to stave off a second half rally by Loyola to win. The Warriors led 41-32 at the half but the Ramblers fought back to within three points, 60-57, with about 10 minutes remaining in the game.

The Warriors pulled ahead 66-59 but Loyola almost caught them and trailed 66-63 with about five minutes left. Marquette then spurted, however, and with its superior rebounding over the smaller Rambler squad, breezed down the stretch to victory.

Marquette got 57 rebounds to 38 for Loyola and hit for 31 of 63 shots from the floor for a 49.2 shooting average. Loyola was 26 for 82 for 31.7 per cent.

Rocky Colavito Signs Tiger Pact for 1961

DETROIT (AP)— Rocky Colavito, 1959 American League home run champion Wednesday signed his contract with the Tigers.

Terms of Colavito's contract were not disclosed. But it was believed the outfielder received a slight raise from his $35,000 salary of last season.

Future of Majors' Cuban Players Apparently Rests in Castro's Hands

Griffith Not Worried Although His Two Top Pitchers, Shortstops are Affected

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fate of Cuban baseball players who perform for teams in the United States apparently rests at the moment in the hands of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

Their future became questionable when the United States broke off relations with the Caribbean Republic Tuesday night.

As far as the State Department is concerned, the Cuban players will get fullest consideration from this country.

"If they are not allowed to come to the United States. It certainly will not be our fault," one department official said. "But I wouldn't venture an estimate of what Mr. Castro's attitude might be."

The official added:

"We don't know whether they will be allowed to leave or not. We do know that all the people who want to leave Cuba are not being allowed to leave."

20 Cubans

About 20 Cubans are on the rosters of American major league teams.

The man who perhaps has most to lose if Cubans are not permitted to perform on U.S. diamonds next spring is Calvin Griffith, owner of the new Minnesota Twins of the American League.

Griffith could lose his two top-flight pitchers, Camilo Pascual and Pedro Ramos, and his top shortstops, Zorro Versalles and Jose Valdivielso.

Taking leave of Griffith Stadium here, where his team performed last year, Griffith Wednesday expressed confidence he would have no trouble getting his Cuban ballplayers to return to the States in time for the next baseball season.

"All this panic could be a bit premature," Griffith said before taking a plane to Minneapolis. "I don't see why Castro wouldn't let the ballplayers out of Cuba. He has never tried to stop them before. The Cubans love baseball."

Bays' Currie Is Added to West Squad

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Linebacker Dan Currie of the Green Bay Packers has been added as a "bonus" player to the East-West Pro Bowl football squad. The game will be played here Jan. 15.

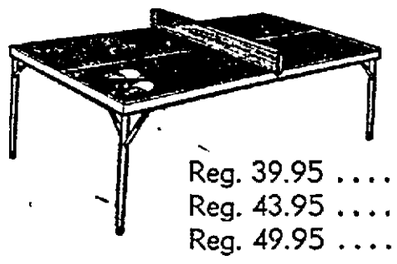

Currie, 6-3, 235 pounds, will be playing for his Packer coach, Vince Lombardi, on the West squad. This will be the ex-Michigan State star's first apearance in the pro bowl.

Offensive end Bobby Walston of the Philadelphia Eagles, was added to the East squad Wednesday. He will team up with quarterback Norman Van Brocklin of the Eagles on Coach Buck Shaw's team.

Dallas Texans Sign Michigan State End

DALLAS (AP)—Fred Arbanas, Michigan State end, has signed a contract with the Dallas Texans of the American Football League. Arbanas was Dallas' seventh draft choice.

8-game winning streak (at the expense of Cornell, Lake Forest and Elmhurst), are 5-3 for the season. St. Olaf, the only one of three pre-season MC title favorites which has stayed in character has an overall 5-2 log.

The Oles have lost to Coe (a team that also beat Lawrence) in the conference and to Lincoln, Mo., in extra-curricular competition.

Even Tougher

St. Olaf, which compiled a 9-9 conference record in 1959-60 with a predominantly - sophomore cast, has proved even tougher this season with added experience.

Karl Groth, 6-4 scoring demon, is averaging a rousing 25 points per game. Last season, when he was named to the all-MC team as a sophomore, he averaged 20.7 —third best in the league.

Backing up Groth are such other good - sized lads as 6-3 Dave Hindermann, holder of the school's rebounding record; 6-5 Ken Hokeman, who missed the last campaign because of a knee injury; and rugged Bill Winter, who goes 6-3.

One of the Oles' prize sophs is 5-10 Mark Aamot, an all stater as a prep.

Lawrence and St. Olaf, both with much the same lineups as they'll start Friday, played to a stand-off last season. The Vikes won, 64-54, here as Chuck Knocke counted 21 points. Groth was held to 13.

At Northfield, St. Olaf nipped the Vikes, 64-62, with Groth pouring in 23 points. Jim Schulze led the Lawrence effort with 22.

Narrow Margins

Carleton has a 3-2 over-all record, with four of its five games having been decided by 1-4 point margins. The Carls have a 6-foot-6 center, sophomore Jim Motzko, but he'll look small to the Vikes, who had to contend with 6-8 Ivan Grimm for the last three years.

In his final collegiate season, Grimm led the Carls to wins of 72-59 (here and 67-59 (there) over the Vikes. Lawrence's Jim Rasmussen hopes to duplicate his at-Carleton performance of 1959-60 as he meshed 25 points.

Carleton, under new coach Jack Thurnbald (a former all-MC cager in his playing days for Carleton—late '40s), boast a young team. Only two members of the 14-man varsity are seniors.

Returnee Jim Bacon (6-3) is the team's leading rebounder, while soph forward Dave Current (6-3) is the club's leading scorer in conference play, with a 12.8 average.

Coach Boya figures both foes will be potent but rates the Oles as slightly better than Carleton. Strong board play has been responsible for a lot of St. Olaf's success. Boya believes that if the Vikes can stay near the Oles in the rebounding department, they'll have a good chance to win.

Better Shape

Because of their vacation - time games against Lake Forest and Elmhurst, the Vikes are in better shape to start the post-holiday portion of their schedule than in previous years. Lawrence practiced Tuesday and Wednesday in Alexander Gym, and plans to get in a workout tonight at Northfield.

Rasmussen, Schulze, Knocke, Joe Lamers and Loren Wolf—Lawrence's solid corps of senior starters—will again face the opening tip-offs Friday and Saturday. Boya has no qualms about using Paul Lange as relief for either Schulze or Knocke because of the way the reserve guard has come along.

Marty Gradman, a good hustler and defensive player, has developed into a reliable forecourt replacement. Others who'll be called upon to spell front-liners on occasion are Jim Jordan, John Hackworthy and Pete Bylow.

Boyd Dowler to Marry California Girl Jan. 21

CHEYENNE, Wyo. —AP— Boyd Dowler, offensive halfback for the professional Green Bay Packers of the National Football League, said today he will marry Patricia Harvey of ChulVista, Calif., Jan. 21.

ACC Launches 1961 Play in Berggren Event

Play in the Appleton Curling Club's Berggren event opened Wednesday night.

Opening - match winners were rinks skipped by Dick LaBore, Bill Hart, Bob Wirth and "Dobbie" Robertson.

LaBore won, 8-5, over George Klein. Hart decisioned Ted Gilbert, 8-6. Wirth downed Cal Falk, 9-6. Robertson prevailed, 10-8, over Dan Steinberg, Jr.

First - round winners in Tuesday's Steinberg event were: Lloyd Jack (10-8 over Bill Hall), John Hayes (8-6 over Gib Relien), John Bloomer (10-8 over Bob Joyce) and Carl Nebel (12-9 over John Maring).

NFL Players' Body Extends Miller's Term

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—The National Football League Players Association Wednesday gave a solid vote of confidence to its attorney, Creighton Miller of Cleveland.

The association voted the former Notre Dame All-America player into another year as counsel during its annual post-season meeting.

Bill Howton of the Dallas Cowboys, association president, said "the success of the players' association, as evidenced by the establishment of a pension and benefit plan, has given the National Football League an added attraction to college players faced with the decision of signing with the NFL or the year-old American Football League."

Prep Football Death Toll Drops to 7

CHICAGO (AP) — The high school football death toll dropped to seven in 1960—its lowest level since 1946 when such record-keeping was started by the National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations.

Officials of the group made the fatality report Wednesday during their annual convention. The seven deaths were among 720,000 participants, an average of .97 for every 100,000 compared to an average for the last 15 years of 1.39.

Heat prostration caused one death. The others were injured in tackling, being tackled and blocking.

Foxes, won't have to change addresses despite being caught in the American Baseball League "draft" last month. Maestri's only major league pitching experience was a brief '60 stint with the old Washington Senators. That club — now the Minnesota Twins — put Maestri's name in the player pool for the benefit of the league's two new clubs. Hector was picked up by the new Washington Senators. So, Maestri is still a Washingtonian.

Sandy Valdespino, who's been a good hitter throughout his pro baseball career except for his short '59 stay with Fox Cities, led the Cuban Winter League, at last report, with a .345 average for Havana.

Ira Hutchinson, well-liked and respected developer of talent, will pilot the White Sox' Charleston club in the Class A Sally Baseball League in '61. Hutchinson was in the Three-I League for the first three years of the Foxes' membership (with Davenport and Lincoln). He also managed in the old Wisconsin State League.

Ed McGah New President of Oakland Raiders

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Ed McGah, a catcher for the Boston Red Sox in 1946-47, is the new president of the Oakland Raiders of the American Football League.

McGah, 39, an Orinda, Calif., contractor and one of the 10 original owners of the Raiders, was elected Wednesday to succeed Y. C. "Chet" Soda. Soda resigned as club president and general manager Jan. 1.

Lebeau Sets NFL Players' Golf Pace

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (AP)—Dick Lebeau of the Detroit Lions led qualifiers with a 39-38—77 over a 6,350 - yard par 70 Hollywood Course Wednesday in the National Football League Players Golf Tournament.

Second place went to Zeke Bratkowski of the Chicago Bears who had a 40-39—79. King Hill of the St. Louis Cardinals had 43-39—82.

Jim Dooley of the Chicago Bears, Yale Lary of the Detroit Lions and Kyle Rote of the New York Giants tied with 83s.

The Detroit Lions, who are working out for Saturday's game with the Cleveland Browns in the playoff bowl at Miami, sent 13 delegates to the tournament. A field of 35 participated, representing all NFL clubs except the Cleveland Browns, who were forbidden to play by Coach Paul Brown.

Howell, Ewbank Pick Starters on Defense

Senior Bowl Clubs Finish Heavy Drills For Saturday Tilt

North Coach Jim Lee Howell and South Coach Weeb Ewbank apparently had sorted through their 25-man squads and were just about ready to assign starting posts on offense and defense.

Both gave considerable attention to their defensive lineups Wednesday. Ewbank, the Baltimore Colt coach, came up with a four-man forward wall of ends Taz Anderson of Georgia Tech and John Brewer of Mississippi and tackles Billy Shaw of Georgia Tech and Mike Zeno of VPI, averaging 230 pounds.

His linebackers also averaged out at 230, including middle man E. J. Holub of Texas Tech, and Tom Goode of Mississippi State and Bo Strange of Louisiana State.

These seven gave the Rebels a distinct weight advantage over the Yankees, who will average 221 for the four forwards and 219 for the linebackers.

Howell's men up forward will be Fred Mauting of Syracuse, Roland McDole of Nebraska, Harold Beaty of Oklahoma State, and Joe Dean of Ohio University. Those tabbed for linebacking duty were Fred Hagman of Kansas, Carl Kammerer of College of Pacific, and John Murray of Toledo University.

The game will be televised nationally by NBC. Kickoff is scheduled at 2:30 p.m., CST, with about 40,000 fans expected.

Golden Holt On Cub Staff

Dodger Pitching Aide Becomes Fifth Coach for Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Golden Holt, a Los Angeles Dodger aide, has become coach No. 5 in the Chicago Cubs' planned eight-man coaching staff.

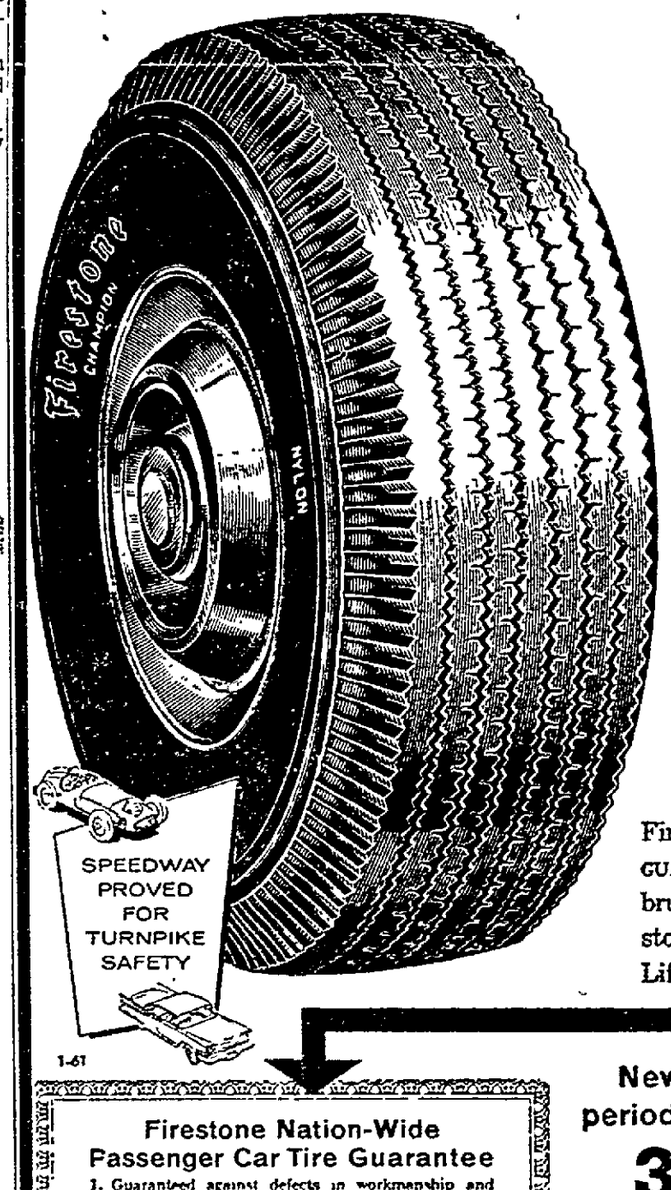

Holt, '58, has been in baseball continuously for 36 years, virtually all of the time in the minor leagues. In 1948 and 1949 he was a coach with the Pittsburgh Pirates, his only previous major league experience.

Holt played infield and outfield with Portland, Los Angeles, Kansas City and Newark from 1935 through 1945. He managed at Beaumont, Tex., Pueblo, Colo., Macon, Ga. and Spokane, Wash.

"We've been analyzing the Dodgers' pitching staff and how they seem to be continually coming up with fine young pitchers," said John Holland, a Cub vice president. "We found that Holt was responsible. We have a lot of young pitchers, too, and are confident Holt will hasten their development."

Holt joins a staff now including Elvin Tappe, Vedie Mimsl, Harry Craft and Rip Collins.

Louisville Remains Unbeaten With 70-69 Comeback Triumph

Retains Membership in 'Shaky Six' on Decision Over Eastern Kentucky Quint

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Louisville's superstitious Cardinals remain members of the Shaky Six—major college basketball's remarkably small list of unbeatens—today after the kind of a comeback that may mean Fred Sawyer's socks will go unwashed all year.

The Cardinals fashioned a whirlwind finish to win their 12th in a row, 70-69 over Eastern Kentucky Wednesday night.

Sawyer, who claims he won't change his socks or wash 'em while the Cards are winning, contributed only three points to the victory that kept fourth-ranked Louisville in the winning class along with Ohio State, Bradley, Auburn, Vanderbilt and DePaul. But high-scoring John Turner, Rubenstein and a bit of luck managed to keep the socks untouched.

Louisville survived on a heavy college basketball night that saw activity both in the bigtime conferences and on the independent front.

Wake Forest, sinking 65 per cent of its second half shots, won its fourth straight Atlantic Coast Conference game, 81-59 over Clemson as Billy Packer hit for 23 points and Len Chappell for 18. Joe Markee's 16 points and 11 rebounds led Davidson to a 54-45 Southern Conference decision over William and Mary, and Texas, with Mexico Olympian Al Almanza scoring 17, rallied to open defense of its Southwest loop crown with a 68-58 whipping of Arkansas.

Princeton Wins

Defending champion Princeton crushed Columbia 76-66 in its Ivy opener. Winless Dartmouth beat Harvard 68-61. Cornell surprised Penn 65-60 and Yale downed Brown 75-67 in other Ivy games.

Away from the conferences, Bruce Applegate's driving layup in the last second of a second overtime gave Miami of Florida (8-2) a 102-100 decision over Miami of Ohio, and Jimmy Huggard had 28 points and Hubie White 27 in Villanova's thumping of higly regarded Detroit, 81-69.

Another of the nation's top scorers, Terry Dischinger, hit for 26 as Purdue toyed with Creighton 91-72; Billy Hoy's 30 points led St. Joseph's 72-71 overtime triumph over Seton Hall; and Henry Hoskins fired 29 of his 33 points in the first half as Alabama (2-8) toppled the Southern Conference leader, Virginia Tech, 74-56.

Armand Rio's 20 points were tops for Notre Dame in a 72-56 verdict over Butler, and Army tied a school-scoring record with a 101-80 rout of Rochester. Dick Fisher hit a layup with two seconds of overtime left for Tennessee's 70-68 victory over Florida State and Mike Rice scored 31 points before being tossed out for fighting in an 87-57 Duquesne romp over Geneva (Pa.).

Xavier Meets Zephyr Quint Friday Night

Zanzig, a 5-7 sophomore had counted 65 points while Kornely, a 5-11 soph, had tallied four after missing the first three games with a football injury.

Zanzig's spot in the starting lineup could be taken by one of five boys. They include: juniors Lou Captain, 6-2, Paul Zeegers, 5-10, Tom Timmers, 5-8, or Mike Flanagan, 6-0, or freshman Bob "Rocky" Bleier, 5-10.

Sure Starters

Sure starters, with their point totals thus far are: 5-8 Warren "Kip" Whitlinger (139); 5-9 Dick Wiesner (83); 6-2 Chuck Lueck (87) and 6-0 Joe Ebben (23).

St. Mary, with three regulars returning from last season's state champions is considerably bigger. Four of the five starters are 6-1 or taller and all of them are able to "dunk" the ball — that is, get over rim level and fire it down into the basket. This group, with point totals (not including the alumni game) consists of: 6-2 Jim Koerner (83), 6-3 Bob Rueckl (30); 6-2 Jerry Laemmrich (30); and 6-1 Bill Becker (70). All are seniors, as is 5-9 Tony Rechner (37 points), the probable fifth starter.

Live in Appleton

Rechner lives in Appleton as does Young, who played as does Young, who played at Xavier last year. Young is a top St. Mary reserve and has scored 30 points. The 6-3 junior also can "stuff" the ball.

St. Mary Coach Ralph McClone does plenty of substituting and such fellows as 6-0 Bob Stumpf (21 points), 5-9 Martin (15) and 6-1 Ecnholm (32) are sure to see action.

Both Xavier Coach Clark and McClone are staunch advocates of the full-court press. Clark has used it full-game, or at least until his club gets out of range. McClone utilizes it more as a shock maneuver.

The clubs have met only one common opponent, St. John of Little Chute. St. Mary rolled over the Dutchmen, 52-22, while Xavier dropped them, 83-54. Xavier is averaging 75.9 points while allowing 49.6.

The Zephyrs' average is 59.1 to 45.9 for its opponents. These figures, and the scoring totals, don't include St. Mary's 57-48 loss to the alumni.

Still Hasn't Jelled

McClone has made an effort this season and last to bring his club along slowly. The Zephyrs have some of their more rugged games (and the tournament) yet on the schedule He feels his outfit still hasn't jelled.

Xavier's chances Friday hinge on the ability of such boys as Lueck, Ebben and Captain to rebound with the bigger and more experienced Menashans.

The Hawks' little men can steal the ball and they can score. But, unless the big fellows come through on the boards, Xavier will be getting only one shot.

Clark, a St. Mary alumnus, hopes to have a few surprises in store for his alma mater. "But, there's just so much you can do against them, he says. "If you try to hold the ball they'll steal it with their cat-like defense. So, we might as well play our usual (running) brand of ball."

The JV game will start at 6:30.

Gordie Howe Injured as Wings Lose

Detroit Star Suffers Concussion; Hawks Tip Rangers

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Detroit's Gordie Howe was hurt, Toronto's Frank Mahovlich scored his 34th goal and a couple of lesser lights had big nights around the goalmouth in National Hockey League play Wednesday night.

Howe, one of hockey's all-time greats, suffered a concussion and a gash over his right eye that required 10 stitches when he collided with Toronto's Eddie Shack in a game between the Red Wings and Maple Leafs at Toronto.

No Fracture

Howe was taken to Toronto General Hospital where X-rays showed no fracture. He will miss a return game between the two teams in Detroit tonight and hospital authorities said they would like to keep him for two or three days for further observation.

Toronto won the game 6-4 to move within four points of the league-leading Montreal Canadiens.

In another game at New York, Stan Mikita scored twice in the third period to help the Chicago Black Hawks to their fifth consecutive victory, a 3-2 decision over the Rangers. The Hawks moved into sole possession of third place with 40 points while the Red Wings, who have 38, dropped to fourth.

Colts Sign Placekicker Vince Scott

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts Wednesday announced the signing of Vince Scott, a placekicking specialist from the University of Maryland.

Scott, an end, was signed as a free agent. He was passed over in the National Football League draft last week but had been picked by the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League. Several Canadian clubs also were dickering for his services.

Andrade and Ortiz to Meet in LA Feb. 2

Basilio Is 7-5 Favorite Over Gaspar Ortega

Veteran May Quit If He Doesn't Win Saturday

That's when the craggy-faced, former welterweight and middleweight champion meets welterweight contender Gaspar Ortega of Mexico in a 10-round television fight at Madison Square Garden.

"Saturday night will determine whether I go on further," said the veteran of 12 years of pro boxing.

Carmen, 33, didn't say flatly he will quit if he loses. But it's obvious that those $10,000 and up purses won't be dangled in front of him if he blows the verdict to a tenth-ranking welterweight contender.

Ortega is a tall, aggressive fighter with a steel chin. The Mexican, 25, never has been stopped in 30 pro fights, most of them lively affairs. Gaspar keeps after an opponent and makes him fight almost a full three minutes every round.

Wear And Tear

Basilio showed definite signs of wear and tear in his last two title fights with NBA middleweight champion Gene Fullmer. Fullmer stopped the ex-Marine in 14 rounds on Aug. 28, 1959, and in 12 rounds last June 29.

Carmen's reflex action has slowed and he no longer can keep throwing punches in combinations. The Chittenango N.Y.) clouter used to beat down his foes with slashing left-rights to the body.

Despite this obvious slowdown, Basilio has been made a 7-5 choice over Ortega.

Basilio has agreed to make 155 pounds. He will just about hit it on the head, he said today. Ortega will weigh about 150.

Pro-Amateur Kicks Off LA Open Tourney

1960's Leading 20 Money-Winners in 72-Hole Event

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Golf took over the local sports scene today with a select field of professionals and amateur celebrities competing in a $5,000 pro-am event as a prelude to the $45,000 Los Angeles open.

The big show starts its 4-day, 72-hole run Friday at the Rancho Municipal Golf Course in West Los Angeles.

Boasting the richest purse in its history, this 35th annual tournament kicks off the 1961 winter money trail for the professionals.

Also on Hand

Also on hand are Dow Finsterwald, last year's winner here; PGA champion Jay Hebert, as well as his brother Lionel, a former PGA titleholder; Billy Casper Jr., 1960 Vardon Trophy winner and an ex-U.S. Open ruler Art Wall Jr.

Ken Venturi, who came on with a rush to win the 1959 Los Angeles fixture, is another threat, and back in tournament action is still another former U.S. Open Cary Middlecoff.

The winner will collect $7,500, with $3,900 going to second place in the $45,000 pot of the tournament proper.

49ers' Tittle and McElhenny May be on the Trading Block

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Shopping time has arrived for National Football League clubs and Coach Red Hickey of the 49ers says some of his veterans have been offered in trade.

He won't divulge names but conjecture immediately singled out a pair of the highest paid men on the club—Quarterback Y. A. Tittle and Halfback Hugh McElhenny.

It could also be that Joe Perry, who has run for more yards than any other NFL player, has come to the end of his 49ers line.

None of the three was a starter at the end of the 1960 season. When injuries forced the 33-year-old Tittle out midway in the season, John Brodie took over as quarterback and held the job after Tittle returned to action.

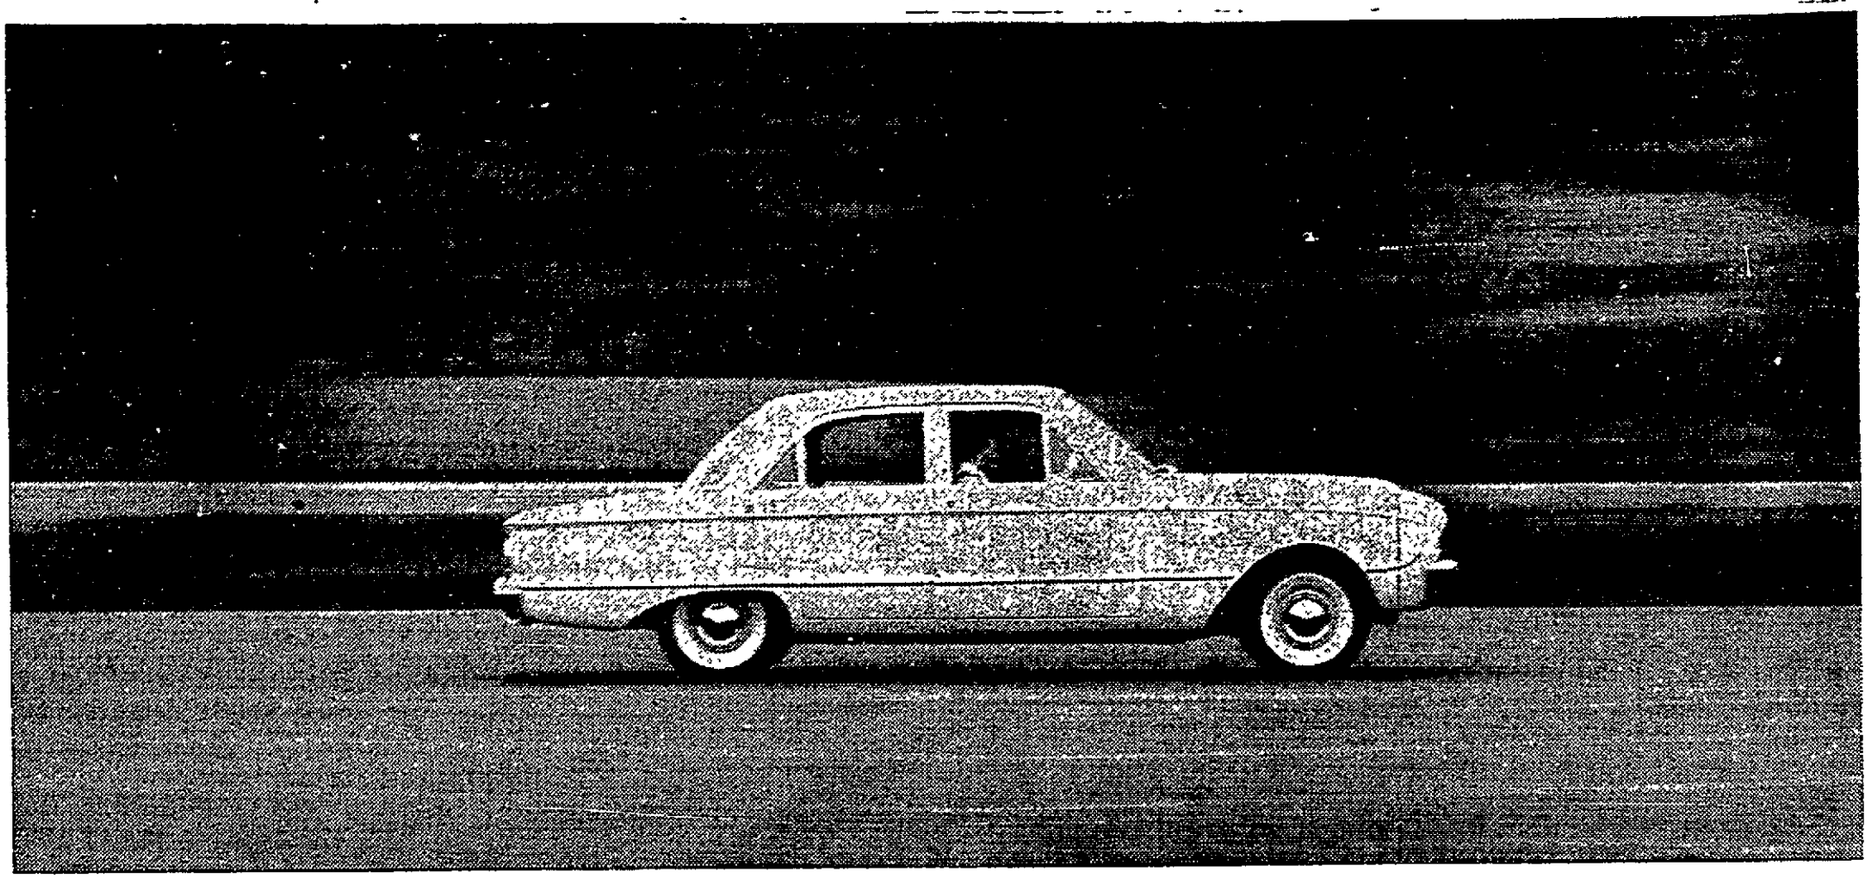

McElhenny at 31, doesn't have his former speed, but still proves valuable at either left half or the flanker. Perry will be 32 and isn't the speed merchant of previous seasons.

The trade of Tittle has been talked by fans since the 49ers picked Bill Kilmer of UCLA as a No. 1 draft choice. San Francisco had three quarterbacks through the 1960 season although Rookie Bobby Waters saw little service.

Why Falcon has won the battle of the compacts

Unwrapped just 14 months ago, Falcon has already sold over 525,000 cars.

This was the year Falcon won the Battle of the Compacts.

It was a fascinating battle: America was asked to choose from 11 different compact cars. Each one offered something different, something new. Each one had its own ideas on what America wanted in compact cars. There were rear engines, aluminum engines, 4-cylinder, 6-cylinder, 8-cylinder engines, rear transmissions, mighty horsepower, meek horsepower, expensive luxury models, cheap bare-bone models.

It was confusing in the beginning. But as sales figures began to come in . . . as state after state reported its registrations . . . a trend began to take shape.

America was going Falcon!
By March it was fairly certain.
By July it was in the bag.
By December it was a landslide!

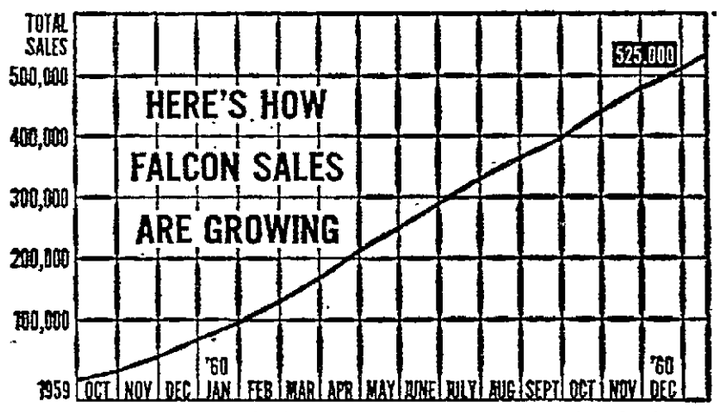

Today over 525,000 people own Falcons . . . the greatest popular vote any new car has ever received from its introduction through its first full year. In fact, so great is the popular demand for Falcon, that every 30 seconds of every working day somebody else buys one. Just what has Falcon got the others have not? It's not just one thing . . . it's many things . . . a combination of features you can't find in any other compact except Falcon.

Economy is one of these features. All compacts save you money in some ways . . . but only Falcon saves you all ways. Falcon goes up to 30 miles on one gallon of regular gas. A proven fact! Falcon goes 4,000 miles between oil changes. With Falcon's Diamond Lustre Finish, you can forget waxing . . . forever! And because Falcon is a true compact, it costs less to service, less to license and, depending upon where you live, less to insure. Many of today's compacts are so big, so powerful, they cost about as much to buy and run as a big car. No other compact saves you as much as Falcon. It took no time for America to see this.

Another reason why Falcon has won the Battle of the Compacts: family comfort. Falcon is a full 6-passenger car . . . in every sense of the word. You can't say that about every other compact. For example, Falcon's rear seat is almost one full foot wider than another compact's.

There's also enough luggage space in Falcon's trunk so you can take off for weeks at a time. Not so with every other compact. One in particular has only about half as much trunk space.

Perhaps the greatest Falcon surprise of all is its cheery interior. All the luxury hasn't been stripped out of this compact! Falcon offers a car that is pleasant, comfortable . . . yes, even elegant . . . to sit in. Falcon has all the pleasantries: coat hooks, front arm rests, sun visors, foam-padded front seat, rich upholstery—all the little luxuries you never miss until somebody takes them away. And Falcon doesn't charge extra for these luxuries. They're all included in that low Falcon price—at not one penny's extra cost.

Here's why Falcon's first! Over 525,000 sold since its introduction makes Falcon the most successful new car in automotive history. And Falcon not only leads all other compacts—it breaks its own sales records, too. November Falcon sales jumped a whopping 46% over November a year ago!

Finally there is the question of price. And here is where Falcon read America's mind perfectly. Compacts are smaller cars. Their prices should be smaller . . . much smaller! A good many of today's compacts are actually priced more than many big cars. To give you an idea of the difference between compact prices, let's compare Falcon with the field.

The Ford Falcon is America's very lowest-priced 6-passenger car.* And not by mere pennies. It is priced as much as $505† less than other compacts. There is a $505 price difference between Falcon and the highest-priced compact.

To be sure, we could have built the Falcon differently. It would have been easy to make it larger, more elaborate, frillier and more expensive. We could have made it smaller and stripped it down to four wheels and an engine. We could have given it a V-8 or a 4-cylinder engine . . . transmission in the rear, aluminum everywhere, a rear engine. We could have done many different, unusual things . . . but we didn't. And apparently the public agreed with us!

The Falcon's design makes beautiful sense. It gives you a combination of three built-in bonuses . . . found in no other compact. The first of these is price. There just isn't a lower-priced 6-passenger car made in America today. Falcon is the rock-bottom lowest!

The second Falcon savings bonus might be entitled, "The Easiest Car In The World To Own." You cash in on it every day you own a Falcon. It includes the hundred-and-one ways Falcon costs less to run . . . the savings on gas, oil, waxing, mufflers, servicing, licensing, insurance.

The third Falcon savings bonus comes at trade-in time. You'll find yourself in a very enviable bargaining position with one of the hottest resale cars ever. A December issue of Automotive Market Reports shows that Falcon depreciates from $138 to $175 less than the other compacts in its class. Falcon is as popular used—as it is new!

Easier to buy, easier to own; easier to sell—the ideal combination of everything you want most in a compact. Only Falcon has it. That's why only Falcon could be America's best-selling compact!

No Restrictions for City Hall Parking Lot

Night Limit, Proposed Study Denied; Street Improvements Set for 1961

Measures to restrict parking on Appleton City Hall parking lot and to provide for a study of lot use were defeated last night by the Common Council.

The proposals, presented in a report by the board of public works, asked to have the lot placed under ordinance and that parking be restricted from 1 to 7 a.m. Monday through Friday. A second proposal asked for a study of lot use and time by the public safety committee and police department.

Priebe

Stumpf

Who Controls?

Ald. Kenneth Priebe, author of the two proposals, said the statements in the past have criticized inaction on the problem.

Aldermen Priebe and Robert J. Stumpf had a difference of opinion over who proposed the action. Stumpf said the action was his suggestion, borrowed by Priebe and adopted. Priebe said Stumpf withdrew his proposals for parking limits at the board of public works meeting.

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings asked what would happen to the lot if it were put under ordinance, and City Atty. Don Jury said it would take the lot from the control of the board of public works and put it under the public safety committee.

Industrial Park

Ald. Thomas Schneider said the proposal to limit night parking was ineffective and a study should be made before any ordinance was adopted.

After the defeat of the proposed study by a separate vote of 9 to 11, Ald. Priebe said the two measures had to go together and he voted against the night parking in a separate vote which defeated the reduction, 19 to 1. Ald. Stumpf voted for the night limitation.

The council also authorized the engineering department to prepare plans and specifications for installation of sanitary sewers, storm sewers and a lift station on Industrial Park.

Street Resurfacing

Street improvements scheduled for 1961 include:

Concrete pavement on E. Fremont Street from East Street to the Robert Herwig property; on N. McDonald St. from E. Wisconsin Avenue north to the railroad right-of-way; and on E. South River Street from S. Oneida to S. Madison.

Asphalt surfacing on E. Fremont Street from S. Oneida to S. Carpenter, and on E. South River Street from S. Madison Street to E. John Street.

The council also authorized attendance of Frank Keuler, of the engineering department, and Robert Thompson, of the sewage treatment plant, to a Sanitary Engineering Institute at the University of Wisconsin Jan. 10 and 11 at city expense.

Ninety - minute parking was placed in effect on the south side of Eighth Street west of the railroad track and on the east side of Story Street from Eighth Street to the railroad tracks.

5 Area Men On Committees For Council

State Safety Conference Set For February

Five Fox Cities area businessmen are committee members for the 19th annual mid-winter safety conference of the Wisconsin Council of Safety, Inc., to be held Feb. 2 and 3 in Milwaukee.

They are Paul Dodge, Neenah Foundry Co., program committee; Les Forde, Giddings and Lewis Machine Tool Co., Kaukauna, registration committee chairman; Henry Jobelius, Appleton Wire Works, registration committee, and Howard Aderhold, Marathon Corp., Menasha, and John Paulus, Morgan Co., Oshkosh, ushering committee.

About 1,200 delegates are expected at the conference, which for the first time in its history will be held in two hotels. Industrial and home sections and occupational health nurses section will be at the Schroeder Hotel, and a traffic safety section will be at the Plankinton House.

Area ticket chairmen for the conference are Roland Bernhagen, Zwicker Knitting Mills, Appleton; Earl Williams, Kimberly Clark Corp., Neenah; Les Forde, Kaukauna; and John Paulus, Oshkosh.

Other ticket salesmen are E. V. Krueger, Wisconsin-Michigan Power Co., Appleton; Walter Stommel, Menasha Wooden Ware Corp., and James R. Powers, Bergstrom Paper Co., Neenah, and Jobelius.

"Safety Everywhere — All the Time" will be the conference theme. More than 30 speakers will address general and special sessions.

Around Home

The joy of Christmas was saddened this week for a Kimberly girl who lost her pet rabbit to one of those characters vying for the "meanest thief" award.

The rabbit, mother of eight two-week-old balls of fur, was in the top section of a three-section hutch, far out of the reach of any small fry.

A search was started and behind the garage was found a pool of blood and a trail of stains which led to an alleyway and then disappeared.

YMCA Receives Phy Ed Award

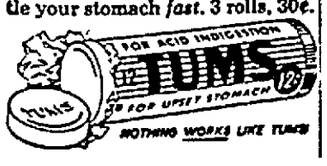

A certificate recognizing work in physical education has been awarded to the Appleton YMCA, Mickey McGuire, physical director, said today.

The 1961-62-63 eligibility certificate granted by the National Council of YMCAs through the National Physical Education Committee recognizes the Appleton YMCA's policies, plans, and organization in physical education and acknowledges excellent accomplishment in this field.

In addition to being an honor award, the certificate is necessary for participation in certain types of inter-association athletic competition.

Council Approves Sewer Project, Rezoning 2 Lots

Sewer and water installation and special assessments for the Crestview Drive area were approved last night by the Appleton City Council.

Sanitary sewer and water main will be installed on Lynn Drive from County Trunk Z to Crestview Drive, on Julie Street from Lynn Drive to Crestview Drive and on Crestview Drive from Julie Street to the east end of the Hansen-Bassett plat.

No one appeared at a public hearing on the improvements. The original proposal included grading and gravel on the streets, but the work was deleted from the proposal on a motion by Ald. Thomas Schneider because the grading would be based on this year's assessment rate but won't be billed until next year, when the rate might change.

The council also approved rezoning Lots 13 and 14 in Keating subdivision from single family residential district to commercial and light manufacturing district.

Man, 72, Knows He's Too Old to Drive

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—A man of 72 walked into police headquarters, pulled out his driver's license, and dropped it on the traffic department desk.

"I believe I'm too old to drive," the man told Sgt. Kenneth Williamson. "I sold my car and here's my license."

Consolidated Announces New Wastes System

A collection system now being installed at Appleton Division of Consolidated Water Power and Paper Co. will result in a saving of 15 per cent more spent sulphite liquor, formerly a waste product, Stanton Mead, company president, announced today.

Construction and installation of equipment, which will cost $136,000, will raise the proportion of total sulphite solids that can be collected, then manufactured into useful byproducts. Sulphite solids previously had to be discarded in wash waters to dilute for byproducts processing.

Digesters at the Appleton plant are being equipped with new nozzles to wash pulp with less dilution than before, so water eventually has a high enough concentration of solids for processing.

Collected sulphite liquor is shipped to industrial users or processed into powdered products in adjoining plants, whose capacity also is being increased.

City Financing Questioned By Alderman

A disagreement over city accounting practices arose at the council meeting Wednesday when the finance committee report proposed transferring $14,221.74 from the 1960 surplus fund to cover expenditures not included in the 1960 budget.

Ald. Homer Malmstrom said the move was not possible because after Jan. 1 surplus funds became part of the general fund.

The expenditures were for city welfare, the city home and Oneida Street bridge bonds. The transfer was approved with the rest of the finance committee proposals.

On the recommendation of the board of health, part-time clerks in the health department were granted a raise from $1.25 an hour to $1.35 an hour.

A Class B (beer) retail license was granted to Sacred Heart Congregation for a home school program Feb. 20. One wholesale liquor and three bartender's licenses also were granted.

Lawrence, UW Receive Grants From Du Pont

139 Colleges, Universities Awarded Total of $1,400,000

Lawrence College and the University of Wisconsin are among 139 universities and colleges awarded grants totalling $1,400,000 in the Du Pont Co. annual program of aid to education, the company announced today.

The program is for fundamental research by universities, for strengthening the teaching of science and related subjects, and for facilities for education or research in science and engineering.

Lawrence was one of 99 institutions to receive a $4,000 Du Pont grant to help maintain their excellence of teaching. These awards were made on the basis of strength in chemical education, and $2,500 of each is to be used for chemistry teaching, the rest for other courses.

Other Recipients

Other colleges to receive this grant include Beloit, Carleton, Coe, Cornell, Grinnell, Knox, Monmouth and St. Olaf.

Research and postgraduate teaching assistant awards were granted the University of Wisconsin in chemistry and physics.

The university was one of 43 to receive a $1,700 award for a postgraduate teaching assistant in chemistry. The recipient of the award, to be chosen by the university, will receive $1,200, and $500 will go to the chemistry department.

Research grants given the University of Wisconsin for fundamental research in physical sciences in the 1961-62 school year were $15,000 for chemistry and $5,000 for chemical engineering.

Research Grants

Grants totalling $475,000 were awarded to 37 universities. These are for unrestricted research and may be used any way the institution wishes, including the support of graduate students. The universities determine the research to be undertaken and are free to publish the results.

In addition to grants for research, a total of $654,000 was awarded more than 100 colleges and universities to support the teaching of science, mathematics, and other liberal arts subjects; for education and research in biochemistry in medical schools; and for postgraduate teaching awards and scholarships.

A $250,000 fund was authorized for capital grants for science and engineering facilities. This provided awards to 11 independently controlled institutions. Ranging from $5,000 to $50,000 each, these grants to help with the cost of new buildings, equipment, or renovation of existing facilities.

Bar Association Elects Officers Wednesday Evening

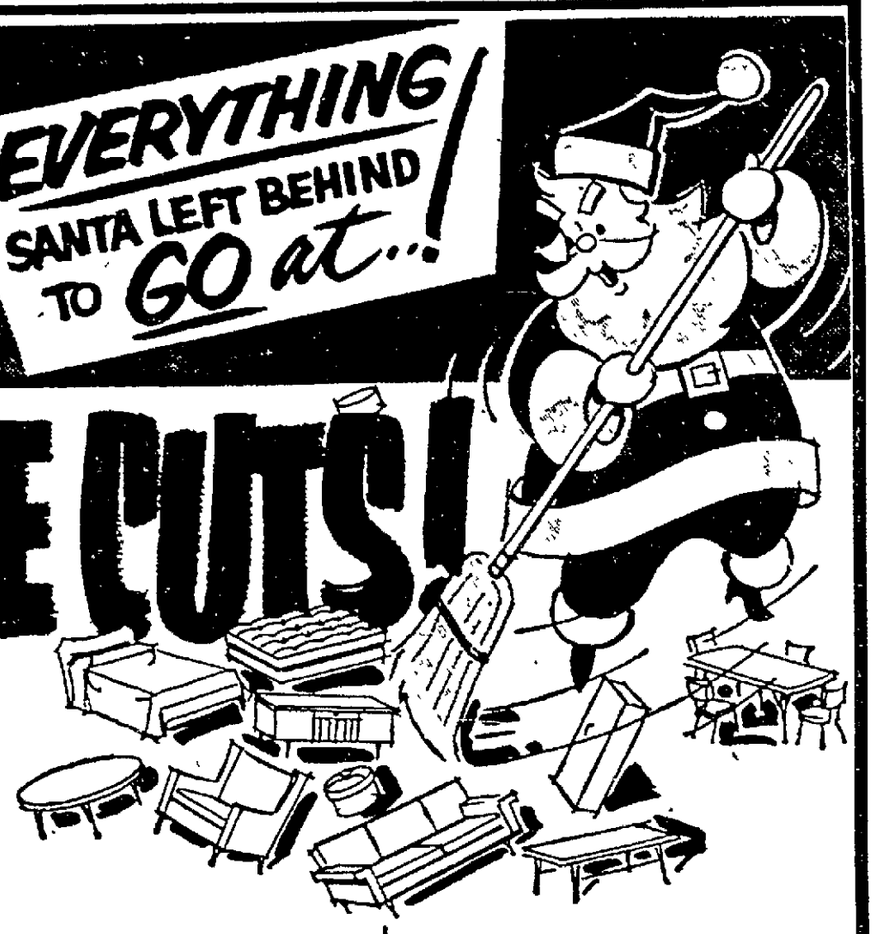

Members of the Outagamie County Bar Association and their wives will hold their annual dinner meeting and election of officers Wednesday evening at the Conway Hotel.

John Whitney, president-elect of the state bar association, will be the evening speaker.

Thursday, Jan. 12, J. L. Tibbetts, district assessor of incomes, will hold his annual question and answer session with attorneys and accountants at the Outagamie County courthouse annex at 8 p.m.

The Aroma of This Flavorful Onion-Potato Soup is guaranteed to bring the family to the dinner table at first call of "Soup's On." Enriched with nonfat dry milk, the hearty soup is ideal for winter luncheons or as a dinner starter.

Sour Cream Has Become a Favorite on baked potatoes, but this dish has sour cream and chopped chives mixed into the scooped out baked potatoes along with a touch of mayonnaise. Then the potato mixture is put back into their skins, topped with cheddar cheese and paprika and placed in the oven for a second bake until the cheese melts.

Borrowing From Homemakers in India, savory Chicken Curry Pie is topped generously with mashed potatoes to create a new variation of an old favorite from a foreign land. After the potatoes are arranged on top of the chicken curry, the casserole is popped under the broiler (or in the oven) and cooked for a few minutes until the potato topping is lightly browned.

A Quick Dinner for a Busy Day features Beef-Potato Puff that can be made in a skillet. The dish features ground beef and mashed potatoes and may be garnished with slices of hard-boiled eggs.

Don't Scorn Lowly Potato, It's a Good Basic Food, Highly Versatile

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

The potato long has been basic to meal planning . . . crop failures of this popular vegetable historically caused migration waves to this country when it was younger . . . it's a plentiful food usually with this year no exception in the United States. That makes it a budget-saver.

Since this is the season for statistics, it may be interesting to know that the average consumer will eat about 110 pounds of potatoes during 1961 . . . for each four pounds of out-of-the-ground spuds, there will be an additional pound of manufactured potato products eaten. It may be in the form of instant mashed, au gratin, frozen potato products, the canned variety, chips or crackers.

The popularity of these manufactured products is legion, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, even though many of them cost more per serving than fresh potatoes. Since the instant mashed potato came to the grocery store, it has increased 61.5 per cent in sales . . . this rise in sales despite the fact that instant potato products cost between 8 and 10 cents per serving as compared to fresh potatoes at 2 cents per serving. Ease of preparation, the saving of time and taste acceptance are important factors in consumer purchases of these prepared foods.

Potatoes have two more factors in their favor . . . they supply Vitamin C, B vitamins and iron to the diet as well as bulk . . . and they are extremely versatile as the following recipes prove.

Onion-Potato Soup

- ¼ cup butter
- 2 cups chopped onion
- ½ cup chopped celery and celery leaves
- 4 cups water
- 1 1/3 cups nonfat dry milk
- ¼ cup flour
- 2 teaspoons salt
- ⅛ teaspoon black pepper
- dash cayenne pepper
- 1 cup diced cooked potatoes

Melt butter in small skillet; add onion and celery; saute until both are tender. Pour water in top of double boiler; sprinkle nonfat dry milk, flour and seasonings into water. Beat with rotary beater until blended. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture has thickened. Add onion, celery and potatoes. Continue cooking until all ingredients are heated thoroughly, five to 10 minutes. Pour into soup tureen or individual serving dishes. If desired, garnish with toasted cheese croutons before serving.

Stuffed Baked Potatoes

- 4 large baking potatoes
- ¼ cup butter
- ½ cup dairy sour cream
- 1½ teaspoons chopped chives
- 2 tablespoons mayonnaise
- 1 teaspoon salt
- dash white pepper
- ½ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- ½ cup grated cheddar cheese
- paprika

Clean and bake potatoes at 400 degrees for about one hour. When done, cut thin lengthwise slice from tops. Scoop out potato into mixing bowl. Mash well with fork.

Beat in butter, sour cream, chives, mayonnaise, salt, pepper and monosodium glutamate. Pile this mixture back into potato shells. Do not smooth tops. Sprinkle with grated cheese and paprika. Bake in 450-degree oven for eight to 10 minutes or until cheese topping melts and potatoes are piping hot.

Potato Topped Chicken Curry Pie

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 medium onions, chopped
- 3 large carrots, cut into 2-inch strips
- 3 stalks celery, cut into 2-inch strips
- 2 cups cooked tomatoes
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1 to 2 tablespoons curry powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ cup water
- 2 cups chicken, diced
- 1½ cups water
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ cup milk
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 envelope instant potato flakes

Melt butter in large skillet. Add chopped onions; saute until tender. Add carrots, celery and tomatoes. Cook over medium heat

This Delicious Casserole Can be put together in jig time. While the frozen French fries and onions are browning in butter, the cheese can be shredded and the Canadian bacon cut into thin strips. A tossed green salad served with tart dressing and a dessert of fresh fruit with cookies completes the menu.

Food Picture

'61 Another Year of Plenty, Says Expert

DORIS J. STAIDL

GREEN BAY — The food picture in 1960 was a fairly good one. We had enough to eat, we were able to select foods readily available, which helped us provide nutritious meals for our families.

If we were to examine food expenditures for 1960, omitting the non-food items which appeared on grocery bills, we would find that we spent on the average from 23 to 25 per cent of our income on food. That would be about the same as we spent back in 1935 to 1939 when we considered food prices to be cheap. If we were willing to eat the same foods as back in that period, we would spend approximately 16 per cent of our income on food.

But we look forward to having good supplies of fresh vegetables all year round, vegetables that we did not have back in 1935. We depend on many more types of canned and frozen foods, higher quality of meats, services brought through food processing which we did not have back in 1935. So our food expenditures remain about the same percentage of our income. In general, food is relatively inexpensive, and it provides us with much enjoyment and satisfaction.

Generally, we shall have plenty to eat in 1961, with possibly slightly larger food supplies. That larger supply will just about match the increase in population. Our consumption of food will run around 1,488 pounds per capita as in 1960. Retail food prices are expected to run about the same as in 1960, although specific food items will be higher or lower in price depending on the supply of those particular items.

We are expected to eat about 165 pounds of meat during 1961, just about four pounds more than during 1960. We will be upping our consumption of beef, reaching a record per capita consumption of 89 to 90 pounds. The overall retail prices of beef will run a little lower resulting from a 10 per cent increase in beef coming to market.

Pork, on the other hand, will run from the same to slightly higher during the first half of the year. Then, in fall, larger pig crops will again be coming to market, bringing slightly lower prices. As a year's average, pork prices will run approximately the same, with pork supplies per person running about 64.5 pounds.

Veal supplies will run a little larger, and lamb and mutton supplies will run about the same as this year.

Poultry Increase

The poultry cycle is a short one, compared with red meats. Within a relatively short period of time, production of poultry and poultry products can be upped to bring considerable supplies moving to market.

A 10 to 15 per cent increase in broilers is expected to move to market the early part of 1961. Average retail prices will be generally lower. There also is expected to be an increase in heavy turkey production, which means continued reasonable prices to perhaps even lower during 1961.

Egg production in 1961 will not

Food Supply Looks Good for New Year

offset the increase in population. This year, we ate 325 eggs per person. In 1961, we are expected to eat 310 eggs per capita. Egg production for the first part of 1961 will be down from that of 1960, and larger supplies of eggs will be available by next fall as spring hatchings are expected to be larger.

Dairy Products

Supplies of milk products will be record high in 1961, slightly above 1960, when it ran about 9 per cent above the 1947-49 average. These larger supplies will be more than ample to meet consumer demand at our current retail price levels. There will be ample supplies of fluid milk, cheese, ice cream, nonfat dry milk and all other milk products; at about the same price level as this year.

Supplies of fresh citrus fruits will be about the same as they were during 1960, although total supplies of fruits are likely to be a little smaller until the middle of 1961.

The decreases will be mostly for fresh deciduous fruits, such as apples and pears, and in canned fruits. During 1961, larger production is expected for prunes, moderate increases in apples, pears, cherries. We are expected to produce about the same amount of plums, peaches and grapes, less production of apricots and cranberries. Imports of bananas are expected to continue high. Frozen fruits and berries are expected to run about the same as during 1960, although smaller supplies are expected of frozen concentrated fruit juices.

The total fall production of vegetables was a little larger this year than a year ago, bringing larger supplies of potatoes, dry onions, cabbage, cauliflower and broccoli to market.

However, the hurricane Donna did some damage to supplies of sweet corn, green peppers, tomatoes, and the supplies of those are down from a year ago. Production of carrots this winter may be down from last year. Higher prices are in store for us for sweet potatoes, and consumption of sweet potatoes is expected to be down. While fall crop potatoes are in large supply, it is expected the spring potato crop will be down, bringing potato prices up in spring.

In frozen vegetables, we have larger supplies which will be available during the first half of the year. Over-all supplies of canned vegetables are smaller than a year ago. In good supply are canned asparagus, snap beans, sauerkraut and lima beans; smaller supplies of green peas and sweet corn are available. Canned vegetables are expected to run a bit higher in price this year than a year ago.

Aid Society Picks Officers

St. Joseph Missionary Aid Society held election of officers Tuesday. Miss Marie Funck, former vice president, automatically succeeds to the presidency, which was held by Mrs. E. A. Werner. Mrs. Henry Hoffman is the new vice president. Miss Adelaide Schueller was reelected to the position of secretary. Mrs. Herman Klippstein will retain the office of treasurer until January, 1962.

New officers will be installed Feb. 7.

Lyle Leatherman To Give Square Dance Lessons

A new class in beginners square dance instruction under sponsorship of Appleton Recreation Dept. will be held Wednesday evenings at Foster School. Lyle Leatherman will instruct the classes, which will take place from 8 to 11 p.m. Occasional social hours will be held after the lessons.

All area adults who wish to learn the steps and fundamentals of square dancing may register at the door the nights of the classes.

Add Moisture

During the heating season you'll feel better if you add moisture to the air in your home. It reduces drying of pictures, furniture and other household furnishings, too. If you heat with a forced air furnace, moisture can be added to the air at the furnace. This assures even distribution of properly humidified air throughout the house.

Potato Recipes For Good Eating

until vegetables are almost tender. Blend flour and seasonings with one-fourth cup water. Stir into tomato mixture. Add chicken. Cook over medium heat until sauce thickens.

Pour this mixture into two-quart casserole. Combine one and one-half cups water and half-teaspoon salt in medium-size saucepan. Cover and bring to boil. Remove from heat. Add milk immediately, then potato flakes and tablespoon of butter. Stir gently with fork or wire whisk until liquid is absorbed. Whip briskly.

Arrange potatoes on top of casserole. Broil until potatoes are lightly browned, three to five minutes.

Beef-Potato Puff

- ¼ cup butter
- 1 pound ground chuck
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ teaspoon garlic salt
- ½ cup finely chopped onion
- 4 servings mashed potatoes
- ¼ cup finely chopped parsley
- 2 eggs, separated
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 hard-boiled egg, sliced

Melt butter in large skillet. Add ground chuck, seasonings and chopped onion. Saute until meat is completely browned and crumbly. Remove from skillet and set aside.

Add finely chopped parsley to mashed potatoes; add egg yolks and blend well. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form; fold into potato mixture.

Melt two tablespoons butter in skillet; saute potatoes in butter until lightly browned. Spread browned meat on potatoes. Heat through. Garnish with sliced hard-boiled egg. Serve in wedge-shaped servings.

Swiss Potato Bake

- 3 cups milk
- 1 envelope instant potato flakes
- 1½ cups grated Swiss cheese
- ½ teaspoon salt.
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 4 eggs, separated

Scald milk. Stir in potato flakes and cheese. Add salt and Worcestershire sauce. Beat egg yolks slightly and add a small amount of potato mixture, blending well. Add this egg and potato mixture to rest of potatoes, blending thoroughly. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Gently fold into potato mixture. Spoon into two - quart casserole. Bake in 300-degree oven for one hour, 15 minutes until lightly browned. Serve hot.

Julienne Bake

- 2 pkgs. frozen French fries
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons butter
- ½ pound Canadian bacon, cut into julienne strips
- ¼ pound American cheese, shredded
- 3 eggs, slightly beaten
- 2 cups milk
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper

Brown frozen French fries and onion in butter. Arrange potatoes, thin strips Canadian bacon and cheese in layers in shallow casserole, using half ingredients of each at a time. Combine rest of ingredients, beating well. Pour over potatoes, bacon and cheese. Bake in 375 - degree oven until mixture is set, about 35 to 40 minutes. Recipe makes six generous servings.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER ESTRANGED

My mother and I are estranged, probably permanently. Therefore, a complicated situation is arising concerning my wedding, and I feel that I should give you some of the sordid background to help you with your advice. While mother was still married to my father, she was going out with another man to whom she is now married. One night early last summer, my fiance and I were driving home from a movie and by an unfortunate chance, we were met by my mother and this man who pushed us off the road. Both men got out of their cars and had an argument during which my fiance was stabbed and had to be taken to a hospital with permanent disability in one hand. I left home to live with father's sister and her husband. My father died suddenly five months ago. My wedding is to be small and my uncle will give me away. In spite of the tragic situation, what do you think about inviting my mother? Under the circumstances, could I avoid inviting her husband? My uncle and aunt don't want to advise me and I can understand why.

Louise Davis

Louise Davis Answers:

Even though you have a deep resentment against your mother, I think that you should give her the opportunity to attend your wedding. Your conscience would then be clear and you would have no regrets in the future. One can never make predictions, but as blood is thicker than water, you and your mother may some day be reunited. Considering the circumstances and the injury to your fiance, I am sure that your mother's husband would be a very unwelcome guest and you would have a right to omit him.

Elegant Filling

Here's a perfect chocolate filling for a meringue torte, cream puffs or individual tarts: Melt two 6-ounce packages of semi-sweet chocolate pieces over the automatic top burner heat control on your range. Turn the heat to low. (If you don't have the thermostatically controlled burner, use a double boiler and be sure to keep the water under boiling.) Add 1 tablespoon powdered instant coffee and ¼ cup boiling water. Remove the mixture from the gas burner and beat until creamy and cool. Whip 1 cup of thick cream. Fold the chocolate mixture into the whipped cream and add a teaspoon of vanilla. Garnish your masterpiece with slivered almonds.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

Want a Prettier Profile?

Just by the twist of a tress, it is possible to enhance the feminine profile. How the tress should be twisted, however, depends on the individual contouring of one's own features.

For the button of a nose, the move is a clean upsweep at the temples and a complete exposure of the ears. This gives the nose more definition by increasing the area between its tip and the ear.

A long or protuberant nose responds to quite opposite tactics. It appears softer, shorter and smaller, when the hair is swept straight back from the temples; then swirled so as to partly cover the ears and curve up on the cheeks. The arc of hair thus formed is in reverse to the arc of the nose, and therefore acts as an effective counter.

Whatever the nose's contour — good, bad or indifferent — its side view can be prettified by the clever management of the back hair. Simply arrange the bulk of the curls would completely dwarf a nubbin nose. But it would offset the Titan type — completely.

Tuna Scallop

This recipe for tuna scallop comes from a home service consultant. Pre-heat the gas oven to 400 degrees. Mix 2 cans of cream of celery soup with 1 tablespoon prepared mustard. Open two 7-ounce cans of tuna and alternate layers of the tuna and soup with 1½ cups cracker crumbs. Dot the top with butter and bake in the gas oven for 30 minutes or until bubbling hot. Serve with pineapple cole slaw, garlic bread and lemon meringue pie.

Opera Veteran to Appear at College

Although Donald Gramm, bass-baritone who will appear on Lawrence Community Artist Series Jan. 12, has only recently reached the age of 30, he is a veteran of 13 years' experience in opera.

The Milwaukee-born Gramm made his debut as Raymond in "Lucia di Lammermoor" in Chicago's Eighth Street Theater when he was only 17. His fee was a healthy $15.

Since that day, Gramm has proved a handsome and convincing example of the opera singer who is an actor as well as a singer.

New York Debut

Eight years ago, Gramm made his debut with the New York City Opera Co., and he has been heard with Chicago Lyric, Washington Opera Society, American Opera Society and New Orleans Opera.

He has created roles, either in world or American premieres, in Martinu's "The Marriage" with the NBC Opera on television; Milhaud's "Medea" at the Brandeis University Festival; Orff's "The Moon" at the New York City Center; Frank Martin's "The Tempest" on the same stage; Benjamin Britten's "Gloriana" at the Cincinnati May Festival; Offenbach's "Voyage to the Moon" with the Boston Opera Group; Handel's "Joshua" at the Cincinnati May Festival; and Giannini's "Taming of the Shrew" with the NBC Opera.

Standard Works

Gramm has also appeared in such standard works as "Carmen," "Faust," "Cosi Fan Tutte," "Don Giovanni," "The Magic Flute," "The Marriage of Figaro," "La Boheme," "Die Fledermaus," "Rigoletto" and others.

World premieres with orchestra are also in Gramm's varied musical experience. He has sung Giannini's cantata "Canticle of the Martyrs" at the Moravian Festival and Richard Cumming's "The Crowne" at the Peninsula Festival in Fish Creek, Wis. Both works were commissioned by Thor Johnson.

Cumming is acting as Gramm's accompanist and has contributed a song for the Appleton concert: a setting of Shakespeare's Sonnet XXIX.

Gramm makes a point of including contemporary compositions in his recitals, particularly such writers as Aaron, Copland, Paul Bowles, Gian-Carlo Menotti and Ned Rorem.

Among Gramm's early awards were first prize in Chicagoland Music Festival; a four-year full scholarship to Chicago Musical College; three times recipient of Oliver Ditson Award; and winner of Paul Lavalle Scholarship which is the largest single scholarship awarded by National Federation of Music Clubs. This led to repeated performances on Chicago Theater of the Air.

Square Dancers To Hold Class

Guys and Dolls Square Dance Club will begin a new class for dancers at 8 p.m. Saturday at Richmond School. Wilbert "Bill" Sweet will instruct. Anyone interested may register in advance by contacting Mrs. Marshall Gullickson, 1602 Rynders St., or Mrs. James Brunclik, 611 N. Union St. Registrations will also be taken before the class Saturday.

Vernon Weyers Becomes Member Of Honor Group

Vernon Weyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Weyers, route 1, Kaukauna, recently was inducted into Eta Kappa Nu, national electrical engineering honor association at the University of Wisconsin. Weyers, a junior, is a 1958 graduate of Freedom High School.

Partner Can Use Bidding As Guide

When you double a slam you ask your partner to make an unusual opening lead. This is all very well as far as it goes, but it may not be enough to guide your partner.

West couldn't tell what sort of unusual lead his partner wanted. Moreover, some players use the slam double to ask for the first suit bid by dummy. Since West had six clubs it seemed reasonable to him that his partner might be void of the suit.

For these reasons West opened the king of clubs. This gave South his chance to make the contract. South carefully discarded the ten of diamonds on dummy's ace of clubs. He drew a round of trumps, cashed the three top diamonds, got to dummy with a trump and ruffed a diamond. He then returned to dummy with a trump to discard the losing spade on dummy's last diamond.

Whose Fault?

Whose fault was it that South made the grand slam? Did West make a foolish opening lead, or did East do something wrong?

It's hard to censure West for the club opening lead. East could have been more helpful at an earlier stage.

As soon as North bid three hearts it should have been clear to East that the opponents might well have a vulnerable slam. The best defense against this was to get a diamond opening lead. If East stepped into the auction with a bid of four diamonds he would make sure of the best defense against a heart contract.

Suppose South doubled four diamonds? Then East would have to run to four spades. West might have the wit to rescue in clubs, but even four spades would not be badly hurt.

Mind you, I don't recommend bidding a void suit when you have an unreliable partner. But if you have an expert partner and a higher - ranking rescue suit, the defensive cue - bid may produce a very fine result.

Daily question

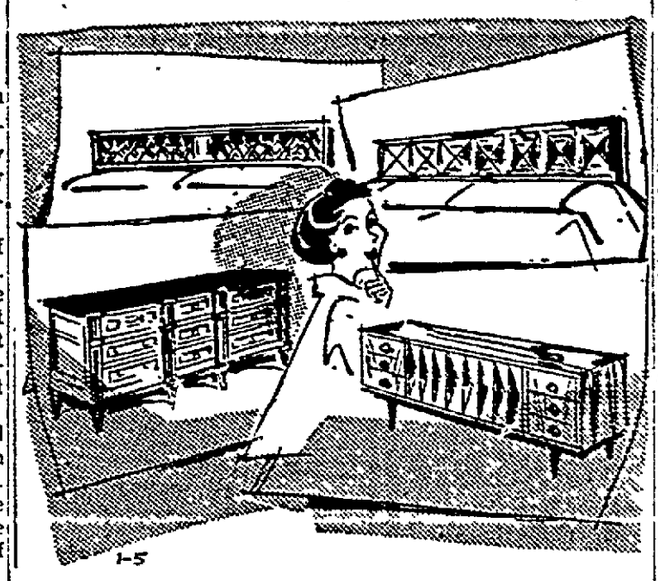

Partner opens with one no trump (16 to 18 points), and the next player passes. You hold: S-K 9 6 4 3 2, H-6, D-None, C-10 9 7 5 3 2. What do you say?

Answer: Bid four spades. You can't really be sure of what you can make, but in the long run you will get your best results from bidding game with freakish hands.

Painted and Sculptured for the Bedroom

One fashion trend for bedroom furniture stands out clearly—nearly all surfaces are decorated, and are almost never flat. For traditional furniture, there are many panels, delicate flutings for posts and legs, lacy cut-outs for headboards. For contemporary furniture, sculpturing breaks long cabinet surfaces, and headboards take raised decorations and inlays. Here are examples from two bedroom groupings designed by Merton L. Gershun which are ready for spring preview, and have other trend stories to tell.

The traditional furniture restates the trend toward painted finishes that are softly shaded in antique effect. Pulls match the parchment color, with only a glint of brass showing through, and gold leaf is rubbed into reeded posts. Deep sculptuding at center distinguishes the long, low cabinet in contemporary style, and the headboard is decorated with inlays of the walnut to contrast the grain, and a framing of anodized aluminum.

Send today for Elizabeth Hillyer's booklet "What's Wrong With That Room?" a quick check list of room faults and how to correct them—a booklet that contains so much information it's a short short course in practical decorating. For your copy, address Miss Hillyer at this newspaper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 15 cents with your request.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. My parakeet has a large lump at the end where his tail is located. What causes this? Mrs. H. Jurgens, Scotch Planes, N.J.

A. You don't say whether your parakeet is male or female. The female bird could be egg-bound, which simple means that she is unable to lay her egg naturally and needs surgical help. In birds of either sex, a tumor is possible and a veterinarian should be consulted. But, most often, these lumps are due to dirty, matted feathers. Wash the lump carefully with plain water. If this simple treatment does not cause the lump to dissolve, it would be kinder to your bird to have a veterinarian see it immediately.

(Address your questions to Dr. Moller at 9848 Manchester Road, St. Louis 19, Mo. He will answer selected inquiries in his column, but cannot reply to them.)

Your Problems

Writer Complains That Ann Is Prejudiced Against Men

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm sure my wife wrote that letter complaining because she ran out of gas three times last month — once on the bridge.

Ann Landers

Why didn't you tell her that women who share the family car should also share in the responsibility for keeping it going? Most dames don't know anything about a car except how to start it, steer it and stop it. They never pay any attention to the tires, the oil, water or gas. So long as the four wheels move they are satisfied.

Any female who is so dumb that she would drive around and ignore the gas gauge deserves to be stuck. Why didn't you tell the wife off like you do the husbands when they behave like fools? You're so biased against men in your column you make me sick. — Bow Tie

Dear Bow Tie: You have an excellent point — and I agree I let the dizzy dame off too easy but please read the next letter. It may improve your health.

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Why don't you ever give us wives a break? One more piece of advice against us and I'm going to stop taking the paper.

First you say women ought to iron sheets. Then you come out in favor of ironing our husband's shorts. With these two columns you added three extra work hours to my ironing day. I have six beds going in my house and it's no joke.

The final straw was when that woman wrote and complained because her husband stopped in at a bar every night after work. Sometimes he'd get home three hours late — loaded, of course.

I really did a slow burn when you asked the woman if she was anything special to come home to. Darned if you didn't take the husband's side and say that men who hate to go home usually have a good reason. All a lot of rum-buckets needed was a little encouragement from you, Ann Landers — and you gave it to 'em. I'll bet you're a miserable old maid who enjoys starting family fights. No wife could write like you do. — No Fan

* * *

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our daughter who is not yet 16 tells us she is madly in love with the school bus driver. He is twice her age, has been divorced and is the father of three children.

I went to see this man and asked him as one father to another to please stop sneaking around with our daughter. He promised he would not see her any more but his promises were a mouthful of lies. Two nights later she said she was going to a girl friend's house to do homework. When I phoned over there she wasn't even expected.

Please tell me what to do. I am — Worried Sick

Dear Worried Sick: You can stop treating this bum as if he were a respectable man whose word meant something. Go directly to the school board and have him fired.

If the authorities knew what was going on they would take him off the route the next day. Such characters should not be permitted to work around teenagers. Heaven knows how many other young girls he's dating on the sly.

News of the Twin Cities
Neenah - Menasha

State Officials and Members of the executive committee of the Winnebago County Juvenile Detention Study Committee look at a report on the new Milwaukee County juvenile detention facilities. Standing, left to right, are Robert Ganser, State Department of Public Welfare, consultant to child welfare committees; the Rev. Ralph H. Hermsen, director, Neenah-Menasha Apostolate, Oshkosh Apostolate; Raymond Gladieux, state department division for children and youth, and Kenneth Ramminger, juvenile court consultant, State Department of Public Welfare. Seated, left to right, are: Mrs. Clarence Bredendick, Neenah, chairman, subcommittee on child welfare; Dr. W. D. Disch, Winneconne, chairman, subcommittee on detention; Jack Casper, Neenah, committee secretary, and the Rev. John Hanchett, Menasha, committee chairman.

County Situation

How to Show Residents Needs Is Problem of Study Committee

NEENAH — The executive committee of the Winnebago County Juvenile Detention Study Committee Wednesday afternoon took a long hard look at how far it has progressed since its inception last September and mapped out a program by which members hope to complete their work by the June target date.

The Rev. John Hanchett, chairman, and six other members of the committee met at the Boys' Brigade with three representatives from the State Department of Public Welfare. State officials present were Raymond Gladieux, division for children and youth, Milwaukee; Robert Ganser, State Department of Public Welfare consultant to child welfare committees, Madison, and Kenneth Ramminger, juvenile court consultant, division for children and youth, Madison.

The biggest problem, the committee and Ramminger felt, was how to orient and acquaint Winnebago County residents with the work being done by the committee and the objectives of the committee.

Committee Job

The job facing the committee, as stated in its study guide, is to determine "whether the current policies, practices and facilities relating to the detention of juveniles in the county (Winnebago) may be said to be adequate when compared with desirable standards."

The aim of the committee is now to acquaint the people with its work in this field through a series of news releases to newspapers, service clubs and county and city officials. A second means of publicity suggested was presentation of programs to the various service clubs.

The final step would be a series of public meetings later in the spring to be held in Neenah, Menasha, Oshkosh and probably Winneconne.

First Task

Up to now the work of the committee has been gathering data on juvenile detention through several subcommittees. Subcommittee findings also were reported at the meeting. Sub-committee work is scheduled to be finished in February.

Dr. Gordon V. Drake, guidance director at Oshkosh State College and chairman of the subcommittee on law enforcement, reported his group has finished a questionnaire which will be sent to all police chiefs in the county.

Information asked includes a breakdown on all juvenile arrests as to age group, sex, violation committed and disposition of case. Police department views on handling of juveniles also is being asked.

Two Recommendations

R. W. Barry, a Winnebago County case worker, reported two recommendations from the juvenile court subcommittee. One would be to provide the juvenile court with an intake worker and, secondly, to give the juvenile judge more

Pass Initial Resolution on Assessments

Affects Area on Far Southwest Side of Neenah

NEENAH — A preliminary resolution to levy special assessments for installation of sanitary sewers, laterals, water mains, and grading and graveling was passed by the Neenah Common Council Wednesday night.

Property affected fronts on the west side of Cecil Street from Meadow Lane to Tullar Road. Diane, Gregory, Louise and Shannon Streets, Melrose Lane from Sund Street to Gay Drive and Gay Drive.

The assessment will be 100 per cent of the total cost of the improvements.

A petition from Marvin Etten, 1120 Congress Road, for rezoning four lots in the Peckham addition from single to multiple family dwelling and one lot from single family dwelling to commercial, failed to win approval of the council.

However, since Etten had not made a deposit for a public hearing, Mayor Chester S. Bell said he could request a hearing by making the required deposit.

Plans for the Pleasant View Subdivision in the Town of Neenah on Highway 114 were referred to the plans commission.

Psychiatrist to be Speaker at Banquet Of Holy Name Unit

NEENAH — Guest speaker at the 6 p.m. Sunday annual banquet of the Holy Name Society of St. Margaret Mary Catholic church will be Dr. Harry Colgan, Neenah psychiatrist. The banquet will be held in the school cafeteria.

Dr. Colgan will discuss "The relationship of religion and psychiatry." The banquet is open to the men and sons of St. Margaret Mary and St. Gabriel parishes. Entertainment is being planned for the sons.

Reservations can be made with Harold Dieckhoff, society president.

Gutzmann in Running for Board Post

David Sewall to Seek Alderman's Seat in Menasha

MENASHA — Arthur O. Gutzmann, 224 Kaukauna St., has filed nomination papers in the city clerk's office for his candidacy as Second Ward supervisor for the City of Menasha. Clayton Heiss incumbent Fourth Ward supervisor, filed his completed nomination papers Wednesday.

Gutzmann

Heiss

Gutzmann retired Aug. 31, 1951 as fire chief. He is a former commander of Lenz-Gazecki Post 152, American Legion.

Gutzmann will seek the Winnebago County Board of Supervisors post now held by Alfred J. Becher, who seeks renomination.

David Sewall, 23, 308 Eighth St., has secured nomination papers for the Second Ward alderman's post, now held by Frederick J. Block, who seeks reelection to a second term. Sewall is a sophomore at the University of Wisconsin — Fox Valley Center, majoring in political science. He also is employed part-time at the Neenah Krambo market. He was released from the army in November 1959 after two years' service in the infantry. He was assigned to the Korea garrison.

Car Leaves Dixie Road; Menasha Driver Injured

OSHKOSH — Mrs. Alvin Baker, 109½ First St., Menasha, received a possible spinal fracture when her car went off the Dixie Road near the Highway 41 intersection at 6:45 p.m. Wednesday.

She was taken in the Neenah ambulance to Theda Clark Hospital where her condition was described as "fairly good." Mrs. Baker told county authorities she was headed south on the Dixie Road and that a train going in the same direction parallel to the road confused her. She missed the curve where the Dixie Road turns to intersect with Highway 41 and her car went into the ditch, traveling 81 feet after it left the road and ending 21 feet west of Highway 41.

Mrs. Baker was found wandering on the side of the road by Paul Kuhnel, 673 Stevens St., Neenah, and was taken to the home of her brother-in-law, John Baker, route 1, Neenah. County police called the ambulance.

Driver Forfeits Bond For Illegal Turn

NEENAH — Henry Ehlers, 79, route 2, Neenah, forfeited bond of $14.20 for making an illegal right turn. He was arrested by Neenah Police at 2:55 p.m. Tuesday when he made a right turn onto Wisconsin Avenue from N. Commercial Street from the center lane of traffic.

Loehning Will Seek Re-Election

NEENAH — Supv. Clarence E. Loehning, 54, 436 Franklin Ave., has taken out nomination papers, announcing he will seek re-election at Tenth Ward supervisor.

Loehning first won election to the Winnebago County Board in 1959 when the then incumbent Frank Klinke did not seek re-election.

Council Passes Resolution for Sewer Bond Issue

Will Advertise for Bids on Work After Final Passage at Meeting

NEENAH — The initial resolution authorizing the city of Neenah to issue general obligation bonds, not to exceed $400,000, for sewer correction was passed Wednesday night by the common council.

City Clerk R. V. Hauser was authorized to have the resolution published. Final approval will be given at the next council meeting. The city may then ask for bids on the work.

The resolution will make it possible to ask for bids on the work before the bonds are sold.

Seven Projects

Seven projects are scheduled to be financed by the bond issue. They include additional sewers for certain areas, relief sewers to augment present sewers, pump station revisions at the Adams and Cecil street stations, a new 42-inch storm sewer on Cecil street and a bypass line and revisions at the Park and Doty street station.

The sewer correction project is the result of a survey made by the Jerry Donohue Engineering Co., Sheboygan. The Donohue firm also was engaged to assist in completion of the program. Severe flood conditions late in 1959 prompted the program.

Vacate House

In other action, the city clerk was authorized to serve notice to vacate tenancy at 113 E. Doty Ave. and to advertise for bids for the removal or the tearing down of the house.

The city purchased the house from Mrs. Ellen Johnson, giving the city ownership of the entire block on E. Doty Avenue. The site will be used for parking purposes after removal of the house.

A recommendation by the plans commission for the adoption of an ordinance restricting parking in the lots immediately east and and south of the city hall was referred to the public protection committee.

Ald. Harold Young, chairman of the plans commission, said the commission had recommended restricting parking in the two lots to city hall employes and have a 15 minute limit on public parking for city hall business.

Ald. James Dinius protested that 15 minutes was not long enough. Mayor Chester S. Bell concurred and said the public protection committee should work it out.

$409,764 In City Taxes Collected

NEENAH — City Treas. Walter H. Loehning reported today that residents have paid property taxes totaling $409,764 25 up to the time his office closed Tuesday afternoon.

Total property tax due from Neenah residents is $2,293,000. Loehning reminded those who are paying their taxes in one payment that the deadline is Feb. 28. For those paying in installments, the first installment is due by Jan. 31.

He also reminded dog owners that 1961 dog licenses are now available at his office. These must be picked up by Feb. 1. License fee for male dogs is $1 and $2 for female dogs.

Donald Zielke Fined $100 on Two Charges

OSHKOSH — Donald Zielke, 33, 1506 Beach St., Oshkosh, this morning pleaded guilty to charges of inattentive driving and failure to yield the right of way to a pedestrian in a crosswalk. He was fined $100 and costs on each charge and his driver's license was revoked for one year.

A previous charge of homicide through intoxicated use of a vehicle in the traffic death of Michael Naughton, 6, Oshkosh, on Dec. 31 was amended to change it to inattentive driving. Zielke was absolved Tuesday by a coroner's jury of the charge of homicide by intoxicated use of a motor vehicle.

Report Hess Tries To Kill Himself

GOETTINGEN, Germany (AP) —The Goettinger Tageblatt reported today that Rudolf Hess has made three recent suicide attempts in West Berlin's Spandau war crimes prison, where he is serving a life sentence.

The independent newspaper said Hitler's one-time deputy twice tried to cut his wrists with a paper knife he had found in the prison garden and that in the third and most recent attempt he prepared to hang himself in his cell, but was stopped by a guard.

The Tageblatt, which gave no source for its report, said control of the prison has been tightened since. Troops from the Big Three Western allies and the Soviet Union rotate in guarding the prison.

Ponder Dual Use of Sunnyview Sanatorium

Winnebago, Fond du Lac Board Groups Cite Population Drop, New Treatments

OSHKOSH — Future use of Sunny View Sanatorium was discussed Wednesday night at a meeting of the sanitorium board of trustees, the institutions committees of both Winnebago and Fond du Lac Counties and the board chairmen of the counties.

The trustees pointed out, because of the drop in population at the sanatorium, the board has been giving some thought to the possibilty of using it as a dual purpose institution.

Those present Wednesday night discussed the dual institution idea in detail but decided to carry on the building in its present use for the balance of this year and to see what conditions exist then.

Sanatorium officials in the past have pointed out to the county board that new drugs and surgery procedures have reduced the length of stay of the patient considerably. Patients in whom tuberculosis is doscovered early have been aided greatly in the arrest of the ailment through these new methods.

This has resulted in the reduced population at the sanatorium However, many of these patients still receive treatment through sanatorium facilities on an out-patient basis. It is stressed that there will be no change in the present operating policy.

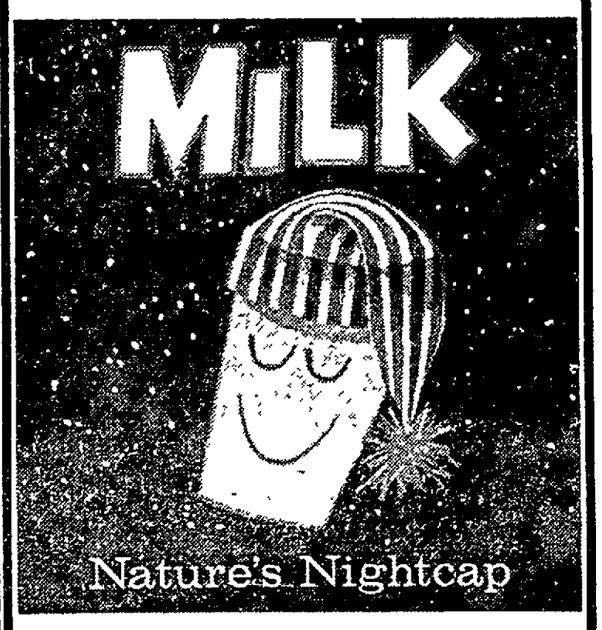

Huge Carrier Will Cost Less to Repair

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy now says it will take less money and less time than originally estimated to patch up the carrier Constellation, damaged in a fire Dec. 19 at New York. Fifty workmen died in the fire.

Repairs will take about seven months and cost about $47,942,000, the Navy said.

Shortly after the fire, Navy officials estimated the repair job might cost about $75 million and result in a one-year delay before the new ship was ready for the fleet.

Study Group Must Inform Public of Needs

The intake worker's job would be to assume responsibility of a juvenile after apprehension and to make a thorough investigation before the juvenile appeared before the judge.

The scope and philosophy of the child welfare division of the Department of Public Welfare has been the job of the subcommittee on child welfare, Mrs. Clarence Bredendick, chairman.

One of its study problems is the relationship of child welfare and detention. "We have learned," Mrs. Bredendick said, "that problems are not solved by shipping them out of town."

Tour Facilities

Detention facilities in Dane, Milwaukee and Kenosha counties were toured recently by the detention subcommittee under Dr. W. D. Disch, Winneconne.

Winnebago County facilities are not up to par, he indicated.

The objective of the committee — to determine whether the present Winnebago County juvenile detention facilities are adequate and to propose a standard for facilities and personnel — will be outlined once all subcommittee reports are completed. Public sentiment will then be felt out as to what type of facility the county should strive for.

Must Show Cause

Before public meetings can be held, the Rev. Hanchett said, cause must be shown why facilities in the county should be improved.

The job of compiling subcommittee reports was given to the Rev. Ralph H. Hermsen, director of the Neenah - Menasha Apostolate, Oshkosh Apostolate, a Catholic agency dealing with juveniles; Jack Casper, committee secretary; Barney Weess, juvenile court subcommittee chairman, and the Rev. Mr. Hanchett.

Patrick Muskavitch, Who Is 7 years old today, received an honorary deputy sheriff's card from Undersheriff George Meating on the eve of his birthday at New London Community Hospital. The deputy sheriff's card was signed by Sheriff Ray Abrahamson. Pat is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Muskavitch, route 1, Shiocton. He was seriously burned Aug. 31 while playing with fire at his home.

Calumet County 1960 Traffic Toll Of 13 Thought to be Record High

CHILTON — Calumet County's 1960 traffic record, in keeping with the general trend throughout the state, established what is believed to be a new fatality record of 13 highway deaths.

Although no records are available, Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky said the fatality total of 1960 should be an all - time high but may have just equalled the fatality record set some 20 years ago. Last year, 1959, eight persons died in county traffic accidents, the study prepared by Patrolman Victor Juno shows.

During 1960, a total of 258 accidents were reported, three fewer than the 261 investigated during the previous year. Twenty-seven fewer persons—150 in all—were injured as a result of mishaps during 1960 compared with 177 during 1959.

Property Damage Cut

Property damage resulting from the 1960 crashes totaled $137,070 compared with $138,970 during 1959. The county fared better in every category but the all-important fatal column.

Non-reportable accidents, those with property damage of less than $100 and no personal injuries, totaled 32 all of which were investigated by county traffic patrolmen.

Two-car crashes where the most common type accident with a total of 125 occurring during 1960. Sixty - seven vehicles ran off the roadway and 54 struck fixed objects. Thirteen overturned in the roadway.

Car - Train Crashes

Four mishaps involved a car and a train; three pedestrians and three animals were struck; and two crashes involved more than two vehicles.

One occurrance of each of the following types of accidents was reported: farm tractor, bicycle, motorcycle, school bus, and a passenger falling from a moving vehicle.

Only 56 women drivers were involved in accidents during the last year compared with 344 male operators.

Far more youthful drivers, those falling in the teenage or 16-20-year age bracket, were involved in accidents than any other age group, 107 in all. Sixty-eight 21 to 25-year - olds were drivers of crash cars to be the second most accident prone age group. Others were: 26 to 30, 40 accidents; 31 to 35, 30 accidents; 36 to 40, 27 accidents; 41 to 45, 21 accidents; 46 to 50, 17 accidents; 51 to 55, 14 accidents; 56 to 60, 17 accidents; 61 to 65, 13 accidents; 66 to 70, three accidents; 71 to 75, two accidents; 76 to 80, over 85, and under 16, one each.

Worst Month

December was 1960's worst month for accidents with a total of 34. During 1959, November topped the list with 29 and April and September deadlocked for the fewest with 11.

Only 12 accidents were reported during June of 1960 for the year's low and July and September tied for second high with 28 each.

During only one month of 1959—June—did more than one person die on county roads. Last year, two persons were killed during January, October and November and three were killed during February including two in the year's only multiple crash.

Three pedestrians were among the 13 traffic victims.

More crashes occurred on Sundays, 57, than on any other day of the week. Saturdays were next in line with 50 while Tuesdays and Wednesdays, with 25 and 20, respectively, were the days on which the fewest mishaps took place.

Thirty - four of the 1960 accidents occurred between 1 and 2 a.m. with the hour between midnight and 1 a.m. not far behind with 26.

The hours between 3 and 6 p.m. when most persons are hurrying home from work also ranked high as the most dangerous time to drive.

A total of only three accidents occurred between the early morning hours of 4 and 6 a.m. and the hour from 8 to 9 p.m. also showed only three crashes.

Rural areas were the location for 249 of the year's smashups and nine occurred in urban areas. State highways were the setting for 132 of the rural crashes; county trunks, 65, and town roads, 61.

Open highways proved more dangerous than intersections with 154 accidents taking place on the straight stretches. Sixty - four were reported at highway intersections; 12 at driveway intersections; 11 between streets; six at railroad crossings; four each at overpasses and culverts; two at street intersections and one in a public parking area.

Gegan Picked Co-Chairman Of Committee

Furthers Candidacy Of Rothwell for State School Head

OSHKOSH — A committee to promote the candidacy of the Manitowoc superintendent of schools for state superintendent of public instruction was formed here Wednesday by 30 Winnebago County educators and interested lay persons.

Named co-chairmen of the Winnebago County Angus B. Rothwell for State Superintendent of Public Instruction Committee were M. J. Gegan, Menasha school superintendent, and Harry Tipler, Oshkosh superintendent. Tipler served as temporary chairman of the organizing meeting.

Dan Danielson, Neenah Vocational and Adult School director, was named treasurer, and Miss Alma Therese Link, Oshkosh, secretary.

Rothwell has been endorsed by many state public school administrators to succeed George I. Watson, who will retire June 30, at the end of his 4-year term.

Defer Proceedings in Lawrence Block Case

OSHKOSH — Further proceedings on charges of non-support and issuing three worthless checks by Lawrence Block, 34, Larsen, were deferred until March 7 by Municipal Judge Arnold J. Cane this morning as arrangements have been made for Block's hospitalization at the government hospital at Tomah. Block was released on his own recognizance as long as he is under custody of the veterans administration.

Fox Cities Drivers Fined at Chilton

CHILTON — Reuben Baelke, 64, Box 185, Kaukauna, and Charles C. Mader, 22, 1232 W. Spring St., Appleton, each were fined $10 by Justice John Daul for speeding.

John A. Jahnke, 20, 302 Hewitt St., Neenah, was fined $15 for inattentive driving and Merle E. Witthuhn, 34, of 34 Sherman Place, Appleton, was fined $10 for ignoring a stop sign.

Date of Antique Show Set

MENASHA — Women's Fellowship of First Congregational Church set Oct. 20 as the date of its annual antique show. The show will be one day only, unlike past years when antiques were shown by state dealers for two days.

The date was announced at a Wednesday morning pancake breakfast at the church with Junior Group members as hostesses. Fellowship members will serve a dinner April 11 for the Rebekah Lodge district meeting in Menasha.

It was announced over 355 pounds of clothing were collected for the Church World Service project. Mrs. Fred Heidtke conducted the devotional period.

Participating in the program, "Mr. Asia and Mrs. USA Talk It Over," were Miss Grace Finch and Mrs. Allan Loehndorf. A film, "One World," was shown.

Missing Member Rejoins Family

NEENAH — A family link, missing for over 30 years, was rejoined to its Neenah kinship over the Christmas holidays.

The story of the missing cousin began long before the beginning of World War II when Herbert Fuss, son of the late Henry Fuss of Neenah, ran away from home at the age of 16. His family never learned of his whereabouts until his death.

Notified by the government that Herbert died as a soldier in the Baton death march in the Philippines, his father learned at the time of the death settlement that his son had married a Philippine woman and had a 6-month old child, named David.

As young David was growing up, he became curious about his father's family and sought means of establishing contact with them. When he was 15, he met a friend of his father, who had survived the death march and stayed on in the Philippines after the war.

Purdue Freshman

After contacting the government David wrote letters to his grandfather, not knowing he had died, and to other relatives to no avail. "Finally one got through, to Mrs. Frances Madsen, a sister of my father, who arranged for my visit," David reported.

David, who is now a freshman at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., spent the holidays with his aunt, Mrs. Madsen, and his cousins, the Rev. Charles Luhn, Ronald and Linda Fuss, Mrs. Howard Steffens, Mrs. Charles Heckner and Daryl Madsen.

The young man, who is a United States citizen, plans to remain in this country after graduation from college. His mother, who lives in Manila, haes married a Chinese man and has five other children.

Brush Dumping Ordinance Is Approved

Small Twigs, Limbs Will be Forbidden At Rubbish Grounds

NEENAH — An ordinance restricting the disposal of brush in the city rubbish disposal area was adopted by the council Wednesday night.

The ordinance, which was held over from the last council meeting, forbids dumping of brush and branches of less than four inches in diameter in the dumping grounds.

Purpose of the ordinance is to conserve dumping area. Small brush does not pack down, Mayor Chester S. Bell said, and disposal of it in the dumping area would rapidly fill up the present area.

However, he said, residents can still get rid of brush and other small items either through the regular combustible rubbish pick up, or by taking it to the sewerage disposal plant where it is used as fuel.

Garbage truck crews will collect brush from the curb if it is tied in bundles not more than four feet in length and two feet in diameter.

Another ordinance was adopted changing the city traffic code to conform with the revised 1959 Wisconsin traffic code. The ordinance substitutes the 1959 code for the 1957 code.

Health Commissioner Seeks Reformed Drunk To Head Department

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Wanted: A reformed drunk.

The State Department of Health is seeking one to help administer an attack on alcoholism through treatment, education and research.

Dr. Richard B. Holt, deputy health commissioner, said Wednesday he must find an assistant director for the Division of Alcoholism—a man "who will be highly motivated and highly qualified, preferably a member of Alcoholics Anonymous."

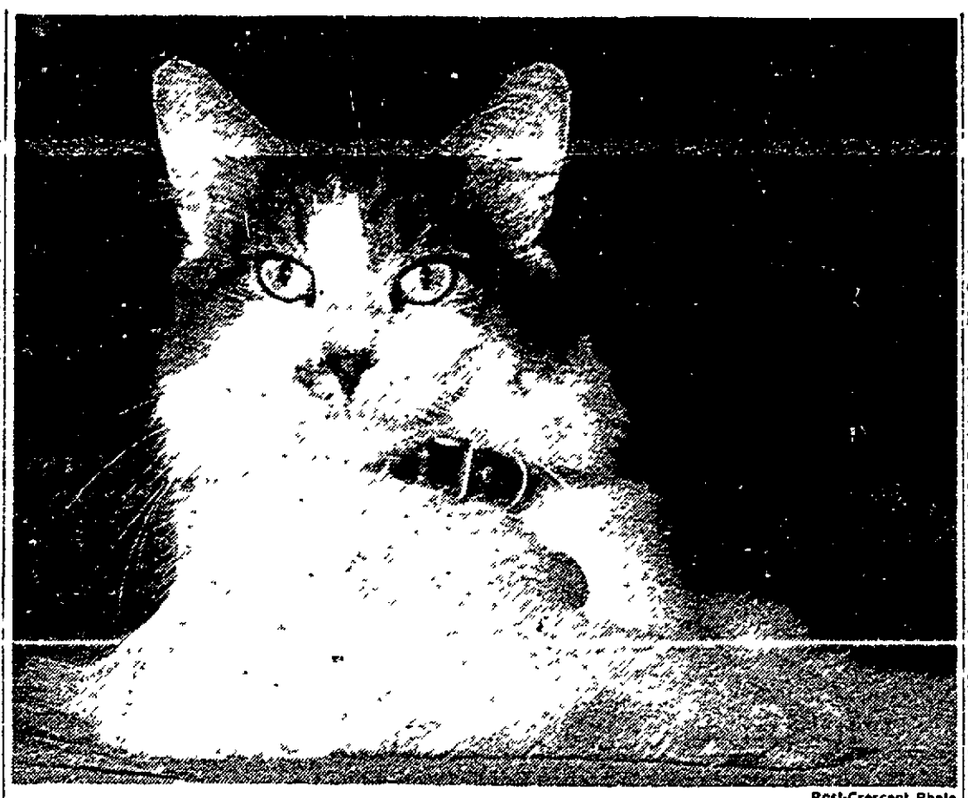

Holt believes if a man has a feeling for the job he can do it better.

2 Area Businessmen On Seminar Committee

Two Fox Cities businessmen are on the program committee for the first 3-day seminar for industrial foresters of the lake states March 26 to 29 at the Trees for Tomorrow Camp, Eagle River.

Bruce Buell, Marathon Corp., is chairman of the committee in charge of the seminar program and C. A. Samuelson, Kimberly-Clark Corp., is a committee member.

Forty-eight industrial foresters from Wisconsin, Michigan, and Minnesota have registered for the course sponsored by the Lake States Council of Industrial Foresters.

There's an Air of Regal Dignity even though his name is an undignified "Fuzzer." The cat above, owned by Mrs. Robert Vander Walker, 115 Whitlow St., Neenah, rests his front paws over the cement steps and calmly watches the world go by—or perhaps he is looking for a field mouse. The 2-year-old cat weighs a husky 20 pounds.

Detectives Still Baffled by Bay Slayings

Post Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY—Detectives here still are sifting evidence and continuing to follow any possible lead into the Tess Doherty-Wilbert Lewis murder case. There have been no results.

Detective Capt. W R. Gilsdorf thanked Green Bay area citizens for their cooperation in attempting to give any information they might have in the case. Some information received is being checked further, he said.

Clues sought include who might have been around the tavern about the time of the shooting Monday night, why a two-hour gap exists between the time of the killing and the finding of the bodies, and any possible motive for the slayings.

Those under questioning include persons who frequented the tavern, Tess's Midtown Club, 126 S. Adams St.

Accused of Fire Slaying of Wife

LAKEWOOD, N.J. (AP) — A woman died of burns today and police said her husband admitted setting her afire after giving her a sedative.

The husband, John Robert Van Arsdall Sr., 36, of West Creek, an unemployed seaman, had been held at the Ocean County jail in lieu of $25,000 bail on an assault with intent to kill charge.

His wife, Mrs. Veronica Van Arsdall, 49, was brought to Paul Kimball Hospital Dec. 13 with burns on 60 per cent of her body.

The burning was first listed as an accident. Arsdall said then that his wife had been burned in a kitchen mishap. Later, he told Mrs. Arsdall's daughter by a previous marriage, Mrs. Constance Reinke, that her mother was burned by a cigarette while lying on a couch.

Jap Reds Using Music Of Stephen Foster

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Orchestra conductor Alfred Wallenstein says Communists in Japan are using melodies of the late American composer Stephen Foster in spreading propaganda.

He said Wednesday he learned that a number of Foster songs are sung with the lyrics changed to praise communism.

Reformatory Inmate Defied Guards, Hit Deputy With Club

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — A 17-year-old inmate who assaulted a state reformatory deputy with makeshift weapons Dec. 28 was scheduled to appear before Juvenile Court Judge Donald W. Gleason this afternoon.

Deputy Floyd Anderson received two cuts on his right hand from a razor blade and a badly bruised right eye, a cut over it and a bruised right arm from a piece of a chair the boy used as a club.

The deputy was hurt when he went to the aid of guards who were trying to move the boy from a cell to one where he could be watched more closely. One of the guards was bitten on his side.

The boy refused to enter the new cell and wielded a chair cross member with a screw head protruding from the end, a pointed stick and razor blade.

The boy, who cannot be identified unless the case is transferred to criminal court, was born outside Wisconsin and entered welfare department custody from Rock County in southern Wisconsin. He has spent time at Waukesha School for Boys, the child center at Sparta, Mendota State Hospital and Central State Hospital at Waupun before coming to the reformatory in June.

Quail Shooting, Golf On Tap for Ike After He Leaves Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's plans after he leaves the White House Jan. 20 include quail shooting in Georgia and a month or two in a California house overlooking a golf course.

The White House said yesterday that immediately after the inauguration of John F. Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower will attend a luncheon with members of his cabinet at a private club here. Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission under Eisenhower, will be the host.

After lunch, the Eisenhowers will drive to their Gettysburg farm, where they will remain for a day or two. Then Eisenhower will be off to Albany, Ga., for hunting on the plantation of W. Alton Jones, head of Cities Service Oil Co.

He'll rejoin Mrs. Eisenhower at Gettysburg tafter a few days, and they will go to their vacation spot at the El Dorado Golf Club near Palm Springs, Calif.

Mild Weather Replaces Cold In Wisconsin

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mild weather has moved into Wisconsin in the wake of a severe cold spell. High humidity and ground fog marked the change.

Maximum temperatures Wednesday ranged between a state high reading of 36 degrees at Lone Rock to 21 at Grantsburg. La Crosse registered 32, Lake Geneva 31, Kenosha 30, Madison 29, Eau Claire and Racine 28, Wausau and Milwaukee airport 27, Green Bay and Park Falls 26 and Superior Duluth 22.

The coldest spots overnight were Grantsburg and Lone Rock where the temperature dropped to 2 above zero. Green Bay was the warmest with 17.

A few snow flurries were recorded Wednesday in the Wausau area and the Superior-Duluth region.

The nation's icebox this morning was Fraser, Col., where it was 30 below. Wednesday's high was 74 at Thermal, Calif.

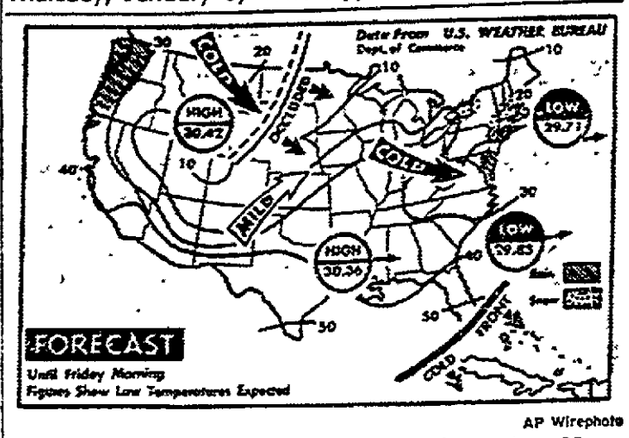

Chilton Man Fined $100

Erwin W. Popp Arrested After Home Disturbance

CHILTON — Erwin W. Popp, 47, route 1, Hilbert, was fined $100 and his driver's license was revoked for one year by Justice John Daul after he pleaded guilty of drunken driving.

Popp was arrested Jan. 3 by County Patrolman Victor Juno on Highway 114 just west of Potter. Popp refused a drunk-o-meter test.

The arrest stemmed from a telephoned complaint that Popp was creating a disturbance at his rural home. Undersheriff C. J. Kosmosky received the call from Popp's wife. He and Juno arrived at the Popp home just as the man drove away.

Snow Flurries are Expected tonight in western New York and in southern New England while light rain is forecast for the northern Pacific coast. It will be warmer over most of the nation except for the south Atlantic states, where relatively low temperatures will continue.

1933 Nobel Prize Winner Succumbs

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Prof. Erwin Schroedinger, Austrian physicist who won the 1933 Nobel prize in physics, died last night of an asthma ailment, his family announced today. He was 74.

Born in 1887 in Vienna, he started his career in theoretical physics and chemistry at the Universities of Jena, Stuttgart and Breslau. Later he headed the Institute for Theoretical Physics at Zurich University.

His theory on wave mechanics revolutionized physics in 1925 and brought him the Nobel award eight years later.

Jury Absolves Oshkosh Driver In Boy's Death

Finds No Unlawful Means Other Than Being Inattentive

OSHKOSH — The traffic death Saturday night of 6-year-old Michael Naughton of Oshkosh was not caused by any unlawful means on the part of Donald Zielke, 32, 1506 Beech Street, Oshkosh, but Zielke was negligent in the extent of inattentive driving, a coroner's jury ruled Wednesday afternoon.

The jury deliberated 2½ hours before returning the verdict which absolved the driver who was charged in municipal court Tuesday with homicide by intoxicated use of a motor vehicle.

Four possibilities were presented the jury for verdicts but the jury elected to return a fifth verdict. The possibilities were homicide by intoxicated use of a motor vehicle, homicide by reckless conduct, homicide by negligent use of a vehicle or that it was not caused by unlawful means on the part of the driver.

The Naughton boy was crossing Ceape Avenue at its Main Street intersection about 7 p.m. Saturday when he was struck by a car driven by Zielke who was turning right from Ceape Avenue onto Main Street. The boy landed 12 feet north of the Main Street crosswalk, leading police to believe the boy had been crossing in the Main Street sidewalk.

Saw Collision

The only witness actually to see the collision of the boy and car testified Wednesday afternoon that her attention was called to the boy because he was walking along the east sidewalk on Main Street, eating a popsicle although it was a cold night.

The boy stepped from the curb into the crosswalk to cross Ceape Avenue on his way home which was a block away. The Zielke car which was stopped for the traffic light started up while the boy was in the crosswalk, she said.

Car Came Back

She noticed the boy begin to run but in the same direction that the car was moving as if to get out of the car's way. The car seemed to push or carry the boy around the corner and the boy ended up 19 feet west of the east curbing on Main Street and 12 feet north of the crosswalk.

Witnesses said the Zielke car continued on, went around the block and then came back and that Zielke said he was the driver of the car.

Oshkosh police testified that Zielke is practically blind in his right eye, the side from which the boy stepped into the street, and that Zielke tested .18 on the breathalyzer while .15 is considered evidence of being under the influence of intoxicants.

The jury ruled that the death was not caused by unlawful means as indicated in the intoxicated use of vehicle, reckless conduct or negligent use of a car nor by any unlawful means, adding that Zielke's negligence was inattentive driving.

Iranian Science Teacher Will Live in Neenah for 3 Weeks

NEENAH — A young Iranian science teacher will spend almost three weeks in Neenah, studying American teaching methods and becoming acquainted with the American way of life.

Amir M. Nikbakht, 26, a science teacher at Sina High School in Tehran, Iran, arrives in Neenah today and will remain here until Jan. 20.

Nikbakht, who speaks fluent English, will observe teaching methods and also may conduct several classes, Dr. Donald Scott, acting superintendent of Neenah schools, said Wednesday.

While in Neenah Nikbakht will stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gil Bayley, 413 Tenth St.

Neenah High School is only one of five high schools in Wisconsin to be assigned a foreign teacher. The program is sponsored by the International Teachers Development program, under the direction of the United States Department of Education.

A faculty reception for Nikbakht will be held at 4 p.m. Friday.

Approves Settlement In Traffic Death of Winneconne Resident

OSHKOSH — County Judge Herbert J. Mueller Wednesday approved a compromise settlement in an action resulting from the traffic death last May of Peter Lasley, 78, route 1, Winneconne.

The settlement provides for payment of $1,234 in funeral and medical expenses and $2,000 for conscious pain and suffering to Lasley's estate.

He was a passenger in a truck driven by Herbert Bruss, an employe of Miller and Peterson firm of Winneconne which was insured by Employers Mutual Insurance Co.

NHS Teacher Is Honored

Named to Posts In Two National Biology Groups

NEENAH — John Gundlach, Neenah High School biology teacher, has been elected a regional director of the National Association of Biology Teachers.

Gundlach

Gundlach was elected at the association's convention in New York which he attended Dec. 26-31. The association, which has over 6,000 members, includes both high school and college instructors.

He will represent Wisconsin, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan and Indiana on the association's board of directors.

Gundlach also was recently appointed to the steering committee of the Biological Sciences Curriculum Study, a nationwide organization concerned with improving biology teaching at the high school level and reorganizing the high school biology curriculum.

As a member of the group, Gundlach assisted in preparing a new high school biology text book which is now in use in high schools throughout the country.

A 4:15 p.m. reception for members and a 5 p.m. business meeting will be held in the school auditorium.

Police Find Parolee Who Stole Truck

Youth Missing From Menasha Town Farm Since Monday

OSHKOSH —A parolee who stole a truck Monday night from his Town of Menasha employer was apprehended Wednesday near Rolla, Mo., Sheriff Richard T. Lowell was advised Wednesday afternoon.

County authorities plan to leave either tonight or Friday morning for Missouri to return Richard Peerenboom, 18, 944 Witzel Ave., Oshkosh, who has waived extradition.

He had been working at the farm of Carlton Haase, route 2, Neenah, since shortly before Christmas, having been taken there by a probation officer who secured him the job.

While the family was at a funeral home Monday night, Peerenboom took the truck, the sheriff's office said.

The youth had been sentenced March 11 to not more than one year at the state reformatory at Green Bay for two counts of burglary which involved breaking into two Oshkosh boathouses in December of 1959.

Schmidt's 590 Peak Effort in 'Commercial'

NEENAH — Howard Schmidt's 590 series led the Commercial Bowling League scorers Wednesday night at Muench's Recreation.

Don Christensen rolled 572, Tony Raab 567, Al DeRoche 556 and Doug Jensen 555. Holz Sewing Center has a 5-game lead with its 32-13 record.

Jerry Erb swept honors in the Neenah Women's City League Wednesday night at Muench's with her 204 game and 512 series. Larson-Schreiter (33½-11½) leads by five games.

New Hockey Rink at Recreation Field Now in Operation

NEENAH — The ice hockey rink at the Neenah Recreation Field, the funds for which were donated by the Neenah Kiwanis club, is now in operation, according to Recreation Director Bill Miller.

The Kiwanis Club donated $400 for the boards. The rink is constructed on the softball field and its lights are used to illuminate the ice. Because the rink is on the diamond, it will be moved when the skating season is completed.

Neenah High School uses the rink for an intramural hockey program and it is used for general skating on Saturday nights and Sunday afternoons and evenings. It is also available one hour Saturday afternoon for use by any interested groups without charge. Further information may be obtained by contacting the Recreation office.

All Members Paid-Up

MENASHA — Lenz - Gazecki Post 152 American Legion, is one of the first posts in the Wisconsin Department to reach 100 per cent paid-up membership this year, reports Comdr. Richard J. Steffens. Arnold Sewall is membership chairman, responsible for the sign-ups.

Word Study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Brain Twisters

Figurit

Here's one to test your financial know-how. A man bought himself a suit for $103, including the tax. He paid for this suit in cash with eight pieces of currency. But these eight pieces of currency were not made up of five $20 bills and three $1 bills, as you might at first suppose. It so happens that he paid with eight other bills, and there were no $1 bills among these. Can you determine how this was possible?

Answer

He paid for the suit with one $50 bill, two $20 bills, one $5 bill, and four $2 bills.

String Modeling Interesting Project, Start With Animals

BY CAPPY DICK

String modeling is a good after-school fun-project. Using only ordinary white string and fine spool wire, you can easily make a group of small animals for a string zoo. Figures 4 and 5 show typical results.

To make an animal that will be about an inch and a half high, use a piece of spool wire a foot and a half long. Fold it into four lengths as in Figure 1. You must now bend these four strands of wire into the general shape of the animal as suggested in Figure 2.

Begin with the ears. Bend the two outside ends of the wire into loops for these. Make the head by bending outward the two middle strands. Then twist all four strands together for the neck. Also bend the four strands down and back for each foreleg (so each leg consists of eight strands of wire). Allow a loop at the end of each leg to serve as a hoof.

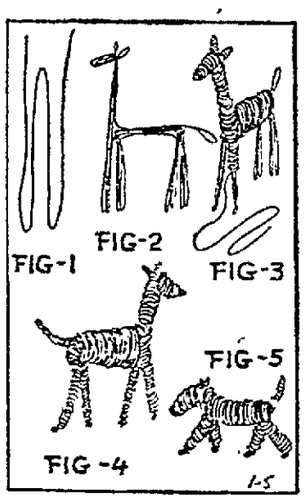

Next, shape the four strands for the body and form the two hind legs as you did the front ones — eight strands of wire for each leg. The remainder of the wire will make the animal's tail.

To wrap the strings around the frame, begin at the middle of the body. Lay the loose end of the string along the body and wind the cord around and around the wire and the end of the string. After applying two layers of string to the body, start winding the head. First run the string up from the body to the head, wrap the ears, then the head and finally wind downward around the neck. You may have to bend the end of the nose wire around the string to hold it in place.

After winding down the neck, proceed down one front leg and back (Figure 3) down the other front leg and back, around the body again, down and up each back leg and finally around the tail. Twist the wire around the string at the tip of the tail to hold it securely.

After experimenting with simple animals, you'll find it easy to make string giraffes, tigers and even rhinoceroses. For some of your animals use colored string.

Hefty Pole Sitter Lifted From Perch; Got Sick, Gave Up

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — John Gregory, 28, a flag pole sitter who weighs nearly 500 pounds, was lifted off his lofty perch at a shopping center with a crane after he became ill Friday.

Gregory, of Janesville, Wis., mounted the 45-foot high platform 83 days ago in an effort to break his old record of 211 days, set in 1958 at Fort Smith, Ark. He had hoped to stay aloft 222 days.

Red Paper Accuses U. S. of Lying About Intervention in Laos

MOSCOW —(AP)— Izvestia represented the Eisenhower administration Tuesday night as deliberately lying about Communist intervention in Laos.

The government newspaper said word that Communist forces had invaded Laos was a Washington invention "so false and clumsy that America's allies, especially Britain, refuse to support it."

Peck Sweeps Pin Honors in Neenah Wheel

Cracks 256 Solo; Rau, Schaefer Top 'Fellowship

NEENAH — Harry Peck's 256 game and 621 series topped the Neenah City Bowling League Tuesday night at Muench's Recreation.

Other honor totals included Bob Hanson 234-607, Frank Lanzer 602, Herb Kramer 601, Bill Schmidt 588, Al Kobussen 587, Al Muench 581 and Carl Hoehne 570.

Badger Oil is in the lead by 1½ games with its 28½-13½ record. Badger Oil and Haase and Drews swept their series.

Angus Rau of Gear Dairy clubbed a 235 game and Jim Schaefer of Independent TV registered a 616 series to split honors in the Lakeroad Goodfellowship League Tuesday night at Lakeroad Lanes.

Other honor totals included Don Merkey 581, Len Due 560, Duane Dode 560, Al Klevano 556 and Mike Simonis 225.

Elward "Bud" Smith socked a 234 game to pace the men and Alta Breaker of the Giants posted a 190 line and 507 trio to lead the women in the Winchester Baseball Couples circuit Sunday night at Lakeroad. Smith bowls for the Cubs, who are tied for first with the Giants. They have 18-9 records.

Vote Bonds To Pay for Auditorium

OSHKOSH — The Oshkosh city council Wednesday took the initial step to assure the construction of a 1,500 seat auditorium for the city.

The council voted to publish an initial resolution for the issuance of $685,000 in general obligation bonds to pay for the auditorium which will be built in connection with the new high school.

Private donations will provide more than half of the cost and will be paid over a period of years. Because these donations extend over such a period, the Oshkosh council must float bonds to pay for the entire amount at this time.

A resolution commending the services of Harvey R. Abraham for the 14 years he has represented Oshkosh in the assembly was passed by the council. Abraham did not seek re-election in November.

George Massey Leads Jayvee Team Scorers

MENASHA — Scoring honors on the Menasha junior varsity basketball squad belong to sophomore George Massey, who has accumulated 71 points in seven games.

The Bluejays have a 2-5 record, including 1-3 in conference play. They defeated West De Pere and Kaukauna and lost to Manitowoc, Appleton, Neenah, Two Rivers and Kimberly.

Menasha is averaging 42.4 points a game on its 298 scored and its opponents have totaled 348 for a 50 point average. The Bluejays return to league action Friday night at New London.

Badtke, Dietz Top Germania League Scorers

MENASHA — Harvey Badtke of Herb's Food Town toppled a 577 series and Jim Dietz of Wanserski's posted a 231 single in the Germania League Tuesday night at the Brin Bowl.

Clothes Shop and Wanserski's are tied for first place with 4-2 records. Two other teams are a half game out.

Jay, Rocket Quints Resume Mid-Eastern League Action

Neenah High Entertains 'Kaukauna '5'

NEENAH — Can Neenah rebound from last week's non-league loss to Appleton to record its fourth straight Mid-Eastern Conference triumph?

Currently the Rockets own a 3-1 M-E log, good enough for a second place tie with New London. They're one game off Kimberly's pace. A Papermaker loss and a Neenah win would give the Red and White a share of the top rung.

Kaukauna comes here with an 0-4 conference record but it boasts the league's best defensive total. The Ghosts have exceeded the 50-point mark only once in eight games and only managed 27 in losing by 20 to Plymouth in a non-conference fray Tuesday night.

Common Foes

In previous non-league games, the Ghosts lost to Preble and Fond du Lac and won over Sheboygan North for their only victory.

Common opponents have been Fond du Lac, Menasha and New London. Both lost to the Bulldogs and Fondy and the Rockets beat the Bluejays by seven points and Kaukauna lost by eight.

Neenah, which has an overall 4-4 chart, is led by Paul Felton, whose 98 points is good for first place among all conference sharpshooters.

Other totals by the likely starters include Jim Sauby (49), Dave Burton (40), Dave Neubauer (37) and Doug Ankerson (18). Dick Kuehl, 6-1 sophomore who tallied 10 points against Appleton, is expected to see considerable action.

Kaukauna's best scorers in league play include Ken Kavanaugh (37), Dennis Priebe (32), Tom Hiestand and Fred Steger (23) and Steve Mayer (20). Hiestand didn't play against Plymouth because of a broken hand received in practice during vacation.

MHS Bids for Third Win at New London

MENASHA — Menasha gets its first taste of actual prep competition since mid-December when it invades New London Friday night for a resumption of its Mid-Eastern Conference schedule.

The Bluejays haven't met a high school foe since absorbing a 71-48 loss from Kimberly on Dec. 16. However, since then they've had a fracas against a talented Alumni squad and gained further game experience with several scrimmages during the holiday vacation.

The Menashans dropped a 78-77 decision to the Alumni but Coach Clem Massey gave every boy on the squad a chance to see plenty of action and the result might have been different had his regulars gone all the way.

Sophomores George Massey, the coach's brother, and Bill Herrbold both have been promoted to the varsity and may see some action Friday night. Both also will play with the jayvees.

John Matowitz, who saw his first game action against the Alumni, is slated to start at one guard spot. Bill Gerhard, George Arno, Bob Opsahl and Jim VandeCastle all had started at the position in at least one game.

The Jays must win if they hope to keep their championship hopes aglow. Three losses would make the outlook bleak, especially if unbeaten Kimberly keeps winning.

New London and Menasha both have 5-2 overall records and both were beaten in their last outings. The Bulldogs had a 5-game winning chain unlinked by Shawano.

New London's leading scorer in conference play is Dick Emerich with 72 points. His brother, Dave, has 39, followed by Dan Laux (37), Mike Herres (35) and Jim Winckler (19). Don Hanold, a regular last year, but who has been handicapped by a football injury, has nine.

Luella Hallock Powers 544 in Neenah League

Florence Kasel Top Scorer in Kitchen Dodgers

NEENAH — Luella Hallock of the Larsen Tavern team powered a 544 series and 211 game to slam honors in the Tuesday Night Ladies Handicap League at Lakeroad Lanes.

Betty Nelson rolled 198-519, Helen Taplin 191-500, Carola Nygren 198-509, Jo Babbitts 201-504 and Olga Mentzel 202-520.

TV Creating Its Own Memorable Museum

Fine Re-Creation of Historic Data Being Kept Alive in Television's Repertory

BY JINGO

In the very recent past, filmdom has started to gather together momentos of its considerably memorable history for preservation and display. Because of the unthinkable lapse of time, it is very unlikely the record ever will be complete.

Jingo

Because most of television today is recorded on video tape, the very production of a program becomes a museum piece. Since the industry is so young, there really isn't any thought of a museum. The museum pieces are being kept alive right in the electronic cyclops.

Last week's effort was the superb 90-minute cutting of the 26-week series "Victory at Sea." Its exposure on TV would have destroyed any other piece of art. Now it really is going into a museum. Adm. Daniel Smith has accepted the new version for the permanent archives of the U. S. Navy.

The living record of our times, "Project 20," is ideally suited for museum preservation. The dignity, integrity and industry that has gone into these magnificent works demands their preservation.

This worthy service of NBC reached something of a pinnacle during the recent Yuletide with "The Coming of Christ," a searching examination of man's artistic desire to capture the essence of that epoch - making advent. The beauty of the program will not be relegated to the memories of its viewers. NBC plans to make its showing an annual affair.

Tuesday "Project 20" showed the other side of the coin, "The Twisted Cross," as ugly as the former was beautiful, but no less effective. On Jan. 24, the series turns its intelligence on "Life in the '30s."

* * *

CBS on Jan. 15 will attempt a more melodious segment of history when it gathers together Richard Rodgers, Ethel Merman, Maurice Chevalier, Florence Henderson, Ron Husmann and Julie London for a review of "The Gershwin Years."

* * *

While exceptional editing and presentation along with nostalgic reminiscence vivify the recent past, dramatic re-enactment allows television to give insight into our heritage. Jan. 13 the "Our American Heritage" series will bring to life "The Invincible Teddy," pointing up several parallels with a current drama scheduled for Washington Jan. 20. Roosevelt was the youngest President, the wealthiest, a professional writer, a war hero, a Harvard Law School alumnus and a dynamic personality. George Peppard will portray the invincible one.

Casualty Blues Start for TV

Imposing Group of Pinch-Hitters for Red Skelton Show

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-RADIO WRITER

NEW YORK (AP)—One of the dirtiest tricks a television reporter can play on the medium's performers (and certainly on press agents) is to recall after a show has made its debut some of the advance promises they made about it.

Last August, in Hollywood, this reporter talked with and wrote about many stars and stars-to-be and the series which were soon to be launched on the networks.

The head man of a Western told me he believed his series would prove the most adult and shocking—"hard and realistic" — ever to win a prime-time spot. It turned out to be just another 30-minute horse opera and has been canceled.

* * *

Stars of a police-action series based on the idea of filming parts of their shows in real night clubs and using singing stars, often under their real names, thought they had something off-beat that would catch on. It was "Dan Raven," and one of the season's first casualties.

Therefore, it is with understandable cynicism that this reporter passes on the word that Nanette Fabray thinks that her new comedy series which bows in Friday night on NBC contains "the best material I've ever had in my life."

Miss Fabray, an extremely talented performer and a most ingratiating young woman, may be right. But even if she is exaggerating, she may be forgiven: The series was created and many of the scripts were written by her husband, Ranald MacDougall, and the idea is based on the home life of the Ranald MacDougalls.

* * *

Red Skelton's pinch-hitters during the CBS comedians' convalescence from surgery sound as if some particularly interesting shows would result: Danny Thomas next Tuesday, and then in succeeding weeks Ed Sullivan and singer Bobby Rydell; Arthur Godfrey and Jackie Gleason in one of their vaunted "conversations," and Marcel Marceau, the great French pantomimist.

When Her Fourth Grade Class at Lincoln School was studying about cotton last March, Karin Sommer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Sommer, 1000 W. Glendale Ave., planted a cotton seed. She kept the plant through the summer, and this fall four cotton bolls bloomed. Karin, now 10, brought it to school for her fifth grade classmates to see.

Cucu, Isn't It?

Ableman, Even Halfman Are Students by Mail

MADISON—When one works in a department that gets mail from all over the world it's hard to keep pace with the many strange names people have had since the day they were born.

Employes in the correspondence study office of University of Wisconsin Extension daily get mail from thousands of home study students living in countries throughout the world. Someone kept a list of a few of the odd names (including those in the above paragraph), but after several pages of finding out that Edith Sleeps, Margaret Frets, James Will Steele, Wanda Marie Leaps, and Howard Spitz, the compiler apparently decided not to keep any running record via the postal department because it was too tough.

The categories could be endless. If food is on your mind, for example, one could turn to Myrtle Turnipseed, Mable Sauerherring, Ann Egg, Metta Bean, Alvin Pea, Iona Pye, Wava Pancake, James Onion, G. C. Hershey, Naomi Waffle, Ruby Wine, and Julia Hunger.

For Young At Heart

For the young at heart there is Rollin Moon, Naomi Dear, Barlow Spoon, Helen Cuty, Marion Meeter, James Birdsong, Virginia Love and Bertha Maryme.

There is an Ableman, Halfman, Muchman and Wildman. One finds a Pinch, an Overcash and a Much More. Musically, one can choose among a Melody, Hornblower or an Organist.

But if these and hundreds of others aren't enough to drive you Cucu, consider the correspondence study student named Clarence Iceberg who, appropriately, lives in Alaska.

Good Conduct Ends After Prison Release

MILAN, Italy (AP)—After years of good conduct while in prison for murder and robbery, 60-year old Potito Mottola was given leave to visit his family.

Arriving in Milan yesterday, he went first to the apartment of his 32-year-old son. No one was home. Mottola set the furniture afire.

Then he went to the apartment his wife and their unmarried daughter shares. Police said he stabbed them both. Their injuries were not serious.

No Quick Action By Kennedy Seen

New Administration Will Take Time to Take Stock, White Says

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

WASHINGTON — The incoming Kennedy administration is deliberately discouraging, both here and abroad, all those easy optimists who still expect some quick and dramatic push by the new United States government to ease the cold war.

White

Though it may not be too cheery a fact to fling into the face of the hopeful new year, the only realistic view is this: we, and the West in general, face a fairly prolonger period of what may seem to be American inaction while the new administration takes careful stock of the world position and makes its own dispositions.

Not for six months will the United States be ready to move toward any fundamentally fresh stroke in the long, icy impasse with the Soviet bloc.

Gloomy, Plain Facts

It probably will be even longer before the new president is prepared to contemplate anything so grand as a summit conference with Nikita Khrushchev of the Soviet Union—if he ever is so prepared.

The cold war was a long time abuilding; it will not be melted in any sudden and miraculous way—if at all.

These gloomy but nonetheless plain facts of life are being slowly and carefully pressed upon the American and allied peoples by Kennedy and his principal advisers. Publicly, the cue is being given by such incidents as the Kennedy plan to have a roving ambassador.

The purpose here is not to create some free-wheeling super-negotiator carrying the White House in his dispatch case. It is the reverse—to return to a traditional diplomacy which will tend to keep the President and secretary of state at home while subordinate agents represent them abroad.

The way the wind is blowing is being privately indicated to allied diplomats. They are being cautioned not to assume early top-level meetings between, for illustration, the new president and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain.

The whole emphasis in the beginning months of the Kennedy administration at least, will be on making haste very slowly. Downgraded will be all heads-of-state diplomacy—all the trappings of summitry. Upgraded will be the old, slogging, foot-soldier kind of professional diplomacy; if and when we go to another summit we will go only with vast prior preparation.

All this is in the cards not simply because Kennedy and Dean Rusk, incoming secretary of states, take a pretty dim view of summitry as such. A whole new set of hands is coming into power and in common prudence it will take some time to learn the ropes.

This new set of hands must learn really to know and to know how to operate smoothly with the old sets of hands in foreign governments, which for eight years have been accustomed to dealing with entirely another American set, the Eisenhower people.

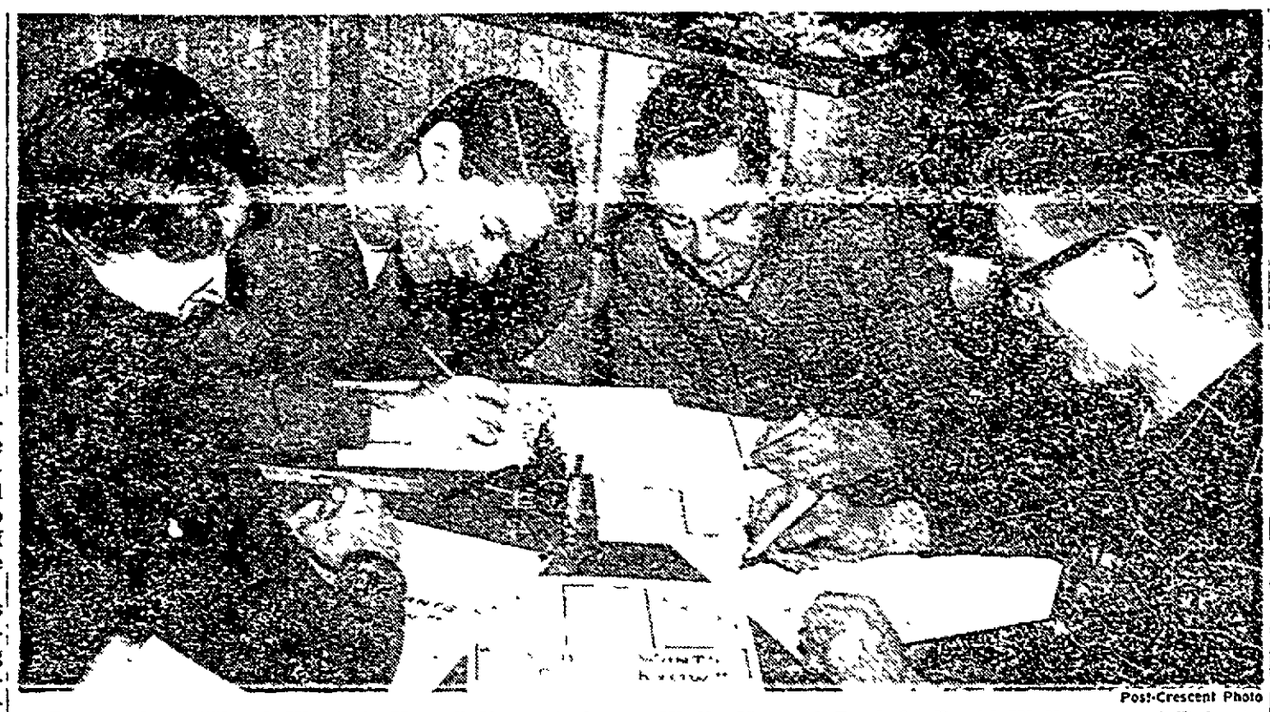

Congress to Play Part

Kennedy's election victory was by no means unpopular abroad. But a certain sense of dislocation, of having to start all over again with new men and new faces on one side, is felt on both shores of the Atlantic.

The new fellows here must learn to negotiate with old allies before there can be much sense in our trying to negotiate all together with an old antagonist, Russia.

Kennedy intends to bring Congress into the closest actual partnership in foreign affairs it has ever known. This, too, will require some work before White House and Congress are drawn up into proper position together to confront the world and the future.

The dinner will be Jan. 30 at the Masonic Temple and will feature speakers discussing topics of interest to youth.

Coroner's Office Investigates 100 Deaths in 1960

One hundred deaths were investigated by the Outagamie County coroner's office during 1960, Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said in his annual report.

Of the deaths, 54 were due to natural causes; 40 to accidents including traffic and industrial accidents, fires, suffocation, and drowning; five were suicides, and one was due to alcoholism. Appleton had the only city traffic fatality in the county during the year, Kemps reported.

Kemps' request for emergency equipment on his car, refused by the board of supervisors July 1, makes this county the only county of 100,000 in the state which does not provide such equipment, he noted.

Kemps recommended that insurance coverage should be provided, if it is not now available, to cover the property of a deceased person whose death requires the coroner's investigation.

Two Stores Plan Front Remodeling

Titus Heigl, owner, said today the $14,000 remodeling job also will increase floor space from 900 to 2,100 square feet by removing walls between the store and beer depot section and adding to the rear of the store.

A new ceiling, new lights and a new floor will be included.

The front of the Spiegel Catalog Shopping Center, 127 E. College Ave., also will be remodeled. An aluminum and glass front is expected to be installed.

Catholic Music Teachers to Hold Workshop Here

Four hundred parochial school teachers are expected in Appleton Saturday for a music workshop sponsored by the Green Bay Diocesan elementary school unit of the National Catholic Music Educators Association (NCMEA).

Teachers of grades one to four will meet at St. Joseph School, where Miss Beth Crook, head of the music education department at the University of Delaware, will direct the demonstrations and activities.

St. Mary School will be the clinic center for teachers of grades five to eight. In charge of this group will be Sister Rose Margaret, C.S.J., of Fontbonne College, St. Louis, co-authoress of the new Catholic Ginn Music Series.

Appleton music teachers completing plans for this all-day clinic are Francis Scholtz, St. Joseph School, president of the NCMEA Green Bay Unit, and Sister M. Gereon, O.P., St. Mary School.

Street Workers Get Time Off, No Pay

Appleton's street department workers—about 50 of them—were given the Friday afternoon before Christmas off, then were not paid for the time.

Their representative, Robert Schlieve of the Teamsters, told the council by letter Wednesday night that the action was "a breach of good faith."

The men were told by their superior, Superintendent of Streets Reinhold F. Schulze, Dec. 23 that they could go home after lunch and that they were to enter a standard day's hours on their time cards, Schlieve says. Then, the next Friday—a pay day—the men found they had been docked three hours' pay.

The council didn't act on the letter. Mayor Clarence Mitchell sent it to the street and sanitation committee for consideration.

Apparently, Schulze checked with Mayor Mitchell before telling the men they were to have the afternoon off. Park department workers, also represented by Schlieve, got the Friday afternoon before New Year's off. The park board has not acted on the payroll covering that period.

The time off with pay for street department workers was refused by Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski, who approves all payrolls for departments under his jurisdiction.

Schlieve says "the employes accepted this time off in good faith. To then be penalized financially is a gross injustice.

"I am requesting the council to take whatever action is necessary to insure employes payment for time deducted from their checks. In so doing, you will be belatedly making this the Christmas gratuity for which it was initially intended," the business agent concludes.

$626,599 in Appleton Property Taxes Paid Before End of 1960

Appleton property owners paid $626,599 in taxes to City Treasurer Ray L. Feuerstein between the time tax notices were mailed just after Christmas and the end of 1960.

Included in 1960 receipts were all checks mailed before midnight Saturday. Last year, $596,794 in taxes were paid by New Year's Eve.

Some people gain income tax advantages by paying two property tax bills in one year and none in the next, Feuerstein explained.

Consumers Seek Quality in Foods

BY SYLVIA PORTER

A shopper from 20 years ago would not recognize one-third of the groceries in our supermarkets today. So great is the revolution in food production and merchandising that I interviewed Nathan Cummings, chairman of Consolidated Foods Corp., on one surprising facet of this story. This is the last in a special yearend series of columns on significant economic developments and prospects, as seen by a select group of leading industrialists and financiers.

Porter

Q. Porter: As the processor and distributor of the fabulously successful — but expensive —Sara Lee products, you're obviously in the quality food line. What do you think your experience proves about the American consumer's attitude toward quality at higher price?

A., Cummings: I think it is proof of the triumph of quality over price. I think it proves that the public, the mass public, will back up its demand for top quality products with its dollars and that in these days when — far too often for consumer comfort —slipshod performance and sleazy products are evident in the market place, the thrifty housewife will be the first to pay for quality — providing it is consistent quality.

Quality Wins

If ever there was an industry where the consumer calls the turn, it is food. Consumers are hungry for top quality products and services. Quality, in the long run, always wins out over price. Also, in food more than in any other field, quantity production has been closely related to high quality and improved values to increased demand. Our national concept of an adequate diet has changed within a generation to mean an optimum diet.

Q. What changes to you see taking place at the retail food counter that are of vital interest to consumers?

A: The changes taking place in retail food distribution are phenomenal. One third of the grocery items that fill the market basket today were non-existent only 20 years ago. Perhaps another third has been changed in substance and appearance; you have only to think of cake mixes, desserts, frozen fruit concentrates, frozen concentrates, frozen cakes and complete dinners. Today some stores handle more than 5,000 items.

With all this selection available, there are still about 100 new items placed on the market every week. Because you, the consuming public, are so selective today, only a tiny percentage of that number will prevail.

Sales to Expand

Food sales to consumers, about $72 billion a year, should expand to $115 billion within the next 10 years in order to keep up with the increase in population to over 200 million and the expansion in the standard of living.

So - called convenience foods are more and more in demand as women spend less time in the kitchen. The "built-in" services of convenient, well-packaged food products vastly reduce the former home cost and inconvenience of bulk storage, preparation, cooking, fuel and time consumed.

The tremendous increase in the number of working women is changing our dining and shopping habits and, consequently, our food processing methods. In 1890 only 4 per cent of married women worked outside the home. The figure today is around 30 per cent and still rising. With less time available for cooking and preparation of food, this calls for more "convenience" items on the grocers' shelves.

A: At the retail level, supermarkets will become more attractive. And shopping will be easier and more pleasant.

It is a fascinating future to think about. Too fantastic? Not if one thinks back to the days of the cracker barrel and the open wheel of store cheese. Not if you remember that in the early part of the 19th century it required 85 per cent of the population to produce the nation's food supply, while today 15 per cent of the population produces all the food.

Consumers of food want especially three things: top quality, convenience and variety. They'll always, win out over price.

Salmon Luncheon Salad

Try this recipe for Salmon Luncheon Salad now and then put it in your file for dishes to serve during lent. Moisten sliced celery and sliced stuffed olives with prepared sandwich spread. Add drained canned salmon broken into chunks and chopped, hard cooked egg. Sprinkle with lemon juice; mix lightly and chill.

Hamburgers Rank Among the favorite companions of savory sauerkraut. The kraut is spiced with onion, pepper, raisins and Worcestershire sauce and heaped on buns.

Oyster Industry Remains Unchanged for Generations

The oyster industry has not changed measurably in the past generations. The boats still depend upon sail to move them to the "farms" at the bottom of the bays that are now largely in the Chesapeake near the eastern shore of Maryland.

Many of them are captained by descendants of families that have been in oyster-dredging business for generations. The boats vary in size, the small ones working in the shallow water at river mouths and the larger ones over deep water.

Today, the dredges are motor driven, but the oysters must be sorted by hand and piled into bushel baskets before they are sold to a "buy boat." From the beginning of the season to March 15, oyster men are busy, but they all look as if they enjoy their cold, hard work.

This year, the oysters are plump and are therefore bringing a good price. The large ones are usually eaten from the half shell, while the smaller ones go into stews and other cooked dishes. The flavor of a fine oyster is thoroughly appreciated.

Creamed Oysters With Celery

6 tablespoons butter
6 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspon pepper
2 cups milk
36 (1½ pints) oysters
1 cup diced raw celery
1 pimiento, minced, or 1 teaspoon papriga

Melt butter, stir in flour, salt and pepper and when well blended, add milk slowly, stirring constantly over low heat until mixture thickens and boils. Add drained oysters, celery and minced pimiento or paprika. Cook gently about three minutes until the edges of the oysters curl. Serve at once on hot toast, in croustades or in patty shells. Sprinkle with paprika or minced parsley. Recipe makes six servings.

Oyster Stew

1 pint oysters
1 quart milk
1½ teaspoons salt
Dash of pepper
1 teaspoon paprika

Melt butter, add drained oysters, and cook three minutes, until edges of oysters curl. Add remaining ingredients and bring almost to boiling point. Serve at once. Garnish with paprika. Recipe makes six servings.

Buys of the Week

Many Food Specials In Fox Cities Markets

There's a wide variety of food bargains this weekend in Fox Cities markets. The canny shopper will take advantage of specials in meats, poultry, fresh vegetables and fruits.

It may take a bit of shopping, but bargains are plentiful this week. Examples include U.S. choice round steak in the 79-cent-a-pound range, sliced bacon as low as 33 and 39 cents a pound, tangerines at 19 cents a dozen, clean, crisp carrots at 10 cents a pound, loin pork roast for as low as 35 cents a pound for the rib portion and 10 cents higher for the tenderloin. Baby beef liver can be found as a 49-cent per pound special.

Florida grapefruit, either white or ruby red, and cranberries join tangerines as a best buy in fruits. Firm, juicy grapefruit at the peak of quality are plentiful at this time of year and sell for 10 for 45 to 49 cents. One store is featuring select ripe bananas at 10 cents a pound.

Eggs Lower

Broilers and fryers are plentiful and running well above a year ago because of recent 15 to 20 per cent increases in chick placements. Prices on this feature are still attractive, grade A whole fryers priced at 29 cents a pound, cut-up fryers at 33 cents a pound and drumsticks alone can be bought for 59 cents a pound.

The best buys among vegetables are beets and carrots, Florida celery, red and Danish varieties of cabbage from western New York state, Chinese cabbage from Florida, potatoes, sweet potatoes from North Carolina, endive, escarole, radishes, fall squash, leeks, mushrooms and parsnips.

Mushrooms are Delicious Plus In Italian Dish

Polenta, world-famous Italian corn meal main dish, can be varied in many ways. Now that there are baskets of lovely snow-white mushrooms at budget prices, do try this mushroom, garlic and onion Parmesan cheese version.

Polenta

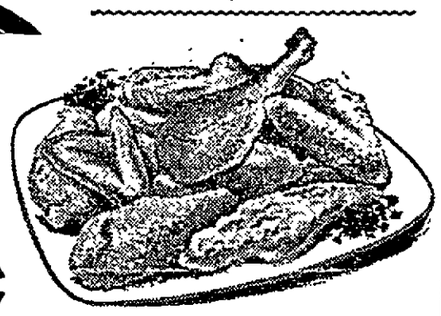

2 cups corn meal
2 cups cold water
6 cups boiling water
2 teaspoons salt
4 cups sliced fresh mushrooms
½ cup diced onions
1 clove garlic, minced
2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
¼ cup butter
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
One-third cup light cream or top milk
¾ cup grated Parmesan cheese
6 mushroom caps, optional

Combine corn meal and cold water. Pour into a saucepan containing boiling water and salt, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, stirring frequently. Cover. Continue cooking over low heat 10 minutes.

Saute mushrooms, onions, and garlic in lemon juice and butter. Add salt and black pepper. Remove cold corn meal mush from pan. Split in half lengthwise to form two layers. Return the lower half to the pan. Cover with sauteed mushrooms over which pour light cream. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese. Top with the remaining mush.

Bake 30 minutes in a preheated 350-degree oven. If desired, 10 minutes before baking time is up, dip six mushroom caps in melted butter and arrange over the top for a garnish. Serve as a main dish.

They Had Broadcast Hash for Breakfast - The Breakfast Your Family Needs For Real Get-Up-and-Go!

Millions of people enjoy Broadcast Corned Beef Hash for lunch or dinner because it tastes so good. Now here's proof that it's also the high-protein breakfast your family needs.

PROTEIN, and plenty of it—that's what your family needs at breakfast. Gives every one of 'em vital energy for the busy day ahead.

1 serving of Broadcast Hash gives you 3½ times more protein than you get from a bowl of shredded or flaked wheat cereal—6 times more protein than you get from a bowl of corn flakes.

You've never had a breakfast with so much get-up-and-go!

You Need Complete Proteins

All proteins are not alike. Proteins that nutrition experts define as complete proteins provide all 10 amino acids essential for a child's growth—including all 8 amino acids essential for human life itself. "Enriched" corn flakes, "enriched" wheat flakes, and even oatmeal are deficient in complete proteins.

Broadcast Corned Beef Hash gives you plenty of complete proteins. Good, lean-beef proteins.

Just Enough Carbohydrates

Too many carbohydrates can "overload" your system, so you produce too much blood sugar, too fast. You feel good for a few minutes, then sag into fatigue. Proper nutrition requires a limited amount of carbohydrates—balanced with proteins.

Broadcast Hash gives you just enough carbohydrates, balanced with plenty of proteins. After this breakfast, you're full of get-up-and-go all morning long.

Naturally Rich in Vitamins

HOW MUCH NUTRITION DOES YOUR FAMILY GET AT BREAKFAST?

ONE SERVING	PROTEIN (grams)	HIGH IN COMPLETE PROTEINS	CARBOHYDRATES (grams)	CALCIUM (milligrams)	IRON (milligrams)	NIACIN (milligrams)	VITAMIN B_2 Riboflavin (milligrams)

All data based on statistics in U. S. Dept. of Agriculture "Composition of Foods" and "Nutritive Value of Foods."

On the Table in 4 Minutes

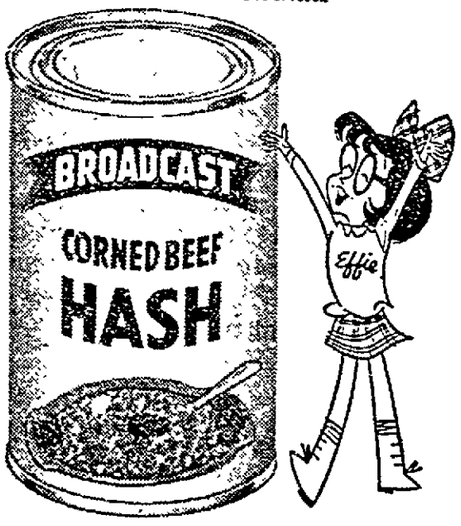

Most hearty breakfasts take a lot of time and trouble. Not Broadcast Hash. Just open the can, heat, and serve. Great as is. Great with an egg on top. Either way, it's a breakfast with get-up-and-go!

A Meat Dish Kids Like

Here is a wholesome breakfast that goes over big with the children. (With Dad, too. Ever notice that railroads and hotels have corned beef hash on their breakfast menus almost every day?)

Better keep a can or two (Regular and big Family Size) handy on the shelf. For breakfast or brunch, dinner or lunch, everybody in your family will go for the All-American goodness of the lean corned beef in Broadcast Hash.

Slow Rise in Steel Output Seen in '61

Labor, Management Tackling Industry's Problem Presently

BY SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel labor and management sit down today to tackle a problem that plagues not only the industry but also federal and local authorities and business in general.

In human terms it's the problem of joblessness and short weeks that affect the families of thousands both in and out of the mills.

In terms of dollars it's the problem of slipping sales and profits of the companies, of their suppliers, of those who sell to or serve the steel workers.

In the broader scene the troubles in steel tinge the outlook of the whole economy, since so much depends on the health of this basic industry.

Rising Output

The expectation at the start of 1961 is for slowly rising steel output but whether this will bring immediate re-employment isn't certain.

The expected slow rise in steel output as 1961 continues—much of the increase doubtless in the latter part of the year — will still leave the profit picture in doubt. Wage scales have risen recently, squeezing profit margins further and offsetting at least in part the rise in productivity.

And the steel industry is still up against growing competition from other materials in several of its best markets, as well as the successful hunt of many steel users for ways to cut down on the amount of steel needed in their activities.

The immediate problems that steel management and labor are discussing today rise also from two other things. First is the slowdown in activity in many of steel's prime customers — appliances, railroads, and to some extent in construction. Also, the big customer, the auto industry, uses less steel in its compact cars, along with greater use of glass and aluminum.

Second is the tendency of customers to live off their steel stocks through most of the last half of 1960. Inventories had been built up in a big splurge of steel buying early in the year, and then as often as not users found demand for their products slumping.

As yet steel customers show little tendency to rebuild stocks. But most steel executives say that soon more users will have to stop living off inventories and at least order on a hand-to-mouth basis as many now do.

Union and company representatives meet today as the industry starts an expected climb back from a holiday week slump that saw output at its lowest for any nonstrike period in more than 20 years.

Thanks to the spurt in the opening months, the year as a whole wasn't bad for the industry. It turned out 99.3 million tons, the highest production since 112.7 million tons in 1957.

But the slowdown since midyear has taken its toll both on profits and jobs. And if the confab in Washington can figure out ways to beat competition, increase sales, hold down costs, make more jobs and fatten steelworkers' incomes, the whole economy would be pleased, if slightly surprised.

Dr. William B. Hildebrand, right, 59 Racine St. Menasha, discusses his travel itinerary with Dan K. Brown, Neenah, president-elect of the Wisconsin Heart Association. Dr. Hildebrand, who is state campaign chairman for the 1961 Heart Fund campaign, has been touring the state, meeting with local campaign leaders and telling the "Heart Story".

Wedding Sidelight To Football Game

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The father of a Des Moines girl who chose to be married on the afternoon of a regionally important football game took a transistor radio to the church and kept it tuned to the report of the game until he was interrupted by the wedding march.

After the ceremony, he took his position in the reception line—with the radio bringing him the remainder of the play - by-play report of the game.

Unexpendable Man Keeps Railroad Operating, He Thinks

BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — A railroad is operating at Butte because one man was waived from jury duty.

The man asked to be excused from duty in Judge T. D. Downey's court because he worked for a railroad.

Downey asked, "Don't you think the railroad could operate for a few days without you?"

Magazine Gives Makeup Of '61 State Legislature

Thirty-six of the 133 Wisconsin legislators who will convene Jan. 11 will be serving their first term in the legislature, the Wisconsin Taxpayers Alliance says.

Of the 100 assemblymen, 35 will be new members with no previous state legislative service. One senator will be a new legislator.

The senate will be composed of 20 Republicans and 13 Democrats, the same political alignment as the 1959 session. The assembly will have 55 Republicans and 45 Democrats, just the reverse of the 1959 session. The 1961 session will be the first in which a majority of both houses of the legislature are members of a political party different from the party of the governor.

Young Legislator

The average age of legislators will be 49 years, with a spread of 55 years between the youngest and oldest members. One assemblyman will be 21 years old on the day the legislature convenes. He is believed to be the youngest person ever elected to the legislature.

Attorneys and farmers again will be the major occupation groups represented in the legislature. Also included will be businessmen, manufacturers, salesmen, factory workers, laborers, teacher, student, surveyor and law clerk.

The 1961 legislature will have some interesting brother relationships. One assemblyman will replace his brother who served during the 1959 session, one of the senators is a brother of the lieutenant governor, and a Republican assemblyman is a brother of a Democratic senator.

Scouts Take Tours At New Jersey Track

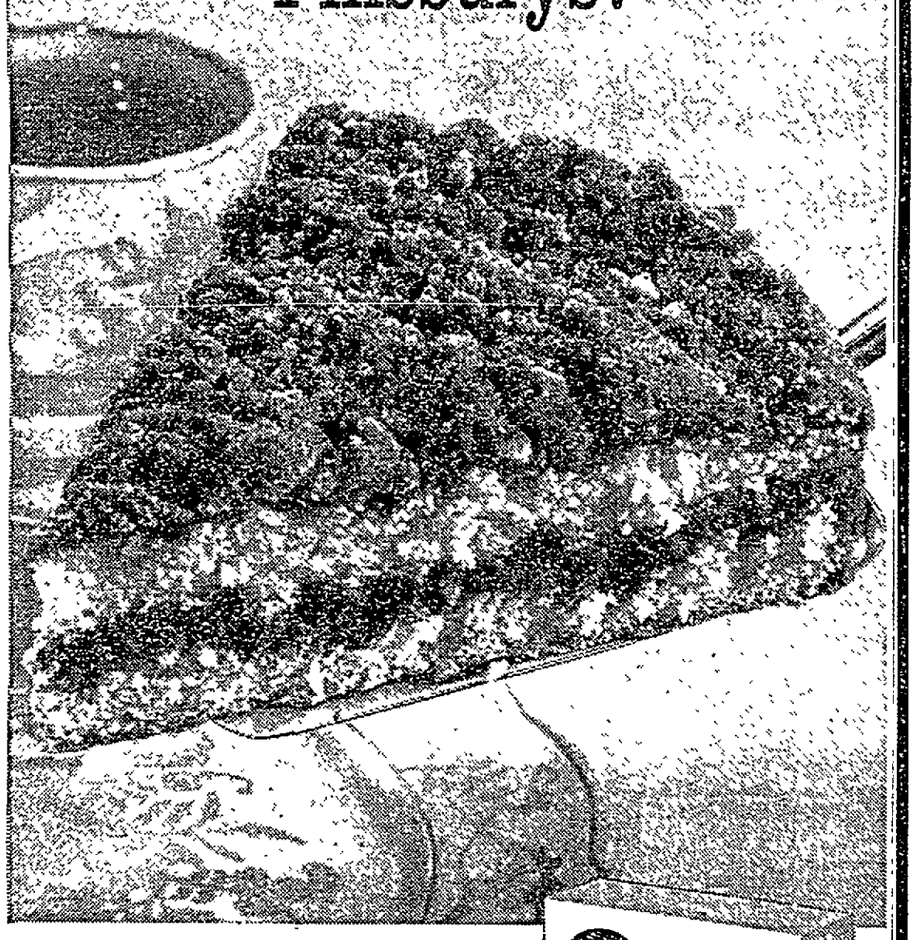

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — You learn a lot of things when you become a Boy Scout.

The management invites Girl and Boy Scouts, Cubs, Campfire Girls and Brownies to be its guests. Among the things toured are the stables, the track itself and jockey room.

New Outagamie Port Would Open With 16,000 Passengers

Industry Executives Predict Their Traffic Will Use Nearest Facility

If Outagamie County builds a new airport somewhere in the area west of Appleton and the Twin Cities, it can count on a minimum of 16,000 to 17,000 passengers annually from the beginning of the operation.

Wright

Largest single airline user in the Fox Cities is Kimberly-Clark Corp., whose vice president for administration, W. M. Wright, said his company would immediately transfer its 12,000 annual passengers to a new Outagamie County airport.

The total figure is from the estimates of Wright and executives from two other large employers in this area. The passenger total consists of both boarding and arriving traffic. The split between those arriving and those leaving is not half and half, but varies with the time of year.

Airport Totals

Outagamie County Airport in 1960 handled 7,404 passengers. Winnebago handled 53,379 and Austin Straubel in Green Bay handled 66,928. By far the largest number of those 16,000 to 17,000 passengers using airlines because of Kimberly-Clark Corp., Marathon division of American Can Co. and Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co. enter and leave the Fox Cities through the Oshkosh airport.

Thus, three industries in the Fox Cities contribute more than a third of the North Central Airline traffic at the Oshkosh airport. The percentage undoubtedly is larger because of the many other industries in this area and because each of the large industries pointed out that their estimates are undoubtedly conservative.

Marathon Traffic

Donald A. Snyder, Marathon general manager and vice president of American Can, estimates his firm sends some 3,300 of its own employes on and off airplanes at Oshkosh. There is no available estimate of outside persons calling on Marathon, but it is believed to be a significant number.

Snyder

Guy E. McCorison, vice president in charge of sales at Thilmany, says his company sends at least 1,300 people to Winnebago County Airport and some to Outagamie. The estimate is conservative because no accurate count is kept except for Thilmany's own employes, he adds.

McCorison

All three executives point out that if Outagamie County built a modern airport, safe and with all facilities, including adequate airline service, that their firms undoubtedly would use the airport because of its convenience to their plants.

Status of Airport

Kimberly-Clark still strongly favors a joint Outagamie-Winnebago County airport as proposed by Leigh Fisher and Associates, Wright said. However, if Winnebago County continues to refuse to joint in such a venture and Outagamie County builds a "modern, adequate and safe" airport of its own west of Appleton, the company will transfer all of its commercial airline business immediately to the Outagamie port, he said.

Marathon feels that too much attention has been paid to the location of the airport, but Snyder pointed out that it is to the best interests of Winnebago County to consider relocation of its airport.

"There has been too little attention paid to safety in all of this discussion," Snyder added.

Much Traffic

McCorison said Thilmany finds it very inconvenient to use the Oshkosh airport and sends some of its passengers to Green Bay. Worst aspect for many using airline travel, he added, is to leave a car at Oshkosh, then return to Green Bay with the consequent problem of ground transportation.

When normal passenger business from other Fox Cities firms which are large users of airlines, plus that of the general public, are added to the three major firms' total, there is little doubt that a new Outagamie County airport would be one of the busiest in Wisconsin outside Milwaukee, Wright predicted.

Company Planes

Kimberly-Clark and Marathon also operate their own fleet of company airplanes and keep them at the Oshkosh airport. There is no doubt that if Outagamie County builds a new airport as recommended by the Fisher firm, Kimberly - Clark eventually would transfer its fleet operations to the new field, Wright said.

Marathon's fleet operations might move to the new airport, but Snyder said he would prefer not to comment on the possibility at present.

Wright declined to comment on rumors that Kimberly-Clark has ordered a pure jet executive plane, but said he is sure that such aircraft will be operating out of this area within a few years. Kimberly-Clark now flies a turbo-prop aircraft.

The field designed by Fisher under the Outagamie County survey could be expanded to handle jet aircraft.

Kiwanis Club Pays Tribute To J. P. Mann

Six Speakers Tell Of Retiring School Head's Achievements

Appleton Kiwanis Club and several speakers paid tribute to retiring Supt. of Schools John P. Mann at a luncheon at the Conway Hotel Wednesday.

Mann, who turns over his office to Royce E. Kurtz today, has been a member of the club since he came to Appleton more than 16 years ago.

John G. Strange, Institute of Paper Chemistry president and former member of the Appleton Board of Education, said that during Mann's administration, Appleton schools have emphasized "the whole child" but "resisted the absurdities of togetherness."

Accumulated Bruises

State Supt. of Public Instruction George E. Watson recalled two times when he and Mann had applied for the same superintendencies. Mann got one job, Watson the other. The state superintendent said Mann, one of Wisconsin's outstanding educators, conceived, led, sold and accumulated the bruises on the biggest building program of any city of this size in the state. This was done at reasonable cost, he said.

Carl G. Bertram, Appleton Vocational and Adult School director, who was on the Appleton Chamber of Commerce board of directors in 1949 when Mann was president, pointed to chamber accomplishments during that term:

After disagreements over Appleton's antiquated zoning laws, a plan was developed for organizing the laws and extending zoning to three miles outside the city limits.

First Parking Lot

The chamber ended a long campaign for extension of W. College Avenue to U.S. 41.

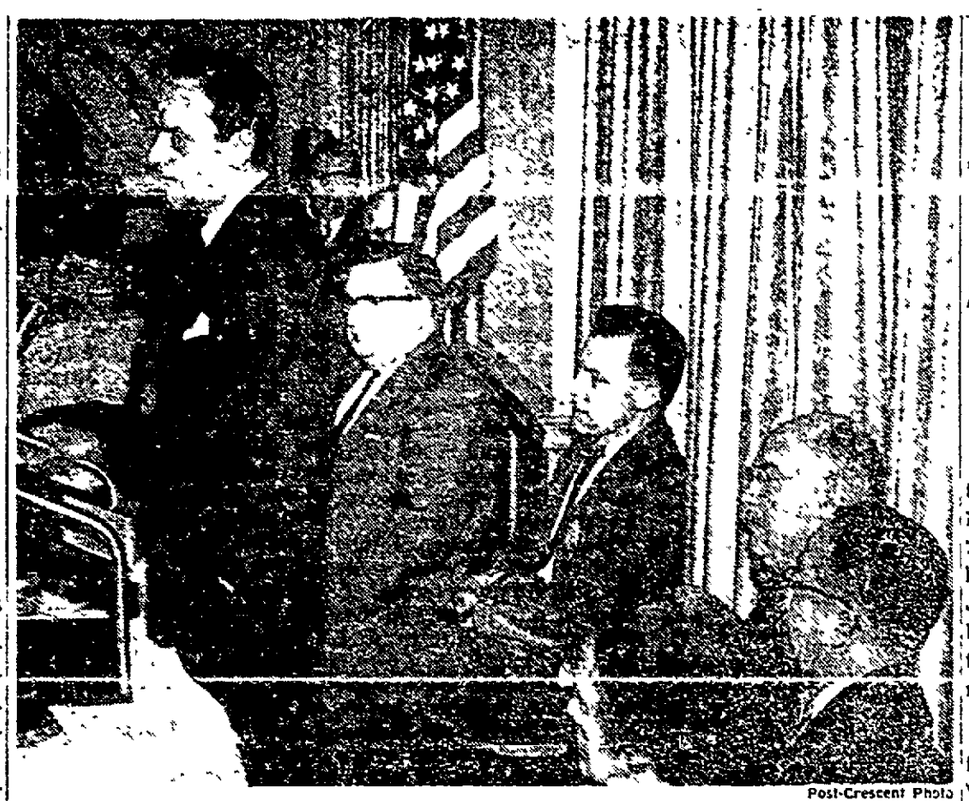

Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell predicted that Mann would not retire but would rehire as an active participant in civic affairs.

Gives Plaque

Gustave J. Keller, Kiwanian and former school board member, said Mann had worked for the Kiwanis objective, "We Build," both by building schools and by building children. He presented the retiring superintendent with a plaque of appreciation.

"I wish I knew this when my contract came up for renewal," Mann said as he accepted the plaque and thought back on times he had appeared before the school board with "fear and trepidation."

Mann introduced his wife as one who took the brunt of many pessimistic days after board meetings.

North Central Hits Record in Green Bay

34,333 Passengers Board Its Planes to Give Boost as Airline Passes Million Annual Fares

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — North Central Airlines boarded almost 35,000 passengers at Austin Straubel Field during 1960 to help the airline surpass the one million annual passenger mark for the first time in its history.

Traffic figures show that 34,333 passengers started flights here last year. The total reflects the steady growth which North Central has had here since it started service in October of 1948. The 1960 figure compares with 32,549 in 1959 and raises the total for enplaning passengers to 187,837 over a 12-year span.

Only Part

Pointing out that Green Bay is an important city on the North Central system as one of the airline's major transfer points, Hal N. Carr, president, said, "We've shown a strong growth pattern here in passenger traffic since beginning service in 1948 and we look for an even better record next year."

Although the number of passengers beginning flights is the best barometer of business, it is only partly indicative of the entire operation at Straubel Field. The number of passengers who terminate flights here is practically the same as those who enplane, thousands of others spend varying periods of time here as transfer passengers, and air mail, freight and express carried from and received here each year reach hundreds of thousands of pounds.

1948 — 292 (three months); 1949 — 1,725; 1950 — 2,551; 1951 — 4,490; 1952 — 5,378; 1953 — 9,890; 1954 — 13,863; 1955 — 19,258; 1956 — 20,113; 1957 — 24,540; 1958 — 28,745; 1959 — 32,549, and 1960—34,333.

Fourth In U.S.

Green Bay ranked fourth in the nation last year in enplaned passengers among cities served exclusively by local airlines and for some time has ranked fourth on the North Central system behind Milwaukee, Minneapolis and Chicago.

Continued growth of airline business here was attributed by Carr to early support of scheduled airline service by a handful of pioneers and by the Brown County board in providing adequate airport facilities. He cited in particular George Rocheleau, chairman of the board's airport committee during construction and major developments of the field; the late Joseph Horner of the Green Bay Press-Gazette, and Herbert Foth, airport engineering consultant.

Carr pointed out that the 28 daily flights here adds up to more service per capita "than is enjoyed by the traffic giants of Chicago, New York, Los Angeles or Washington." Carr contrasted expansions in air service here with a decline in other forms of transportation during the 12-year span from 1948-60.

34 Each Day

In the first year of scheduled flights, North Central had three a day, while 27 daily trains and 48 bus departures served the city. The number of trains now stands at 17 and bus departures at 30. During peak summer periods, the airline has had as high as 34 flights a day here.

Certificated to serve 90 cities and one Canadian province, the airline is looking ahead to jet-prop conversion of its Convair fleet in the next four or five years, Carr said. The airline has eight Convairs and 32 DC-3s, the largest such fleet in the local airline industry. Plans call for adding 44-passenger Convairs at the rate of five to seven a year, eventually replacing all DC-3s.

The airline, which traces its origin back to the mid-1940s in Clintonville, now has 2,100 employes, a $6 million annual payroll and revenues exceeding $20 millions annually.

North Central Traffic Rises At Outagamie

3,745 Passengers Board Planes in First Full Year

In its first full year of operation at Outagamie County airport, North Central Airlines boarded 3,745 passengers and 3,659 arrived here. Since air service started in July 1959, 5,172 passengers have boarded North Central planes at the airport, Herman Jolitz, station manager, reports.

Traffic Up

During December, the airline flew 90 flights out of the air- with none cancelled due to weather conditions. There were 348 passengers boarding airlines compared to 285 in December 1959, and 273 arriving compared to 247 a year ago.

Traffic in other categories continues to rise compared to the year before, Jolitz pointed out. Departing air mail totaled 1,416 pounds last month compared to 1,260, air express 1,105 pounds compared to 708 pounds and air freight 2,515 pounds compared to 1,168 pounds.

Arriving air mail totaled 1,609 pounds last month compared to 1,215 pounds a year ago, air express 1,677 pounds compared to 1,553 pounds and air freight 3,153 pounds compared to 2,783 pounds.

Totals for 1960 are 8,469 pounds of air mail, 11,442 pounds of air express and 17,930 pounds of air freight.

Communicable Disease Must be Reported

All cases of measles, scarlet fever and other communicable diseases must be reported to city health departments before children who have had the disease are allowed to return to school, the health department said today.

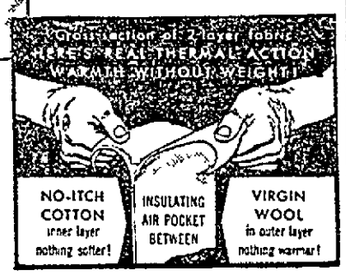

Mrs. Margaret Johnson, deputy registrar of the Appleton health department, said measles and chicken pox are still on the increase here.

Mental Hygiene Agency Backed

City Board of Health Asks for State Department

A request to Gov. Gaylord Nelson for a separate state department of mental hygiene was approved Wednesday by the Appleton Board of Health.

The resolution was presented by Dr. Marvin Kagen, city health commissioner, who said he favors a mental hygiene department to control mental hospitals, child guidance and psychiatric work.

Separating the department from the welfare department would induce better cooperation with doctors and would remove the stigma of welfare from mental health operations, he said.

Mobile Unit

In discussion, one of the board members referred to the murder of a young bride near Menominee, Mich., and commented on the number of crimes committed by parolees. He said he felt trained staff of a separate mental hygiene department might prevent crimes by repeat violators.

Dr. Kagen also sent a private letter to the governor after studying the new mental hygiene department in Illinois.

Mrs. Mildred C. Jensen, city nurse, suggested the board try to obtain a combination mobile unit that would provide chest X-rays, a blood pressure test and a urine test for diabetes. The proposal will be discussed further at a future meeting.

Diet Products

Dr. Kagen presented a program on dairy diet products and outlined pitfalls of the 900 calorie-daily diets.

Kagen said the diets could be dangerous on a long-term basis and are not a substitute for meals. No added vitamins should be taken while on such a diet because the food products contain vitamins and there could be an overdosage, he warned.

Crash ditets should be avoided, he said, and physicians should be consulted for a diet program or if a person on a dairy product diet gets symptoms of bowel trouble.

He added that any diet is successful only if the person stays on it, and about 90 per cent of the people who lose weight will regain it.

Mrs. Jensen reported on the homemaker service that places women in homes to care for the aged or for children. About eight women are participating in the program and it is considered a success.

The board decided not to recommend legislation controlling the sale of food or dogs at the "pig fair," because the salesmen comply with state food laws and a dog ordinance would be almost impossible to enforce.

Institute Takes Title To Old Appleton Home

A stately old home with a history almost as long as Appleton's has become the property of the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

Title to the former Lewis Alsted home at 735 E. South St. has been transferred to the institute by Mrs. John G. Strange, 1703 Reid Drive. Institute officials said today that plans for use of the 3-story home and its 3.75 acres have not been developed.

The Victorian brick home was built in 1868 or 1869 by David Smith, one of Appleton's earliest bankers. Situated in the original Lawesburg plat, the cupola and wide verandahs of the Smith residence overlooked, from the back, the tree-covered slope to the river, the busy industrial scene on West's Island and the rising wooded shore of the south side of the city, and in the front, the trim and spacious lawns of other homes in the growing city with the square-built cupola of Lawrence College's Main Hall visible through the trees.

Lewis L. Alsted, father of Mrs. Strange, purchased the property from the Smith family in February 1921. President of the Combined Locks Paper Co. from 1916 until his death in 1938, Mr. Alsted had left his Milwaukee law firm to take over the management of the paper mill downriver. His wife's father, John Van Nortwick, and other members of the Van Nortwick family, originally from Batavia, Ill., started the paper making firm in 1889 when the first pulp mill was built and placed in operation at Combined Locks.

The Alsted family didn't move into the then 53-year - old house until the fall of 1921, seven months after the purchase. Extensive remodeling had to be done to make the spacious home modern. Not only was plumbing installed, but the gas jets were replaced with electricity. The high cupola and the many porches were taken down, a sun porch was added and what formerly was a woodshed became a part of the home as a playroom.

The home has five fireplaces, three on the first floor and two on the second. The living area includes a kitchen, pantry, dining room, sunperch, living room, library and playroom. Six bedrooms are on the second floor and the third floor was made into a sleeping area with its own bath.

During its 92-year history, the brick house always has been a residential landmark as it stood on its unique pie-shaped grounds at the south end of Meade Street. For many years the grounds were known as a garden showplace with expansive tulip beds and other flowers grown under the hand of the late Mrs. Alsted.

Some Profit Selling During Active Trade On New York Market

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .70 at 223.30 with the industrials up .60, rails up .60 and utilities up .40.

Gains of fractions to about a point predominated in the list of key stocks. A scattering of issues eased as profits were taken on yesterday's large advance.

The rise was having difficulty extending itself. The major steels were still moving forward although at a far lesser rate than yesterday. Autos, after an initial rise, turned mixed.

The balance was to the upside among rails, nonferrous metals, airlines, chemicals and utilities. Oils and tobaccos turned irregular.

Brokers cited the same reasons as they did yesterday for the rally: anticipation of an eventual economic upturn led by the steel industry and expectations of increased defense spending, underlined by the present international difficulties.

STATE OF WISCONSIN, OUTAGAMIE COUNTY COURT—IN PROBATE.

A petition having been filed, representing that Julia Rupple, late of the Town of Greenville, Outagamie County, Wisconsin, died intestate, and praying that Letters of Administration be granted, and for determination and adjudication of heirship.

IT IS ORDERED:

That said petition be heard, at a term of Court at the Court House in the City of Appleton, County of Outagamie, State of Wisconsin, commencing on the 17th day of January, 1961, at the opening of Court on that day or as soon thereafter as said petition can be heard.

That the time within which creditors of the deceased shall present claims against such estate for examination and allowance is hereby fixed and limited up to and including the 23rd day of March, 1961.

That all claims against the deceased be examined and adjusted by the Court on the 28th day of March, 1961, at the opening of Court on that day, or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard.

That notice thereof be given by publication of this Order for three consecutive weeks, once in each week, in the Appleton Post-Crescent, the first publication to be within fifteen days from the date hereof; and by mailing a copy of this Order to every interested person whose post office address is known or can with reasonable diligence be ascertained, at least twenty days before the hearing or proceeding.

Dated December 21, 1960.

By the Court.
